GAS BOOKS ARE DANGEROUS

Not many would steal your limousine
But guard your full gas tank
They'll take every drop of your gasoline
If they have money in the bank.
I've studied your case with deep concern
What hurts you I will feel it
So every gas book you had better burn
If no gasoline they can't steal it.

If you have a gasoline ration book
You are in danger of your life
To get your gas some heartless crook
Will cut your throat with a knife.
Not many would try to steal your money
Even if there were no law
But to take a joy ride with their honey
They'll cut your throat with a saw.

Holiday Greetings

Soon it will be time for most of us to again send "holiday greetings" to old and new friends.

Have you thought what an aid it would be to postal authorities if the zone number of the addressee is ascertained so that it could be included on those addresses?

The postal service has lost thousands of men to the armed forces—including a lot of letter sorters. It takes up to four years to train an accurate letter sorter to recognize the district where every address belongs. The new postal unit delivery numbers take the place of the four years required to train these men.

These unit numbers save the new sorter the time of finding the number and thereby aids the delivery of your mail without delay.

So, to help the Post Office at a critical time, why not endeavor to learn your own and your friends' zone numbers, before it's time to send those holiday greetings?

Melvin expressed his thanks to the local contributors and the following committee members who worked under him in the campaign: Herbert Deems, Curt Roberts, M. W. Seiller, Ed Planck, Jos. Briggs, Henry Mone, Herb Davis, Charlie Kent and Ray Coffman.

West Loses To Arlington; Meets South High Today

By Joe Case

La t Friday the all important question of which league in the city seemed to be superior was proven in two crucial contests between West and Arlington; and East and Bexley. Both Central Buckeye leaders took care of their opponents by considerable score with the Golden Bears scuttling the cowboys 33-0 while the Bexley Lions edged the Tigers 12-6.

Behind the hard line plunging of Fred Morrison and beautiful passing of Don Steward the Bears stopped the Cowboys in style with Lovett adding the finishing touches with his shifty ball-toting.

The Cowboys were first to threaten when the complete backfield drove to the 6 yard line but failed on their fourth down to make this so vital gain.

Again the Buckaroos drove to the 17 but were blockaded and then Arlington drove down the field aided by the 15 yard penalty called on Ison for interference and the ball rested on the five. On third down "Curly" Morrison plunged over for his first tally and the kick was wide.

A tricky reverse-pass gave the Bears their next score from the 25 and the point clicked with the score reading 13-0 as the half ended.

Driving 62 yards they drove from the two adding seven more to the 13 already registered.

The score stayed the same until late in the 4th stanza when the same reversed pass netted two touchdowns to end up the scoring at 33-0. Lacking the punch the Bucks usually possess, they were unable to stop the so powerful team of the C. B. league and bowed stubbornly to their fifth defeat.

This afternoon the Cowboys will tangle with the South High Bulldogs on Magly Field when West's annual Homecoming game will be played. South High's eleven has been rated as fair in city playing. The game will begin at 3:15 p. m. following Homecoming festivities.

Cause of the death will be investigated by Dr. Edward E. Smith, coroner.

Her family stated that Mrs. Kraus had been in apparently good health recently but she had been under strain for the last three months nursing her husband, who died Saturday.

Mrs. Kraus had been a resident of Columbus for 40 years. She is survived by two sons, Karl J. and John S., and a granddaughter.

Double services for the couple had not been completed at time of publication but they will be held in Spears Funeral Parlors to be followed with interment in Green Lawn Cemetery.

Campaign Success; Choose Teams

Students at West High School are doing a fine job in securing subscriptions to the Record, especially gratifying is the great number of NEW subscriptions being received in addition to many renewals.

During the past year we have consistently tried to make the Record more interesting and a better paper than it has ever been before and this will be our goal in the future.

Solicitation has about been completed in the two first sections comprising Westgate and that part of N. Broad-st and during the coming week the students will concentrate on that section from Sullivant-av south to city limits and from Whitethorne-av, west to city limits—they will continue to make call backs where necessary on those who requested it in the territories previously worked. If however, you were missed for any reason or have a neighbor who wants the RECORD just call RA. 1125 and your request will be turned over to West High.

Two teams have been chosen by the Students, one red and the other blue. Competition is keen between these two groups, the losing team being required to serve and wait on the winners at a party to be given at the end of the drive.

On the Red team are, Ethel Estelle, Vi Forbus, Minnie Froganat, John Fry, Frances Erver, Janice Judy, Virginia Kilbury, Ione Koontz, Ida Morgan, Jim McClintock, Margie Orr, Richard Orr, Ora Parliment, Mary Peters, Joan Powers, Thomas Wilbert, Freda Williams, Kathryn Wisdom, and Phyllis McClain.

Another Local Resident Visits Holy Land

Pvt. Fred B. "Bud" Lively, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred R. Lively, 1943 Floral-av, has been stationed in Africa for a number of months. He wrote home last week and in the letter he mentioned taking a trip through the Holy Land and visiting at Haifa, Palestine. Reading his letter and the articles of Denver Hastings, which have appeared in the Record the past several weeks, his parents, presume their son took the same trip as Hastings. In the letter he described the train cars in which they rode much the same as did Hastings. He wrote the letter the day before returning to camp after his seven-day furlough in the Holy Land.

"I sure hate to start on that 14 hour train ride. The coaches are about like our third class cattle cars and ride worse," he wrote.

While in Haifa Pvt. Lively stayed at the Windsor Hotel.

"Everything here is rationed and one has to eat in three restaurants before he gets enough to eat. This is a very beautiful place and is a lot like the hills in southern Ohio. They have every nationality of the world here and it sure is surprising to see how many of them speak English. They all like our dancing and want to come to the states after the war."

After being stationed in the desert for such a long time, Pvt. Lively expressed his appreciation in seeing some green country for a change.

Pvt. Lively is a graduate of West High School and before entering the service was employed by the Pennsylvania Railroad.

West Side Under War Chest Quota

Mrs. Harold C. Kay, 91 Schultz-av, chairman of the West Side Women's Territorial Division of the War Chest drive that ended Monday, announced that this section of town fell nearly $800 short of their set quota of $5030. This failure, Mrs. Kay explained, is attributed chiefly to the fact that last year's donors are now in the service and others are busy in war work where they made the contributions.

The drive ended with a dinner at the Southern Hotel Monday evening. Attending were Mrs. A. V. Hedges, 78 Derrer-rd; Mrs. Ernest Jahn, 389 S. Central-av; Mrs. Chloe Anderson, 130 Schultz-av, and Mrs. Kay.

Hilltop Brothers Meet In Land Down Under After Being Separated 2 Years

By Jean Young

Two years is a long time to be away from home. So long that one might even forget what his brother looks like. That is the case of Pvt. Jack Lutz, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Lutz, 70 S. Terrace-av, who has been overseas with the paratroops since Aug. 30, 1941. Mrs. Lutz learned of the strange meeting in letters from each of the boys.

Jack explained it in a letter recently as follows:

"You asked me about Earl (his brother who is serving with the seabees and whom he met in Australia). Well it so happened that he moved up close to where we were camped and one day I walked into the Red Cross and all of the boys told me someone had been looking for me. I didn't think anything of that, I figured it was one of my friends Then three sailors came in and asked the boy standing next to me if he knew me. Well one of those sailors was Earl. I didn't even know him. If I would have met him on the street I surely would have passed him by. I spent three nights with him. After that the fickle finger of fate came along and I haven't seen Earl since, but perhaps we will meet again some day as one never knows."

Earl described the meeting as follows:

"I have visited Cairns and there had the supreme pleasure of meeting Jack. We had several nights to spend with each other and about the only thing there was to do was talk. Having been out of the U. S. two years he is due for a furlough but if you have been reading the papers you will know he has a little job to do first. (With the Japs.)"

In the same letter Earl told a little about his experiences since leaving the states.

"Since leaving the U. S. I have seen a lot of ocean and its size is the most under estimated feature about it. You could read stories of its color, its islands, its sunsets, and unexaggerated beauty, but you can never realize its true volume.

"I visited Brisbane. I have sailed on four different ships and three different seas since leaving the U. S. The most interesting thing to me in Brisbane was the simplicity of the life. Imagine an enormous city with no large art galleries, universities, hospi-

New Deadline

Effective next week a new deadline for acceptance of news copy for the Hilltop Record will go into effect.

All church notices must be in the office not later than 9 a. m. Tuesday. All other news copy will be taken through 5 p. m., Tuesday.

Because of the shortage of help no news notes will be accepted over the phone.

In the past two years five members of the Record mechanical force and one from the office have taken up new duties in the Army and Navy. The present day demands for trained help make it impossible to replace these men and thus make curtailments in shop operations necessary. The hearty cooperation of the public will be greatly appreciated.

Protect Extinguishers Against Cold Weather

Fire Chief Clarence Ogborn today advised owners of fire extinguishers to provide cold weather protection for all types subject to freezing, otherwise, he said, these extinguishers may become damaged and fail to operate in an emergency.

The Chief explained that the Carbon tetra Chloride and the Carbon Dioxide types are not subject to freezing and need not be protected against cold weather. But the soda-acid and foam extinguishers—those with the ring top handles—contain water and may either freeze or get out of order if left where the temperature falls below 40 degrees.

Kindergarten Pupils Save Pennies For Red Cross Fund

Mellie Moore Arnburst's kindergarten has the distinction of being the only pre-school in Columbus that carries on a continous contribution for the Red Cross.

Children are taught that they must deprive themselves of candy and knick-knacks and save their pennies for the wounded soldiers as their small way of helping in the war. They are not to secure them from their parents. If they aren't willing to sacrifice, they are asked not to bring their pennies.

Each morning a ceremony is held for dropping the pennies in the Red Cross bank. The ceremony consists of singing a song, a prayer and the dropping of the pennies in the bank. Many children bring their banks and empty them. The last check sent to the Red Cross amounted to $8.26, for a period of a month and a half.

The school is located at 337 Eldon-av.

PITCH IN---HELP WIN!

Meet the Curtiss Helldiver, then make up your mind to help build these deadly dive bombers for the U. S. Navy. No work could be more essential . . . in no way can you make a more personal and direct contribution to shortening the war.

The Navy Needs More Helldivers

Dive bombing is a big factor in blasting our enemies off the map. The sooner we can get more of these complex bombers into the hands of our Navy flyers, the sooner the other side will be only too glad to cry "quits."

Curtiss-Wright Needs More Workers

We need additional men and women not now working, or not now engaged in essential work. No mechanical experience is necessary. We teach you in a few weeks at our Training Center, 309 S. Fourth St., and pay you while learning.

Magly Field -- Today -- Nov. 12
2:30 p. m.

Greetings from the West High Alumni Association

West High Alumni Association again takes this means of welcoming back the old grads and extending our best wishes to the team and to the coaches. We feel the ones in charge have done a fine job this year, in giving us this team, who even in defeat are showing the "old West High spirit."

We hope all our former graduates will want to be members of our organization and that we can look forward to a big turnout tonight in the gym. A big time is in store for all who attend.

WRITE A LETTER!

When you are writing those service letters don't forget there are a number of the home town girls serving their country as well as the men. They can't go to the front but they are away from home for the same cause and miss the familiar surroundings as much.

The letters we write to the men overseas don't always get through so don't stop at one. Write a couple or more. Be sure that they will get one. Don't wait until you get a reply from your first letter. Write several—they'll appreciate it!

A service man or woman didn't get a letter today—is that your fault?

"THE OLD FOLKS AT HOME"

Sadly he told what they had to endure
On the battle field far away.
In the fray over there none were secure
Never safe by night or by day.
His comrades falling close by his side
Crippled for life or dead,
How they forged ahead like the ocean tide
Bombing planes everywhere overhead.

Then a man said, hair thinning and gray,
We prayed for you over the foam,
We know it is true every word you say
We are glad to see you home.
And brave soldier boy forever remember
Those loyal from shore to shore
The millions close to their last December
Who are helping to win this war.

Fillin' In

By Eileen Griggs

HOPE

I dry the tear; I still the throbbing heart;
I whisper peace when loving friends depart,
I travel where the hardy seamen roam,
And dwell within the confines of their home.
I go with warriors to the battle-field,
Fighting with both sides until one doth yield.
I ease the couch whereon the dying lie;
And where the word of truth is, there am I.
The tide of stern adversity may roll—
I still its waves and calm the troubled soul.
I am not light nor heat, but I can give
Great light and warmth, and bid the dying live—
I'm born of sorrow, and am the sweetest child
That ever on my weeping mother smiled,
And wouldn't know a place where I might be,
Look at the single branch upon the stricken tree.

Leaves Again

The leaves are dying on the walks or have been swept into the gutters where, since our recent rains, they have stopped up numerous sewers. Where this has occurred, the streets are still covered with stagnant pools of water—this, you know is quite unsanitary and disease-carrying.

We should attempt to clean these leaves up at once—for soon we will have ice and snow, and they will then be an additional hazard to automobiles.

Cowboys Defeat South

by Joe Case

Without the services of star halfback Bob Monteney the helpless South Bulldogs fell by the wayside to the superior West High Cowboys, to end their current season, last Friday afternoon on the local soil by the score of 44-7. In every period the Buckaroos were able to hit pay dirt with Blackwell and Gilmore both making good on 2 tallys.

In the first period on a tricky end around Jack Bates raced over from the 21 to draw first blood. A fumble on the West 30 set up the next score with Blackwell going over from the 2. Ison failed to make good either of his extra try for points. Then again showing their overpowering strength they drove to the 20 where shifty Blackwell skirted on the old statue of liberty to catch them flatfooted and register his second tally. Ison converted to make the score 19-0. Coach Dale Rose gave his reserves a try and South rolled from the 24 to gain their only tally after Anderson had dropped their punt on the 50. A long pass put the ball over. The kick was perfect.

South kicked off to the West 20 and Gene Shade, senior fullback, raced the remaining distance without being touched, for the most beautiful run of the day. The kick failed and the score was 25-7 at the half.

An intercepted pass by Slager set up West's next score with Gilmore punching over from the 3. Ison converted.

Completely outcharging their inexperienced line the Cowboys tallied again after a drive from mid-field with Gilmore again going over. The kick was no good.

Blackwell raced back a Bulldogs punt 34 yards to South 45 and power play drove to the 20 where Allen took a pass in the end zone for the final tally. Final score 44-7.

A gay homecoming ceremony with queen Joan Friebis and court being honored in true Cowboy style. This win ended the '43 season and put the Cowboys in third place in the city league behind North and East who were both victors over West.

Mother of Nine Writes Poetry

By Esther Weakley

When medals are awarded to mothers for bravery, the first one should go to Mrs. Ethel Titus Worthen, 2567 W. Broad-st. She is one of the finest and bravest mothers I have ever known. Her husband died when their nine children were small but she has managed to keep their home intact, with the aid of the older children.

I have known Mrs. Worthen for many years and have never heard her complain, even when the going was so tough that lots of us would have given up in despair. She is always glad to take on anyone's troubles and ready with a word of encouragement, no matter how many troubles she is having of her own. This is not just a trite statement—it is the truth, as all her friends know.

Mrs. Worthen has been writing verse for 18 years and more than 200 of her poems have appeared in local newspapers, verse magazines and anthologies. In 1935 she published a brochure of her poems, titled "Round The Fireside Poems." She has also written the lyrics for two songs which have been used many times on the radio and other programs. She has never been too busy to see loveliness in the commonplace, and her love of beauty has been an inspiration for many of her poems.

She says her biggest job now

Tech. McKinney Returns Home From N. Africa

by Jean Young

"The Arabs can have it. I'll take the U.S.A."

Bluntly that is T-5 Thomas McKinney's opinion of Africa from where he has just returned to this country. He is enroute west to his home in Kansas. He stopped here to visit with his sister, Mrs. J. P. Kelly, 1789 Sullivant-av, and will leave this evening for the west.

"I want to be home for Thanksgiving," was his reason for an early departure.

"The sand storms in Africa are worse than our snow storms. You can't see 100 yards ahead of you. We were issued dust respirators that fit over our noses and goggles for our eyes but even these didn't prevent the dust and sand from slipping through. The sand blows around continually," he said.

"I didn't have to stay on the desert fortunately. I spent a good deal of time in Casablanca and Algiers. I landed at Casablanca shortly after the invasion.

"In Algiers you find mostly dirt and mountains," he commented, "They have their houses built one on top of the other. They are like apartments.

"The section of town called the "Arabs quarters" was always out of bounds for service men. Arabs are thieves and if a person goes into their quarters nine chances out of ten they don't come back out because if they see something they want they don't care how they get it.

"Casablanca terrain is more level than that around Algiers. The land is rolling through. The mountains in Africa for the most part come clear out to the coast."

"I saw all kinds of fruit you could possibly think of while I was there but the only one that never showed up was an apple. That country is famed for its grape vinyards, olives and citrus fruits. Their fruit fields were beautiful to look on from a heighth because the rows are perfectly straight," he told us.

While with the army overseas McKinney was in the department where the air-mail letters are sent back to the states. When asked why the boys write home so often telling us they don't get our mail McKinney, replied:

"They are always on the move and their APO numbers are forever changing. In eight months I had three different APO numbers. The men are asked to leave their forwarding address with the post office at the base they are leaving. They are given special blank cards for this purpose."

McKinney landed in New York eight months to the day that he sailed away and came home on the same ship on which he sailed away. Since he is over 38 years old he has been placed on the Army Reserve list and will report to his draft board in Kansas for reclassification.

Hedrick Describes Highlanders

Mrs. Isa L. Hedrick, 184 Lechner-av, brought several letters into the Record office this week that she received from her son, Vernon, who is serving overseas with the Marine Corps.

In one letter he wrote:

"Another day has gone by. This afternoon we heard the Highlander Coast Artillery Bag Pipe Band. They are New Zealanders. They wore black shoes, white leggins, blue plaited skirts and blue caps. They really beat the drums and the bag pipes so loud you could hear it all over the camp grounds."

Hedrick wrote of attending a church in the Pacific area where he is stationed.

"Yesterday I went to a Methodist Church service on the Island. The preacher spoke in the native tongue and they all sang their native songs. It is a Mission Methodist Church."

Regarding several of his experiences over there Hedrick has written the following letter to his mother.

"I bought bananas and several of us fellows went in a house and had coffee, sandwiches and cake. The natives will trade, barter, sell their goods for whatever you have to offer. The Australian soldiers were having a Rugby game in the afternoon. It was fun to watch them kicking at the ball and knocking themselves around the place. The natives get a kick out of seeing us as we do out of seeing them.

"My fox-hole is along side of my tent so it doesn't take long for me to jump in when we have an alarm.

"The precipitation is one inch per day and it rains 365 days out of the year! Things rot out in no time.

Hedrick attended West High Shool and has been overseas since June.

PIN-UP GIRL

(Victory Model)

Beauty is as beauty does and glamour can manifest itself in many ways.

To Uncle Sam's fliers, few sights could be as thrilling as a Helldiver dive bomber "pouring it on" our enemies, driving them back along the way that leads to Tokyo and Berlin.

These same fliers would be proud to pin up pictures of the women who are helping build these Helldivers at Curtiss-Wright. For they are doing a job that is most, vital and urgent, one that is destined to cut many days from the war and thus save the lives of thousands of our fighting men. Won't YOU join these women in this essential work?

THE HELLDIVER

"Fist of the Fleet"

These mighty Curtiss offensive weapons are now coming off the assembly lines in ever-growing numbers. The men and women at Curtiss-Wright who help build them can feel proud of the contribution they are making to the war effort.

Many of these Helldivers are needed to carry out the great offensive blows planned . . and Curtiss-Wright needs more people to build them. It's interesting, well-paid work, carried on in a modern factory amid pleasant surroundings.

In the past two years five members of the Record mechanical force and one from the office have taken up new duties in the Army and Navy. The present day demands for trained help make it impossible to replace these men and thus make curtailments in shop operations necessary. NOTICE

CONSERVATION OF VITAL MATERIALS NECESSARY

"The War Production Board has called for the institution of a program to effect savings on all home fronts by the Office of Defense Trasportation, the Petroleum Administration for War, the Solid Fuel Administration for War, and the Office of War Utilities.

"The Electric Light Companies have agreed to co-operate with this program, asking its customers to save on their use of electricity so as to conserve manpower, railroad transportation, fuel, and critical material such as copper, steel, tungston, coal, and gas.

"In the electric utility industry, the installed generating capacity, together with capacity now under construction, is ample to meet all foreseeable electric needs. But, it is essential to save the use of electricity wherever possible so as to reduce, directly or indirectly the demands for critical materials, fuel, transportation and manpower."

WRITE A LETTER!

Sunday night we had a sample of the many long snowy winter evenings to come before this season is over. This year most of these evenings will have to be spent at home. Already people are wondering what they will do with themselves.

It shouldn't be a problem. Your church, your place of business, your school and even your Hilltop Record can supply you with something that will be both entertaining and beneficial for you. They have names and addresses of service men and women to whom you can write when the nights grow long.

When a soldier is away from home mail call is more important than "chow." His ears are poised for that familiar and welcomed call that beckons him to receive his mail. It is your duty to see that when he gets to the mail bag there are letters from home in there.

As surely as fighting is his duty, writing is yours.

Write today!

I HAVE TWO SONS AT SEA

The cynic said so all could hear
Why don't he sit by the fire,
He's old, uncouth and looking queer
It is time for him to retire.
The man looked up and quietly replied
I don't want to sit by the fire
My employer seems to be well satisfied
And I have no desire to retire.

I haven't heard many people complain
They appear to be satisfied,
I am helping them in sunshine and rain
As much as I am qualified.
It's true I'm uncouth I belong to Navy Dads
I have two sons on the sea
Two young industrious and handsome lads
And I am helping to set them free.

GOD BLESS OUR BOYS

God bless our boys, our noble boys!
Our soldiers brave and true.
They have heard the nation's call
And have gone to dare and do.
O, give them courage to be strong!
Increase their faith in Thee,
That they may feel Thy presence near—
In air . . . on land . . . or sea.

Bless all our boys, our loyal boys!
Protect them day and night—
In homeland or across the seas,
They battle for the right.
Anxious hearts at home are waiting;
Praying that the war may cease—
God bless our boys, our noble boys,
And quickly bring us peace.

Thanksgiving

Moses said, "Thou shalt keep the feast of tabernacles seven days, after that thou hast gathered in from thy threshing-floor and from thy winepress; and thou shalt rejoice in thy feast, thou and thy son, and thy daughter, and thy manservant and thy maidservant, and the Levite, and the stranger, and the fatherless, and the widow, that are within thy gates. Seven days shalt thou feast unto the Lord thy God—because the Lord thy God shall bless thee in all thine increase, and in all the work of thine hands, and thou shalt be altogether rejoiceful." (Duteronomy XVI, 13).

Although Thanksgiving as we know it is an American institution, days of thanksgiving in recognition of special mercies or favors have been known since the earliest times, and have been common to almost all nations. We can never know what primitive people of a forgotten age first gave thanks in their crude way, for rain after drought, or for food after famine.

The Israelites appear to have been among the earliest people to observe a special day of thanksgiving. They observed faithfully their Feast of Tabernacles, a day of thanks not only for the bounties of the land, but for the escape from Egypt.

Ancient Greeks also had a day of thanksgiving known as the Feast of Demeter. This nine-day feast was in honor of Demeter, goddess of the cornfield and harvests, and was meant as a day of gratitude for the richness and bounties of the harvest. Sacrifices of fruit, wine, honey and milk were made. The Romans had a similar festival at harvest-time, called Cerelia.

In England it was customary to hold special days of fasting and prayer in times of peril, famine or pestilence. When the danger was past, and there was once again plenty of food, water and no ravaging diseases—feasts and celebrations would be given by the people. A special day of thanksgiving was proclaimed by Oliver Cromwell at the time of the defeat of the Spanish Armada.

Although there have been many days of thanksgiving and rejoicing, America was the first nation to set apart one day in each year for the sole purpose of rejoicing in the good things of life and "giving thanks."

The first Thanksgiving occurred in the fall of 1621.

Of the 101 white people who settled in Plymouth, in the first year, 46 of these died and were buried on the bluff overlooking the landing. In the fall of that year, the remaining men of Plymouth gathered in a plentiful crop from the 20 acres of corn and six acres of barley and peas they had planted. With the advent of cold weather, large quantities of game came unexpectedly adding to their food supply.

The governor of the colony, Governor Bradford, gave directions that a day of thanksgiving be held on Dec. 13, 1621, to give thanks for the great blessings that had been bestowed upon them. Invited to attend this Thanksgiving was the friendly Kink Massasoit and his 90 Indian braves. There were only 25 white men and women at this first Thanksgiving, which lasted three days.

Although Thanksgiving did not then become a regular yearly festival, our own Thanksgiving is a direct legacy of that historic feast with the Indians.

In celebration of the safe arrival of ships bringing food and friends across the ocean, a public Thanksgiving was held by the Bay Colony in Boston on Feb. 22, 1630.

From the year 1630 to 1680, there were about 20 Thanksgiving Days—one every two or three years.

It was not until after the Revolution, when Congress adopted the Constitution (1789) that Thanksgiving was definitely established as a yearly day of rejoicing and festivity. Just before the adjournment of Congress a motion was made that a day be recommended for universal thanksgiving. The motion was carried and President Washington appointed Nov. 26, as "National Thanksgiving Day."

For a while the holiday was observed faithfully. But somehow a break occured and one by one the states began to observe the day at different times. Just before the Civil War, each state had a different day on which to observe Thanksgiving, but all these days were in November.

A great defender and promulgator of Thanksgiving, a Mrs. Sarah Hale, editor of "Gody's Lady's Book," had for years been rousing interest in a Thanksgiving that should be a truly national holiday — equal in importance to the 4th of July. She made her self personally responsible in seeing that all the states should observe the day. She wrote to the governors, urging their support. She waged her campaign for many years and finally wrote to President Abraham Lincoln and sent him a copy of George Washington's proclamation in which he asked the people to observe a Thanksgiving day each Nov. 26.

Carrying out Washington's first intention—President Lincoln in 1862 appointed a national Thanksgiving Day—this day was the last Thursday in November. Today, Thanksgiving is a legal holiday in every state, territory and possession of the United States.

The custom since Lincoln's time, by tradition, has been for the President to proclaim the holiday for the District of Columbia and the Territories and Possessions of the United States, and for the Governors of the states to follow suit by proclaiming the holiday for their respective state.

In a proclamation delivered Aug. 15, 1939, President Roosevelt called upon the nation to observe Thanksgiving on the third Thursday in November. For several years it was observed thus. Last year found the states divided as to the third or the fourth Thursday.

In observing Thanksgiving next Thursday, our thoughts should return once more to the first Thanksgiving Day in America. It is strange to us now, living on this continent in the midst of all the omforts the Pilgrims lacked, that they who fought every hardship for existence, should have found something to be thankful for.

If they could be thankful for the bare necessities of life, we who yet have so much, have good cause to celebrate THANKSGIVING.

New Deadline

Effective next week a new deadline for acceptance of news copy for the Hilltop Record will go into effect.

All church notices must be in the office not later than 9 a. m. Tuesday. All other news copy will be taken through 5 p. m. Tuesday.

Because of the shortage of help no news notes will be accepted over the phone.

In the past two years five members of the Record mechanical force and one from the office have taken up new duties in the Army and Navy. The present day demands trained help make it impossible to replace these men and thus make curtailments in shop operations necessary. The hearty cooperation of the public will be greatly appreciated.

Sailor Vows Revenge For Pal's Death

"You bet I'm anxious to get back—I've got a debt to settle back there," ejaculated a hardened sailor in an interview this week.

The sailor was Benjamin Lashley, motor machinist's mate third class who has been in five major engagements aboard a battleship in the Southwest Pacific. He enlisted in the service while he was still in his junior year at West High School.

The debt, he explained is in retaliation for the life of a buddy that was lost when Jap planes bombed a ship he was on. In the same attack Lashley was thrown 15 feet from the main deck of his vessel. It was at this time, too that he received the injuries that left his eyes in a weakened condition which is responsible for his leave at home.

During this battle, for which he received a star, Lashley said he could see the Jap pilots "shaking their fists at us." He manned an anti-aircraft gun during the assault and downed "probably four planes."

Lashley enlisted in the service in April, 1941. While attending West he lived at 531 Catherine-st. He is visiting with his sister, Miss Betty Jean Lashley, 83 Aldrich-rd, this week and from here will go to South Windham, Me., to see his mother.

Deadline Nov. 30 On Xmas Mail

Deadline for Christmas mail in the United States has been set for Nov. 30 but the Post Office Department has pointed out that mail should be mailed now and not on that date. Cooperation with this request is necessary in order that the worst part of Christmas rush can be avoided.

These orders came as a result of the overburdened transportation with war material and personnel.

Some parcels mailed now will undoubtedly be delivered rather early, and may be marked "Do Not Open Until Christmas." Parcels mailed later will possibly not be delivered until after Christmas.

About 75 trucks will be hired for the delivery of parcels in the city, during the Christmas period. Any one desiring to quote an hourly rate for the use of his truck, should call at Room 101, New Post Office building.

Fire Department Will Give Minstrel In December

Columbus Fire Department will give a minstrel show in the Hartman Theater on Dec. 16, 17, 18 and 19 with matinees on Dec. 18 and 19. The show will be given to aid the Firemen's Benevolent Association which provides firemen with sick, injured and death benefits.

This is the first show of its kind the firemen have staged since 1926. Other minstrels were given in 1921 and 1924.

The last time the association sponsored any production to aid its fund was in 1936 when the U. S. Marine Band was brought to this city.

Thanksgiving

The world is full of many splendid things:
The gold of autumn and its treasure heap,
Seed time and harvest and the hope that comes
With each new day, and memories we keep.

So if this year's not all that I would ask,
Yet I am thankful for the blessings near at hand;
I'm grateful for the faith of all mankind,
And for the flag above a gallant land.

So I reach forth ad grasp the simple things:
A garden and a cool, refreshing breeze,
The halo of a silver moon and stars,
And lift a thankful heart for such as these.

School Children Aid In Scrap Drive

School children throughout the city and in the suburban communities will be enlisted in the Victory scrap metal campaign, Nov. 29 through Dec. 11 to establish a scrap metal "bank" in Franklin county, according to Maurice F. Benfer, whose appointment as general chairman was made last week by Preston Davis, American Education Press Inc., general salvage chairman for Franklin county.

N. J. Barack of the sales tax division of the State of Ohio has been named by Benfer as city chairman and cooperating with him in organizing the school children to do this job are George E. Roudebush, City superintendent of schools, and Monsignor John J. Murphy, superintendent of parochial schools.

R. S. Reinhart, general manager of the Warner P. Simpson Co., has been named rural chairman and is working through the principals and superintendents of the various schools in the county.

Purpose of the "banks", according to Mr. Barack, is to provide a supply of scrap metal so that the government may "draw" upon them to provide steel mills with the necessary material for production of vital war weapons is it is needed. "The public should regard these "banks" as a source of "metallurgical blood plasma," Barack said. "They will guarantee a continuing flow of war armaments, and will provide "insurance" against a possible shortage of scrap metal. It is estimated that consuming steel mills and suppliers now have on hand only enough for two months and fear of losses from coal strikes and other shortages has prompted the War Production board's request for these banks to be established immediately."

"Make Uncle Sam Scrap Happy" is the slogan which the Franklin county scrap metal committee is offering the school children for the drive. Pamphlets, carrying this slogan, and describ-

Plastic Ration Tokens Planned

New plastic tokens, to be put into use early in 1944 to make the purchasing and selling of rationed foods more convenient for the consumer and merchants, will be blue and red, slightly larger than a nickel and will be inscribed to designate the foods for which they are good. They will be used as change for processed foods and meat-fat stamps.

The tokens will be one-third of an inch thick, so that they cannot be used in a coin operated machines. The blue tokens will bear raised lettering, "Office of Price Administration, Processed Foods." The red ones will be lettered, "Office of Price Administration, Meats, Fats, Fish, and Cheese." The edges will be flat with no milling. They will be made of plastic or glass.

By use of the token system, it is expected that non-essential buying to make use of ration points just before they become invalid will be curtailed and that they will contribute to the smoother operation of rationing.

Rationing Reminders Offered From OPA

C-Bookholders must have their tires inspected every three months. The next deadline is Nov. 30.

Cornwell Points Out Need For Local Service Center

"Someone, somewhere is contributing time and money to make it possible for our boys and girls in the services to enjoy their leisure time. We who remain at home on the Hilltop should do as much for those in the service that have occasion to be with us even though their stay is long or short," said David R. Cornwell this week in pointing out the need for a service Center for the Hilltop.

Movement for such a center in the community has been started by the Navy Dads Inc., and will be based on cooperation of various organized groups in the community and supported by the people who have sons or daughters in the service.

"In order that this project will be successful it must be a community affair and no one group should be expected to handle it alone" according to a statement made by Cornwell, who is a representative of the Navy Dads Inc.

He said, "Any organized group may be represented on a board to formulate and carry out the operation of the service club but it will necessarily require contributions from the people of the community to carry it on to a successful conclusion."

Cornwell said "A plan has been devised whereby the project can be realized if an amount of one cent a day for each member in the service from each family on the Hilltop. In this manner the club could be opened soon after Dec. 1."

All workers in the Service Center will be volunteers as no salaries will be paid and no organizations will profit from it in any financial way. People in the service visiting the club will not be charged for anything while there. Civilians visiting the club will be required to pay for what they get and profits from such occasional sales will be applied to the general operating fund, Cornwell pointed out.

Contributions may be made to Cornwell or by mail to Navy Dads Inc., P. O. Box 843, Hilltop Station, Columbus, 4, Ohio, or can be left at the Hilltop Record office, he said.

"Funds collected will be deposited in a special account at a local bank and will not be used until planned Service Center is started," Cornwell said.

"Funds so collected if not used for this purpose will be returned upon request or the money will be donated to a fund for use in building a permanent Hilltop Memorial," he added.

Arthur J. Bellar, 326 Algonquin-av, has been selected by Camp Chase Post No. 98 of the American Legion to act as representative of the group in aiding in formulating plans for the Hilltop Service Center.

"In my opinion this will prove to be a very useful and good idea if carried out as planned, because we cannot do too much for our boys who are doing their bit for us," he explained.

HAWAIIANS Say Mele Kalekimaka At Christmas

In a month from now our boys who are now stationed in the Territory of Hawaii will hear the greeting, "Mele Kalikimaka." That is "Merry Christmas," in Hawaiian.

This information reached us via a Christmas card-letter that S 2/c Robert Smith, sent to his mother Mrs. Lenora Smith, 45 N. Warren-av, this week.

"Rumor has it that Santa Claus got himself hung up on some of our barbed-wire defenses. It could be, too, because we surely have plenty of it around the island. But we're not worrying Santa will reach Hawaii by Christmas Day. He's never failed yet! He may have to discard those red flannels of his and appear in one of those swishy grass skirts loaned by a dusky hula maiden—but he will—and whatever his costume he'll get a real Hawaiian welcome. And that means leis, music and hulas and much aloha," the booklet stated.

The card went on to state that "Nature outdoes herself in decorating the islands for the holidays. Thousands of poinsettias of the brightest red bloom everywhere. They will grow ten or 12 feet high."

Everybody will receive a greting of "Komo mai nou ka hale!" with a wreath of Christmasy greens bedecked with clusters of berries.

The card is signed "Alhoa nui loa, Bob."

ADD OR SUBTRACT accessories to multiply the costumes hidden in a basic tailored suit. For casual or sportswear pick up either of the colors in a striped tweed, as CBS singer Anita ("Jack Carson Show") Ellis does with sweater and matching calot. Or choose a third color for hat and blouse to give an effect as pleasing as a harmonious musical chord. There's deft tailoring strategy in the slenderizing stripes, wide lapels and low closing.

WARTIME HOMEMAKER

WORK OUT A CLEANING SCHEDULE

By Edwina Nolan
General Electric Consumers Institute

There are just twenty-four hours a day—no matter how hard we try to stretch them. All of us have taken on more activity which leaves little or no time for some things we used to do leisurely.

Housecleaning may well be one of them. And if you find home tasks neglected because of wartime activity or a full time war job, work out a cleaning schedule.

It's advisable, if you're pressed for time, to do your housecleaning piecemeal style—not in one fell swoop. Piecemeal, it isn't as much of a chore; it doesn't tie you up when you do have an opportunity for real relaxation. Clean the bath fixtures one day, dust floors another day, scrub floors the next day, dust furniture still another, and so on through the week. None of these tasks take too long, and your cleaning won't pile up on you until the very thought of it sends shivvers down your spine.

Enlist the family's cooperation, particularly where there are children. They can be entrusted with certain household tasks that will be helpful to you both. Bed-making, for instance, for young Mary will relieve you of this task for other duties while it teaches her the elementary arts of her role as a future homemaker. If the family is too young to help with things such as bed-making, delegate to them such tasks as picking up their playthings, keeping their shoes and other belongings in proper places, sweeping porches and sidewalks.

We'd like to take you on a trip this Christmas

We'd like to take you on a tour through our Arrow department. We think you'll enjoy seeing our Arrows as much as your menfolks would enjoy getting them. (Or almost!)

Here, for instance, you see the famous Arrow Shirt. Attached to it, the renowned Arrow Collar, popular with men for more than 80 years! Notice the shirt fabric . . . sturdy and durable. See the Sanforized label. It's your guarantee of less than 1% shrinkage. $2.24 up.

And over here, the Arrow Tie. Men like them because the patterns are so fresh and good-looking. The special lining helps make perfect knots. $1 & $1.50.

Step this way to view the most comfortable shorts ever made! Arrows! Designed without a center seam, Arrow Shorts just can't bind or chafe! Sanforized, too. 75c up.

Don't pass by the handsome Arrow Handkerchief. See how large it is . . . how perfectly it goes with Arrow Shirts and Ties. In white or colors, 35c up.

And over this way, the whole business . . . an Arrow ensemble of shirts, ties, shorts and handkerchiefs. An ideal Christmas gift!

*A TIP! Look in the collar of one of his old shirts for his correct size and sleeve length!

HOW TO MAKE UNCLE SAM SCRAPHAPPY

TURN IN YOUR SCRAP

The biggest Metal Salvage Drive in Franklin County's history starts Nov. 29! Uncle Sam must have every pound of scrap metal to keep pounding our enemies until they surrender.

The school children in your neighborhood will soon call on you and ask for scrap metal. They are the official little "scrappers" in this campaign. Co-operate by having your scrap metal ready when they call. Search your attic, cellar, garage, shed, yard, field or farm for scrap metal to be made into bullets, shells, bombs tanks and other war materials.

Dig up the scrap metal and let's pile it into mighty mountains. Make Uncle Sam scrap-happy!

"SCHOOL POP CORN"

Every day they come in my station
A sad tear in each eye,
Would I kindly assist the Nation
School pop corn please buy.
I produce a coin and buy one roll
They say, won't you please buy two,
They are experts at collecting toll
Wild beasts they could subdue.

I say I can't eat so much pop corn
And they smile just like a Jew
Please Mister don't worry and mourn
We will help you to eat a few.
So I buy pop corn by the peck or ton
How many I cannot define
But I'm getting so fat I cannot run
And commencing to look like a swine.

ARE THERE FLAWS IN OUR LAWS

Many thousands are killed in the USA
By carelessness and speed
Hauled away to the graveyard every day
Regardless of rank or creed.
Forty thousand they give as the figure
Since this World war begun
Our loss here is several times bigger
Than killed by the Japs and Hun.

A condition we should seriously ponder
And try to remove the cause,
Human lives are too precious to squander
There must be flaws in our laws.
Inventions and progress we can't suspend
We want to keep going ahead
But our silly speed must come to an end
Or soon we'll all be dead.

Battle of the Atlantic

A sinking smokestack, a great air bubble, an empty lifeboat, all that is visible of a torpedoed tanker, all that is evident of the hard work, the savings we put into War Bonds to build this tanker, to load it with 50,000 gallons of high octane gas.

Our money is still safe but the tanker is lost forever. Another and another and another must be built to take its place.

The men who sail the seas are giving their lives to win the Battle of the Atlantic. We are asked only to lend our money.

THEY NEED OUR HELP!

A Russian collective farm family gathers in front of the charred ruins of their home as the Red Army enters a recaptured village. Millions of Russian civilians have been left homeless and stripped of warm clothing and other essentials by the invading Nazis. Americans can help keep families like this one alive by donating clothing to Russian War Relief which ships clothing, medical supplies and concentrated foods to the Russian people.

WRITE A LETTER!

After that Thanksgiving dinner Thursday it would be a good chance for you to sit down and write a long letter to one or more of the service men listed here and tell him how thankful you are that you have him to protect America for you. His Thanksgiving dinner may be much like yours or it may be from a "C" rations can. Whatever the source you can be sure he'll be thankful about something because that soldier is an American.

If there are guests present for dinner each of you write a letter to one of these men and allow him to have more for which he can give thanks. For all he is doing he asks so little of us. Just a letter from home. It takes a very short time to write a page or two and you can be sure that letter you write will be one deed that will really be appreciated.

But don't just write on Thanksgiving Day. Write every day. He fights or trains every day.

Some soldier is waiting for a letter from you—don't disappoint him.

Write today!

Two For One

Fats are needed for making vital war munitions.

A new plan of exchanging points for fats saved goes into effect Dec. 13, when retail meat dealers will give housewives two meat points for each pound of fats turned in, while continuing to pay four cents a pound for the salvaged fats. Until later, when tokens will be used, brown stamps collected from War Ration Book Three will be used for the exchange.

With the inauguration of this new plan, the War Production Board expects to double its kitchen fats salvage which now amounts to about ten million pounds a month.

Doesn't Know How To Recess

Melba Powell, former Record employee several years back, jotted down this interesting note regarding her family —three daughters.

The eldest, Dee Ann, recently celebrated her thirteenth birthday. She has joined the Girl Scouts. Sister Jacquie is president of her Brownie troop. Baby Sandra, writes Melba, is utterly disgusted because she can't "join something." Sandra, being only four, couldn't attend kindergarten as they are overcrowded and the age limit has been set at five.

Jacquie promised Sandra a day's visit to school, however. Just in case the teacher should call on her, Sandra proceeded to learn to print her name, learned the pledge of allegiance and God Bless America, plus three poems.

The promised day came and as they were getting ready to leave, Jacquie mentioned something about recess. Sandra burst into tears and between sobs, said: "Jacquie taught me the pledge of allegiance, God Bless America, a lot of poems, and I can print my name—but she never said anything about recess and when the teacher asks me to recess I won't know how."

New Gas Coupons 5 Gals.

Effective last Wednesday, all new B-2 and C-2 gasoline books will contain fewer coupons but each coupon will be worth five gallons each, announced Ted Webb, chairman of the local War Price and Rationing Board, Franklinton School, Sandusky and Broad-sts.

While the change does not mean more gasoline for holders of supplemental ration books, it does mean that they will receive their rations in more convenient form.

The new supplemental gasoline ration coupons of five gallons value will be issued with the designation B-2 or C-2 on their face. As present B and C and B-1 and C-1 coupons run out they will be replaced by the new higher unit value coupons. Outstanding coupons issued before Dec. 1 will continue to be worth only two gallons.

Thousands of man hours will be saved under the new plan as under the simplified program, one book will often to the job of two books and part of a third book.

Get In The Scrap

School children throughout the city are busy this week spending their after-school hours collecting scrap metal in the third concentrated scrap metal drive to be held within this county.

The responsibility for the success or failure of the drive has been placed squarely with the schools and school children. Past experience indicates that the schools get the job done. They are the last source of manpower.

Maurice F. Benfer, chairman, states the campaign is entirely organized through the efforts of school students. It will continue through Dec. 11.

The purpose of the present drive is to establish a "Victory scrap metal bank" for Franklin county, upon which the government can draw as it needs new supplies for the steel mills.

According to the war production board, consuming steel mills and suppliers have on hand an inventory of seven and one-half million tons, enough for only two months.

The adult public is urged to cooperate with the school students in seeing that all scrap is found and taken to the school yards.

A call to a local school will bring a ready response for a student to call and collect your "scrap metal."

Victory scrap metal "bank" headquarters are located at 306 S. High-st, in the Southern hotel building, where questions concerning collection or the type of scrap wanted can be answered by calling Ma 6774.

GOING AWAY TO WAR

He said good bye to his sweetheart
Soon after he left school,
He was going across where Bonaparte
Retreated on a mule.
Said good bye to his old Father
Hugged his younger Brother
His eyes were making him some bother
When he said good bye to Mother.

Mothers always try to look cheerful
Their pain is hidden inside
They know the dangers are fearful
But their worry they would hide.
They try to keep a smiling face
All sorrow they would smother
But the saddest in the human race
Is an afflicted loving Mother.
—C. S. Parks.

Be In On The Start Of A Curtiss Helldiver

Start working at Curtiss-Wright . . . where these mighty dive bombers get their start. A lone pilot can get a Helldiver into the air, but the combined efforts of hundreds of men and women are required to build it, get it ready for offensive action. The United States Navy must have more dive bombers to help carry out plans for overwhelming our enemies; Curtiss-Wright must have more workers to build them.

Here is the kind of a job that should appeal to red-blooded Americans—the chance to get in a personal jab at the Japs and Nazis, to help shorten the war and to save the lives of thousands of our brave boys. This is essential work of the most urgent and vital kind. Don't leave it up to "the other fellow." We need YOU—whether experienced or inexperienced. No finer factory environments or working conditions exist anywhere. The pay is good, the chance of advancement excellent. Get into the fight . . . at Curtiss-Wright.

December is "Fight Against Inflation" Month

We are all in the fight against inflation, and this month is a perfect time to do your part.

To do your part, you should

Accept no rationed goods without giving up ration stamps.

To do your part, you should

Pay no more than ceiling prices. Look for these in the stores where you shop.

To do your part, you should

Buy only what you absolutely need.

To do your part, you should

Pay off debts—do not make new ones.

To do your part, you should

Buy more War Bonds and Stamps, regularly and for Christmas presents.

The Christmas Season

The spirit of the Christmas season brings to mind the well-read story of O. Henry, "The Gift of the Magi."

In olden days a woman's proudest possession was her hair which generally, when combed out, reached to her knees.

And to a man, his proudest possession was an heirloom, perhaps a gold watch handed down from father to son for several generations.

This was the case of the characters in the "Gift of the Magi."

It was the day before Christmas and Della, wife of James Dillingham Young, wished to buy for her husband a gift. The only trouble was, however, even after many months of skimping, she had only saved a dollar and 87 cents. This, even in that day and age, couldn't buy a suitable gift.

So Della, who possessed a crowning glory which rippled and shone like a cascade of brown waters, hurriedly went to a shop which bought 'Hair Goods of All Kinds' and sold her lovely locks for twenty dollars. With this added to her dollar and 87 cents, she was able to buy for Jim, after several hours search, a platinum fob chain.

She hurried home to prepare dinner and wait for her husband.

When Jim arrived, he stopped just inside the door viewing his wife with a peculiar expression, neither anger, surprise, disapproval, horror, nor anything—only staring fixedly with a peculiar expression on his face.

Della hurried to him, exclaiming in rapid succession about selling her hair in order to buy him a Christmas present, that it wouldn't be long before it would grow out again.

Jim couldn't quite believe that her hair was gone and slowly drew a package from his overcoat pocket and threw it upon the table.

It was for Della and with fingers flying, she tore the string and paper from the package to view a set of lovely combs, combs which she had longed for without ever hoping to possess.

But it was too late. For the present, anyway.

Della then held out her gift to Jim, held it in her open palm. Then she asked for his watch but instead of obeying, Jim merely said, "I sold the watch to get the money to buy your combs."

The magi, as you know, were wise men who brought gifts to the Babe in the manger. They started the art of giving Christmas presents.

The wise are the Magi.

Round About the Hilltop, we find Robert Ferguson home on furlough. Now a captain in the Army Air Corps, his furlough will be up Monday . . . Bob Cornwell writes that he has been invited to spend his Christmas with an English family in London . . . those wondering what may have happened to the young man who worked at Long and Haldeman Dry Cleaners, Bob Denbow is now studying to be a parachutist in the Army . . . Mrs. "Chatty" Conn from Seillers is at the home of her brother, speedily recuperating from a recent appendectomy . . . Gene Herbert, now a master sergeant in the Army, returned to camp yesterday after a week's furlough . . . and Bill Ward has returned to Norman, Okla., after several days' leave. He is in the Navy . . . no word as yet from Dorothy Hartley who is traveling south with daughter Patty, to join her husband at DeLand, Fla.

Have You Any Old Clothing?

Housewives in the Hilltop area have been asked to assist the Franklin County Salvage Committee in a 10-day drive to secure 300,000 pounds of discarded clothing for peoples of liberated countries.

Fire department stations in the local area are serving as collection depots. The goal must be reached by Dec. 18, so immediate cooperation of housewives has been asked by the committee.

Scrap Drive To Close

School children have rounded up scrap metal of all sizes and descriptions, and trucks this week were making collections from school yards and hauling the scrap to dealers. James R. Riley, president of Suburban Motor Freight Co., and chairman of transportation, secured the co-operation of Ft. Hayes in the use of Army trucks and men in collecting the scrap, as well as trucks of the State Highway department and of individual firms.

"Any persons having scrap which the school children have missed in their collection are urged to take it to scrap metal boxes located at the various filling stations," according to Maurice F. Benfer, 2025 Beverly-rd., general chairman of the Franklin County campaign which is part of a nationwide effort to secure 15,000,000 tons of scrap metal during the last six months of this year.

Scrap too heavy to carry to boxes and which children have not already made arrangements to have collected will be called for if the information about its location in to the Franklin County Victory scrap metal headquarters located at 306 S. High-st, Main 6774.

"It is important," said Mr. Benfer, "that all persons having large scrap not yet collected notify headquarters immediately. Victory scrap banks banks are a project which cannot be neglected. They are the country's means of assuring the continued flow of vital war weapons to the armed forces."

Tomorrow will mark the close of the current campaign which is the third concentrated scrap metal drive to be held within Franklin County in a year.

Firemen's Show To Be Given Dec. 16, 17, 18, 19

Some Hilltop talent will be featured in the Columbus Firemen's Annual Minstrel show, "The Red Hots of 1943," to be given Dec. 16, 17, 18 and 19, with matinees Dec. 18 and 19, in the Hartman Theater.

Leo Phillips will act as an end man while Art Brown, 696 S. Richardson-av, will act as gag and monologue man.

Several stars to appear in the show were with the original Al G. Fields minstrels.

All proceeds of the show will go to the fund which provides sick, injury and death benefits for the firemen. All talent promotion, costumes, scenery, script, music and direction are being donated.

Cigarettes Go To Soldiers

E. O. Melvin announced this week the receiving of a letter from the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company concerning the delivery of cigarettes when money collected on the Hilltop in October purchased for soldiers overseas. The letter follows in part:

"We are pleased to advise that a shipment of 320M (thousand) cigarettes is being made through Special Service Officer, Port of Embarkation, in accordance with your order you placed with our representative."

"Marching Along," Comedy To Be Presented Tonight

"Marching Along," a musical extravanganza will be presented tonight at 8 p. m. in the West High school auditorium by the music department. The program wil be under the supervision of Herbert E. Hutchinson, vocal music; Mary C. Richter, instrumental music; Jeanne Gilmore, dramatics; Evelyn Hall, dancing and stage supervision.

The title is taken from the grand finale "Marching Along" a fantasy of mixed voices and a piano duet written by Domenico Savino.

The entire program will have a patriotic note which is shown by some of the selections. The songs are "Victory Polka," "Infantry Song," and "Say a Prayer For The Boys Over There."

Local Girl Band Soloist

Another Hilltop success story was written this week when Alice "Peggy" Reed, 311 N. Warren-av, made arrangements to leave Jan. 6 to go to Syracuse, N. Y., where she will sing with George Towne's band. This band is now playing at the Neil House.

Peggy didn't do much with music in her high school activities, but at 16 she had an offer for singing engagements in Pittsburgh, Pa., but she didn't consider herself ready at that time.

She has prepared herself by studying with Lella White, Margaret Perry Hast and Lowell Reilly since then.

The songstress has sung on such local radio shows as "The Slumber Program" on WHKC, and the "Pleasant Valley Program" on WBNS.

Her New York programs will be broadcast over the Blue Network.

Peggy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Reed, of the above address.

Kel Fuller, Overseas, Sees Carthage; Describes Other Places Of Interest

T 5/g Kelman Fuller, former editor of the West High School Occident, sent the following letter home recently describing places of interest he has visited since being overseas. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roland A. Fuller, 137 S. Terrace-av.

I visited ancient Carthage. The entire day was the most exciting in my life. You remember Carthage from history as the great trading center of the Western Mediterranean in the time Rome was in her glory—Hannibal, the great military leader of Carthage, lead his hordes against the Romans, inflicting horrible defeats on them for 15 years before a Roman army under Scipio finally defeated him and destroyed the city. The city was destroyed three times and rebuilt twice, the last time it was laid low, was by an army of Moslems—it never was rebuilt.

Today points of interest are the Cathedral, Museum and old Roman Amphitheater, The Cathedral stands on the highest hill in the town and overlooks the most beautiful view of the blue Mediterranean that one can imagine — the Mediterranean is tops in beauty and the view from Carthage is unsurpassed. The Cathedral is the most impressive thing I've ever seen. Its chimes are like music and the French Architecture is perfect. Probably the Cathedral is second to St. Peters of Rome and Notre Dame of Paris for sheer magnificence and background. Two bishops and a cardinal are interred there. Also some of the remains of Louis IX for whom the Cathedral was built and dedicated. It was Sunday and an organist filled the building with beautiful music, the wholeness and quality of tone were brought out to the fullest extent by the marvelous acoustic properties, only the hands of the organist fingering the keyboard are visible and part of his white cloaked arms were reflected in a mirror high above where we were standing. It gave a holy, almost supernatural effect to the scene and held me in awe. I wandered slowly about the church, stopping to admire the perfectly carved statues of Joan of Arc, Christ and the Mother Mary holding the Christ Child in her arms poised high over the altar on a small balcony. The indirect lighting filtering through the multi-colored, translucent windows filled the church with a

Return Gas Tickets Upon Car Transfer

A plan to establish more effective control over the return of gasoline rations for an estimated 200,000 vehicles in the United States that change ownership each month goes into operation Jan. 1, 1944.

This plan calls for close cooperation between State Motor Vehicle Departments, through which applications for new vehicle registrations must be made, and War Price and Rationing boards. A close check will be made to see that outstanding gasoline coupons for a vehicle to be sold are returned to the ration board before the vehicle is transferred. Beginning Jan. 1, no board can issue rations for a motor vehicle that has changed ownership after Dec. 31, unless the applicant submits the appropriate receipt.

Before selling his car, the present owner will send or take any coupons issued for the vehicle remaining in his possesion to his ration board and obtain a receipt in duplicate. The original copy of the receipts will be sent to the State Motor Vehicue Registration Department with the new owner's application for registration. The purchaser must use the duplicate of this receipt when he applies to his ration board for gasoline rations in his own right.

Dealers and other persons holding new or used vehicles, including passenger cars, commercial vehicles or motorcycles, for resale will be required to file an inventory with their ration boards of all such vehicles on hand as of the close of business Dec. 31, and obtain a receipt for each vehicle. Beginning Jan. 1, no vehicle is to be sold or transferred unless this receipt in duplicate is given to the purchaser at the same time. Scrap dealers must have on hand a receipt for each vehicle they receive beginning Jan. 1. These receipts must be retained for at least one year if the vehicles are to be scrapped.

shadowy half light that only added enchantment. I stopped at the tomb of the Cardinal who founded the Cathedral and slowly translated the Latin inscribed —Hic in spem infinitae misercordiae requiescit—here he lies in hope of everlasting happiness

However, the Latin inscription around the top of the church was beyond me. I got part of it.

The museum contained old Roman relics and parts of Bones of old Romans buried in Plaster-c'u's t o m s, very interesting,—there were numerous lamps and statues. One large statue was broken to bits by Vandals and scattered over an area of one-quarter mile. All pieces were recovered and reconstructed by the white Father's custodians of the Museum. Now the statue stands as of old a marvelous work of art. Many beautiful paintings, the best of which was a large one in perfect color covering a whole side of a wall were present. It was a scene representing a battle between the Crusaders and the Moslems-Heads of Romans, falling horseman, Moslems with severed limbs and split heads, highlighted the picture. The facial expressions, even of the horses were outstanding.

Many Mosaics were on exhibit. The Arena was in a fine state of preservation. The dens which held the lions and the cages in which the Christians were imprisoned are also very evident. I would go into more detail but it's very late. As you know it was in these areas that the Martyred Christians were cruelly fed to the lions. Gladiators also vied with one another in the tournaments before the fair ladies. The ladies also decided the fate of the vanquished warrios. If he fought bravely and well the verdict was thumbs up and his life was spared. Thumbs down meant death.

We rode back to Tunis —15 kilometer on the electric trolley. Arabs, French, British, Americans all jammed together with jovial Arab conductor trying to collect fares. He knew only two words of English, "OK" and "Pretty good." Everybody was jabbering and I was trying to hang out a window and escape the odor. What a life. I gave a French boy about 8 years old a stick of gum and his grandma punched him and made him say "Merci."

WRITE A LETTER!

Yours may be one of the American fighting men who will not enjoy Christmas day with loved ones. Now is the time to help this most celebrated day of the year be more pleasant for these men. Start immediately writing letters to them so that they will receive them by Chrismas. Don't stop with one! Write several of them! On Christmas day they can read these letters and, in thoughts, be home.

Don't think you'll make them too melancholy by telling them how you will spend your Christmas. That is what they wil be glad to read. It is for these little privileges they are fighting. Let them know they still exist. Help them complete their dream of home at Christmas with a "living" letter from home.

Make your service men happier at Christmas by a letter.

Don't delay, write today!

EMINENT CONDUCTOR DIRECTS ORCHESTRA

Arturo Toscanini is the very eminent conductor of the very popular NBC Symphony Orchestra, which is heard over Station WLW, Sundays at 4 p. m., CWT.

A DOUBTFUL SOLUTION

A man writes poems by the basket and ton
In a Marathon filling station,
And nothing can stop him under the sun
Unless it be Carrie Nation.

Its rumored he sent the President a few,
And the Governor of the state,
He appears too wild for any one to subdue
And he refuses to arbitrate.

They called a meeting in the City Hall
To debate his fate as the law allowed,
Why not, as a warning, said one wide and tall
Send him a coffin and shroud?

Then a woman spake up with some hesitaton,
It wouldn't be right to sniff out his light
Lets keep him so busy in his filling station
He won't have any time to write.

Jungle Makes You Somewhat Queer, Writes Soldier Serving "Over There"

Following is a portion of a letter which Cpl. John (Jack) Russell, formerly of 694 Binns-blvd, sent home. In his letter he stated that he and his buddy wrote notes over a period of time and finally compared them. This is the result:

"The jungle does queer things to a guy. You think you are normal because everyone around you acts the way you do—what you fail to realize is that you are all a little wacky.

"Oh, you bet along alright. You get your daily routine of work done, and sometimes when you don't have time to think, you actually are contented. Then a letter arrives from your girl (you imagine she is still yours), in which she raves about the delicious roast she prepared for dinner, and you sink back in the depths of melancholia.

"Some of the gang hold up pretty good. They are the type that never let a thing bother them — even when they were still in the states. They are of an even temperament and bend their moods to fit the situation. Then, too, there are always some in worse shape than yourself. Take the case of Sam the cook. He saw spirits every night and once he found a dead Jap underneath his cot. Yes, he had it back poor devil, but he was not alone. There was the kid from the coal town in Pennsylvania who heard his wife calling every night. He finally ended up in a hospital well behind the lines.

"Yes the jungle isn't what Dorothy Lamour makes it seem, it is a hell festered with snakes, bugs and mosquitoes. It is rain and heat, dragging days, and sleepless nights. You fight the Jap and you fight disease—you can't see either one. Fighting, working, hoping—always.

"You catch yourself seeing drinks dangling from a coconut tree—your canned beef stew turns into a juicy T-bone steak—the native women grow whiter and whiter. You've got the jungle in your brain and it's pushing out your sense of reason.

"When your head is clear you think of home, your old job, the girl you are engaged to, your mother and dad. Jack, the kid brother, must be a big guy by now — probably wears all your clothes too. Then wham—wham the jungle hits you again. Work-fight, work-fight, work-fight. Fight, drive, drive, drive. Emotion once again takes a back seat to reality. Yes, the jungle does queer things to a guy."

Do You Have Sixpence?

All over the world, British soldiers have been humming a song called "I've Got Sixpence." If you've been humming it too, you might stop for a moment to see if you HAVE sixpence. If you have six pennies—or six nickels or dimes—tucked away in a glass jar or piggy bank, take the coins out and send them to war.

Every coin drawn out of circulation must be replaced so that trade may be carried on. That may mean taking precious metals from the making of weapons and ammunition for the making of new coins. Ultimately, our coin-hoarding slows up the production of military equipment.

The penny problem is especially serious. About two years ago 4600 tons of copper were used to make 1-cent pieces. That metal would have met the copper requirements of 2 cruisers, 3 destroyers, 125 flying fortresses, 120 field guns and 120 Howitzers. We cannot afford to again draw such quantities of copper from the manufacture of these tools of war. Metallurgists have been experimenting with salvaged copper. They recently announced that they have perfected methods of combining materials from used shell cases with small amounts of new copper to make a penny closely resembling the familiar "red" cent.

The new pennies won't be in production until the beginning of 1944; however. We won't have them for Christmas, the season when trade increases and coins are particularly important for making change. So idle coins must come to the rescue NOW.

The Government does not want you to go out and squander your money in order to put it back in circulation. Save the smart way. Take those hidden coins out and buy War Stamps with them. That way, you'll be launching a personal triple-threat against the Axis.

1. Your money will be used to help pay for the equipment our soldiers need.

2. You'll be helping to keep the wheels of commerce rolling smoothly.

3. By buying Stamps instead of spending wastefully you'll be helping in the Government's drive to keep prices down.

Don't let your coins be slackers—send them to war NOW.

The Shortest Poem in the World:

Hired!
Tired?
Fired!

Stamps will buy his sock and helmet—
Bonds will buy his gun—
Save—so Uncle Sam can spend
Until the War is won.

Three occasions to keep your mouth shut—when angry, swimming and late for meals.
Aw Reservoir

Spend your clothes money for Stamps and Bonds to outfit the men fighting for you. A soldier's equipment is a matter of life and death. Yours isn't.

MINDING MANNERS

When you begin teaching your baby how to eat, don't fret about his manners. Manners are the finishing touch that you can buff on at a later date. For the time being it is enough that he learns how to eat at all. How to substitute utensils for fingers in manipulating his food from dish to mouth. How to get more food into his mouth where it will do some good; and less food on his face, bib, table cover, and the floor, where it is simply a struggle and a strain on you. How to ask for food instead of grabbing from other children's plates. And how to attend to the business of eating without dawdling, and be reasonably social besides. By the time he has these fundamentals well in hand, your baby will have a pretty fair groundwork in good manners.

Almost from the start, if he is given the opportunity, your baby will show a remarkable ability to help himself and improve his skill at eating. In the beginning he will not know how to eat at all, but must be taught to suck and swallow. However, as early as five or six months, he will try to hold the bottle from which he nurses. At six months or so, when he is taking water or part of his milk from a cup, he will begin to grasp the cup and hold onto it. Between six and nine months, when you are feeding him strained foods from a spoon, he will fumble at the handle. If another spoon is given him to play with while he is being fed, he will lift it, drop it, and bang it on the table. At about one year he will try, haltingly, to feed himself with a spoon, though more food is apt to be smeared on his face during this experiment than will ever get inside his mouth.

By the time baby is ready for junior foods, you will have an opportunity to lay the real foundations of his eating habits. For these foods, which are chopped and prepared recipe dishes, designed for older babies with teeth enough to do a little honest chewing, more nearly approximate the kind of eating he will be doing from now on, and lend themselves to grown-up tools.

It is important, if you would teach your child early to eat with skill, that you provide comfortable, convenient eating equipment. When he begins toddling around on his own toes, baby's high chair days should be done. He should then be graduated to a small sized low table and a comfortable little chair of proper height, so his elbows will be at table level. The china should be inexpensive and sturdy enough to stand rough handling, too. All the dishes should be sensibly shaped to hold the kinds of foods a baby eats, and suited to the size and shape of his hands and mouth and eyes.

Here are some suggestions: A medium-sized shallow soup plate with a wide flange is excellent for cereals and soups and stews, such as lamb and liver stew with milk and cereals—chicken farina vegetable porridge with milk, wheat germ, and yeast—and creamed tomato and rice with vegetables and whey powder. A dessert dish, flared at the top, solid at the base, and fairly shallow is also desirable for foods like creamed green vegetables—chopped carrots—or pineapple rice pudding.

A child always enjoys an individual sized pitcher that holds a glass or two of milk. This should have a broad lip designed to pour without spilling, and a firmly attached handle that can easily be grasped by a tiny hand. A medium sized glass with a wide mouth, not flaring at the top, hefty enough to stand punishment, preferably non-breakable, is excellent for children's use.

Idaho Half-Shells

6 medium-sized Idaho bakers
½ C. hot milk

Scrub and bake the potatoes at 400 to 500 degrees. Remove piece of skin from top of each potato or cut large potatoes in two lengthwise. Scrape out inside, being careful not to break the shell. Mash thoroughly. It is advisable to put them through the ricer; add margarine, salt and milk and cooked onion. Beat well. Pile mixture lightly into shells, top with two small pork sausages that have been partially cooked. Return to oven and bake at 350 degrees until sausages are cooked through and brown.

Fillin' In

A Service More Than Well Done

With the retirement this year of Harry Fleming from the ranks of the Charity Newsies, the Newsies will lose the services of a person who believed in having a job 'well-done.'

This is proven in the fact that he collected over $25,000 for that organization during his years of service. He was a well-known figure around Broad and Hague on the Saturday before Christmas; he will be greatly missed.

Around And About The Hilltop

A new daughter has arrived at the Steele household on S. Terrace-av, and she has been quaintly named, "Jan Lee" . . . Mr. Vogelsang at the Hilltop Bakery has a nice assortment of Christmas cookies, he usually makes around 100 different varieties . . . Jack Mitchell arrived home this week from Great Lakes, but must return two days before Christmas, too bad . . . Most of the Christmas candy you are able to purchase at Fox Food Shop is made by them . . . the most unwelcome visitor this week has been the flu bug . . . Understand Walter Davis isn't such a good Santa . . . Jack Bellar is home for a short while . . . it's really true that a photographic studio has opened in the Hillcrest Church Building . . . Edwin Busch is a new employee at the Hilltop Record . . . Joanne Gulden is enthused with her recent appointment as a junior hostess at the USO . . . it seems half of the younger set attends the service men's dance at the YMCA each Friday night . . .

Schlereth's Get Word From Son At Santa Tomas

"Dear Dad:

"I had hoped that I could write to you upon my approaching birthday, but as time has been limited in catching this mail I must forsake my wish. Many respects to you, dear dad, with the hope that we may be able to celebrate my next birthday together.

"Mary Virginia, Linda and Hewitt are well. We have managed to obtain essentials. Clothing is no problem in the tropics. We have sufficient to last some time yet. Hewitt and Linda both are held in the interment camps.

"No word has been received from home. Mary Virginia is worried about the health of her mother. Are they well? In my last letter, over six months ago, I mentioned that a cable had been sent to her parents. I hope a reply to that will arrive soon. I know that you are very busy with your work, dad, please don't worry about me and my family. We send our best love to mother, Dorothy and all of you.

Your son,
"HOWARD."

Above is the letter which Mr. and Mrs. Andrew J. Schlereth, 247 S. Terrace-av, received this week from their son, Howard, who has been interned at Santa Tomas, in the Philippines since shortly after Pearl Harbor. His wife, the former Mary Virginia Hewitt, and their two children, Howard Hewitt Schlereth, seven years old, and Linda, four years old, are interned with him.

It has been learned that the father and son live in one quarter of the internment camp while his wife and their daughter live in another. However, they are permitted to get together once a day. Most of this information was secured from returned prisoners

THOUGHT FOR TODAY

As we drift
Through life
We strive for
Many things
That stir the mind with Mingled thoughts.
But the soul shall find
And leave behind
The symbol of what time
Has brought.

Ration Token Plan Goes Into Effect February 27

The ration token plan will be put in effect for both processed foods and meat-fats on Feb. 27, 1944, it was revealed by Food Rationing Division to dealers who were required to register by Dec. 15 in order to obtain their supply of tokens.

There will be two types of tokens used—red for meat-fat points and blue tokens for processed food points. When the token plan becomes effective, all red and blue stamps in consumer's ration books will have the same point-value—10 points each. Consumers will continue to spend their ration stamps for processed foods and meat-fats and the retailers will use the new ration tokens as "change" due customers out of ration stamps surrendered. Such token "change" may be spent any time by the consumer as tokens have no expiration date. All tokens will have the same point-value—1 point each.

Stamps will be validated on a horizontal basis beginning with A-8, B-8, C-8, etc. This is to not only make it easier to tear from the books, but to assist in eliminating present numeral value. The first series of stamps will become valid on Feb. 27. Three red stamps with a total value of 30 points will become valid every two weeks thereafter.

Tokens will be distributed to all retailers by banks about Feb. 2. The new tokens are slightly smaller than a dime and will be made of vulcanized fiber containing three layers, the middle layer being yellow to make counterfeiting difficult.

DO YOU STILL "SHARE THE RIDE?"

EDITORIAL

Quite a while ago, in fact when car owners first applied for additional gas rations, motorists were asked to aid transportation by sharing their cars. This was carried out for a short while by many motorists, but it has lately been observed that such a thing as "sharing the ride" is now a thing of the past.

It would appear that those who secured additional rations and whose car now bear a "B" or "C" sticker, would be only too willing to give a lift to anyone going their way, but this is not the case. It has been found that there are 80 per cent of cars bearing B and C stickers who do not carry passengers—they do not even trouble themselves to offer rides to probable passengers at bus stops. There is only an average of around five per cent who offer rides to those at the car stops.

"Share the ride" should not be a thing of the past, it should be a thing of the present and of the future—for the duration.

Draft Bd. Gets Unusual Card

One of the most unique Christmas cards received to date was brought to this office through Selective Service Board No. 13. It is a card received from Pfc. Robert D. Worthen, who they inducted into Federal service a year ago. The card is marked "Somewhere in Italy" and the message follows:

"To my dear friends and neighbors:

"This may not be the same kind of greeting that I received about this time last year but I do wish you a Merry Christmas. I have been through Africa, Sicily and Italy, tomorrow I don't know. But wish you were here and I were there. Best wishes to you all.

Robert D. Worthen."

West vs Springfield

Again falling by the wayside of the rugged Springfield five, the Cowboys dropped their second game of the current season last Friday with a score of 35-18. Unable to click on their percentage of shots was the deciding point in the set-back but splendid rebound work by the Wildcat lads kept the Buckaroos on their tones. At no time in the encounter were the Bucks able to forge ahead and they were trailing 21-7 at the half.

Dick Gilmore led West with five points and Chanly and Rockhold of Springfield garnered 12 and seven points respectively.

Parker, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Parker, 4914 Glentangy-blvd, in marriage Tuesday evening, at 8 o'clock. Rev. Joseph B. Shellhaus read the service.

For the occasion the bride wore a gown of white faille, fashioned with a deep off-the-shoulder yoke of sheer mosseline edged with a band of imported Alencon lace. The lace finished the points of the long-fitted sleeves. The basque-like bodice pointed into a bouffant skirt, terminating into a wide circular train.

The bride carried the traditional Pi Phi arrow pinned in a colonial bouquet of carnations and white orchids. She wore a shirred Mary of Scotland bonnet which held her fingertip veil of bridal illusion. The veil was worn by Mrs. Robert K. Murray (Evelyn Keller) at her wedding Dec. 7. Her jewelry was a strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Murray served as matron of honor and was dressed in a British rose faille gown, styled on the lines of the bride's and also wore a matching Mary of Scotland bonnet. Miss Geraldine Stone, Miss Patricia Jean Caudill and Mrs. Harold B. Thornhill (Helen Darrow), were bridesmaids, wearing identical gowns of vision blue and matching bonnets.

The matron of honor carried a colonial bouquet of pelargonia carnations and the other attendants had colonial bouquets of dairy made carnations. They wore lovalier necklaces, gifts of the bride.

Wayne L. Lewis was best man for Lt. Parker and James Haywood, William Eick, Robert Hutchinson and William Love served as ushers.

Miss Doris Young, Pi Beta Phi Sgrority, sister of the bride, presented a program of wedding music preceding the service.

Following the ceremony a reception for 150 guests was held at the Pi Phi house. Mrs. Newlon wore a dinner gown of aqua-tone crepe with a deep-V-neckline trimmed in applique and Mrs. Parker wore a topaz crepe dinner gown with emerald green and gold sequins trimming the shoulders. Both wore corsages.

Assisting Mrs. Newlon in receiving the guests were Miss Martha Nicholson, Miss Virginia Rohr, Miss Elizabeth Kauffman and Mrs. Ralph Deems and Miss Doris Young.

After a short wedding trip to New York the couple will make their home in Petersburg, Va., near Camp Lee, where Lt. Parker is stationed.

The bride attended Ohio Wesleyan and Ohio State Universities. She was a member of Strollers and Zeta Phi Eta, national speech honorary. Lieut. Parker was graduated from Howe Military Academy and Ohio State University where he was a member of Delta Tau Delta.

Enter Our Training Center

The Navy flier who will send a Curtiss HellDiver roaring into action against the enemy was once a novice at dive bombing. Everything connected with his deadly missions had to be learned the hard way.

Why, then, should you be reluctant to help build these needed dive bombers just because you've had no experience in this type of work? You can learn . . . without difficulty. Get started at the Curtiss-Wright Training Center just as nearly 14,000 other men and women have done.

Instruction is thorough and practical. You quickly get the feel of tools. Becoming a skilled worker is largely a matter of perseverance and practice. Uncle Sam needs more Helldiver dive bombers to clear the paths to Tokyo and Berlin. We need more men and women to build them. Get into this highly essential work!

EARN WHILE YOU LEARN

Your pay starts the very first day you enter the Training Center. And, in a short time, you can expect to be sent to a well-paid job at the modern Curtiss-Wright plant. There you will enjoy clean, safe, healthful working conditions . . . excellent lunch and cafeteria service, an organized recreation program and service on transportation, rationing and other problems.

WRITE A LETTER!

After reading stories on the front page of your newspapers about the dangerous positions our fighting boys find themselves in and reading about some who don't get out, do you feel you would do almost anything for those boys to make the going lighter?

There IS something you can do. Something that will make these pugilistic days they are living in MORE sane. Just write your service man a letter. Don't complain in it. Don't tell him what you are doing without. He's doing without so much more.

Do tell him about the latest movie you saw, a dance you attended, a sport you witnessed, or what the family is doing.

Above all, tell that serviceman you write to how much you think of what he is doing and how terribly much you appreciate it. Don't let another day go by without writing to your service man. It will keep his morale up and morale will win the war as much as ammunitions.

Don't delay, write today!

Best way to give Pop an Arrow Shirt for Christmas

1 First off, peek in his shirt collar and see what neck and sleeve size he wears. Also, check to see what his favorite pattern is. (If in doubt, give him whites—they're always welcome.)

2 Then march down to Seiller's and ask to see our swell selection. No matter which Arrows you pick, you can be sure they're going to give long service, because all are made of pre-tested fabrics, and have anchored buttons.

3 Another great thing about Arrows is that they're "Sanforized"-labeled, won't shrink even 1%. In short, they're a sensible wartime buy. And—with those perfect-fitting Arrow collars, they're just about the handsomest shirts in the land.

4 When you're getting Pop's presents ready, be sure to put his Arrows on top. For they're sure to get a big hand from any Dad. To make him extra-happy, add some Arrow Ties. They harmonize with the shirts, and resist wrinkles! Shirts, $2.24, up. Ties, $1 and $1.50.

"Who Knows"

We hire men to predict the weather
And give us timely warning
But none are absolutely certain
Why the Sun comes up in the morning.
Nor how the Earth turns on its axis
Without upsetting the town
Stand on our feet instead of our head
When our World is upside down.

If we start west and keep on going
A wise man seriously replied
We will come back to where we started
I said, the compass may be cockeyed.
The Sun comes up in the morning
From force of habit I suppose
And then goes away in the evening
To get some quiet repose.

Prevent Fire Hazards

Christmas fire hazards will again take their annual toll of deaths, injuries and property damage, unless these hazards are thoroughly understood and preventive measures taken, according to the Fire Prevention Section of the Safety Council.

Prominent among the fire hazards prevalent at this season of the year, are the lack of care and caution in connection with the Christmas tree itself. In the interest of safety in the home, the Safety Council has arranged to have warning tags be given with each tree sold. This tag calls attention to several precutions, which if followed, will in a great measure nullify the hazards which are always present, and perhaps prevent a day of joy and gladness being turned into a day of tragedy.

The precautions are as follows:

Avoid lighted candles in the decoration of the tree. Place the tree a safe distance from stove or fireplace.

Use metal tinsel for trim and mica or flake asbestos for imitation snow.

Cotton trimming and cotton whiskered Santa Claus are very dangerous. Santa suits and whiskers can be made fireresistive by dipping or spraying with 15% solution of sulphite of ammonia.

Never leave a lighted Christmas tree unguarded at any time. Do not place the tree where it will obstruct any exit of a room.

Keep candles and open lights from window curtains, paper wreaths and Christmas bells.

Remove the tree from the house before it becomes dry.

As demonstrated during the recent Fire Prevention Week at the local exhibit, paper and cloth decoration can be effectively flame-proofed my immersing the materials in the following solution: 1¼ lbs. boric acid, 1¼ lbs. borax in 3 gals. of water.

In order to keep the tree from drying out and shedding its needles, the University of Iowa College of Pharmacy has announced the following remedy: 15 gm. calcium carbonate, 5 gm. of dry citric acid and 6 gm. of dry malic acid in 1 gal. of water. If the tree is kept in this solution, it will remain fresh and fragrant, and its inflammability will be immensely decreased.

The Safety Council and the Fire Prevention Bureau urge a strict compliance with these precautionary measures, to the end that lives and propery may not become "casualties of carelessness," especially at a time when manpower and materials are so needed to carry on the war effort.

Guard Against Check Thief And Forger

United States Secret Service is warning persons who receive or cash checks to be on guard against the check thief and forger, as many allowance and allotment checks are going astray and are being cashed on forged endorsements. In an effort to stop the theft and forgery of government checks, the government has adopted the slogan "Know Your Endorsers" and to those who receive checks and those who cash hecks, it offers the following simple rules:

To Those Who Receive Checks

1. NEVER endorse a check until you are actually in the presence of the person who will cash it.
2. Have some member of the family home when the checks are due to be delivered.
3. BE SURE your name is clearly printed on the mail-box.
4. Try to cash your check in the same place each month.
5. If you CHANGE YOUR ADDRESS, notify the post-office immediately.

To Those Who Cash Checks

1. KNOW YOUR ENDORSERS!
2. Ask for POSITIVE IDENTIFICATION. Before you cash a check, ask yourself this question, "If this check is returned, cash I find the person who gave it to me"
3. NEVER cash a check already endorsed. Have it endorsed in your presence.
4. Require your employees who cash checks to initial them.
5. DO NOT CASH A CHECK FOR A STRANGER!

SCHLERETH'S GET

who recently came home on the exchange ship, Gripsholm.

The letter was the first direct word the families of Mr. and Mrs. Schlereth have had since December, 1941, shortly after Pearl Harbor. He cabled then that he was safe and after that message the Japs took Manila.

Ironically Schlereth, who had been in Manila as a representative for the Standard Oil Co. since 1937, was to have left for home two days before Pearl Harbor. After the attack he was immediately interned with his family.

"We couldn't ask for anything better," his mother said when she received the news. "We've worried a lot about them, but now we feel better."

Mrs. Hewitt was also surprised and overjoyed by the letter. Her daughter went to the Philippines when she married Howard in 1930. She visited in Columbus one year, in 1937-38, and had lived in the Far East since.

Neither the Hewitts nor the Schlereths have seen their youngest grandchild, Linda. They learned the Americans in Santa Tomas have organized a school. Linda is in kindergarten and Howard is in the first grade.

GOOD EYES
on the Home Front

You women at home nowadays have a double job of home-making and war work. You can't do it well if you suffer from eye-strain or faulty vision. A visit to Linville's will make sure your eyes are good.

— Letters — To the Editor

Dear Sir:

I received my copy of the Hilltop Record today, and appreciate this very much. You don't know how much it means to me to sit down and read what is going on around the west side.

I have lived on the Hilltop all my life and think it is the best part of Columbus. Even though my mother and father moved to the East Side, they like the Hilltop best of all. Thanks again.

Yours truly,
Charles L. Rader SC 3/C.

AN INSCRIPTION FOR HEADSTONES

These words I'd have shown on every headstone
Never think of me as dead,
Til travel with you, helping you to subdue
Everywhere you carefully tread.
Only the body is dead my soul is overhead.
If true your courage I'll renew
In some way I'll confide, help you to decide
All your enemies help you subdue.
Your sorrow appease, I'll be in the breeze
Some day you may see me again,
I'll stand by your side, good or evil betide
If you travel with honest men.
Don't mourn for me, although you cannot see
I am holding you by the hand,
I will be with you, your sky dark or blue
On sea or land helping understand.

—C. S. Parks.

CHRISTMAS TONIGHT
Bells in the steeple ring
Songs that the angel's sing
Christmas tonight!

Down in the manger stalls
There, where the starlight falls,
God to His children calls—
Christmas tonight!

Come, raise your voices, then;
Sing! Sing of peace again!
Candles alight.
Mellowing hearts of men . . .
Christmas tonight!

Merry Christmas To The Hilltop

U. S. Naval Air Station, De Land, Florida, Dec. 13. As this is being written I am reminded of an expression I've heard before somewhere: "Christmas comes early this year."

It's an early Christmas for me—early to be sending my greetings back to the Hilltop. And I was most pleasantly reminded that Christmas is near with the delivery of half a dozen greeting cards in today's mail—Today, nearly two weeks before the big holiday.

This is probably the strangest Christmas season I have ever experienced. It will be so for many of us.

In the first place one hardly stops to think what day of the week it is in the Navy. Sunday, holidays, every day is work day. Every day sees business as usual.

Then too the very warm days and bright sunshine or green foliage all around doesn't lend much to the northerner's conception of the Christmas season. Numerous bright green pine trees and huge red poinsettas may serve as likely reminders.

Tonight at the Ship's Service store a big pine Christmas tree has been placed in the corner and tomorrow the WAVEs will probably lend a feminine touch and add the decorations.

Around the display counter are numerous Navy gifts decorated with the well known anchor and U. S. N. and some too that bear the Marine insignia, since several of these boys are also here.

One of the lads at the soda fountain posed the question: "Where are you spending your Christmas, Lieutenant."

"Right here on the base, mate," was my reply.

"It's the first time I've ever been away from home at Christmas, and it's going to seem mighty strange," he said.

He's typical of all the hundreds of fine young fellows I've had a chance to come in contact with since I left Columbus.

Every day these boys from home towns all over America pause a moment to drop some little word that reveals that they too have come from homes that I can imagine are about like those back on the Hilltop and their news from home is like the news that Moms and Dads back on the Hilltop are writing their boys in the service.

And its a small world too—Saturday afternoon I was walking down the street at Daytona Beach and a sailor saluted and said "Aren't you Carlton Hartley?"—It was Bill Steen, a former S. Warren Ave. boy. I had known him when he worked on the West High Occident. At present he's on a buoy tender on the Atlantic coast off Florida.

Then on Sunday I met a former Record employee, Bob Kent, at Daytona. He's stationed at Camp Blanding. A few minutes later two WACs introduced themselves as being from Toledo and Athens.

In my rounds hereabouts I met numerous Ohioans. Seems if one is from Ohio it will soon become known.

Tonight as I write this I do so in the spare time that presents itself while I serve the night watch as Officer of the Deck. The same duty falls my way on Christmas eve and until noon Christmas day. I'll be thinking of all my friends on the Hilltop that night.

But I don't mind it at all. I'm thankful for the opportunity to be one of the boys and with them. They are a fine lot of young men and the folks back home can be proud of them.

I think I can best express their wish to all by saying—"Have a good Christmas." Keep that spirit alive. It's the thing these boys want so much to come back to before another Christmas rolls around.

My sincere best wishes to all the readers of the Hilltop Record. And as very pleasant holiday season to the very loyal staff of your community newspaper.

Lt. (jg) C. Carlton Hartley.

Christmas Eve Candle-Light Service

The traditional "Christmas Candle-Light Service" of Hilltop Lutheran Church will be held Christmas Eve beginning at 11:30 p. m.

The program this year will include: Chimes selections by Miss Minnie Jones; a re-enactment of the Manger Scene by Nancy Hitt, Patty Curl and Patsy Buckman; two anthems, "O Thou That Tellest Good Tidings" and "Glory to God" from Handel's Messiah, by the choir; Silent Night sung antiphonally by Bobby Ochs and the choir.

There will be carol singing by the congregation.

The pastor, Rev. Carveth P. Mitchell, will give the Christmas message.

The church will be opened at 10:30 p. m. and everyone is welcome.

Dies After Scuffle

What started out as being a friendly scuffle at Broad-st and Hague-av ended up in tragedy for a Hilltop family Tuesday morning.

The victim was Donald Baker, 18, 464 S. Warren-av. Baker, who has just enlisted in the Marine Corps, and his friends were discussing the relative merits of the army and marines. Following the argument a wrestling match ensued and Baker fell to the sidewalk, hitting his head. When he got up he was dazed and several boys helped him into a nearby restaurant.

He collapsed again inside the restaurant and when the emergency squad arrived he was dead. Deputy Coroner Donald F. Bowers said he died of a cerebral hemorrhage. Police questioned the other boys and released him.

Surviving are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Baker, a sister, Frances Irene, and his maternal grandmother. Services will be held today at 2 p. m. in the Cook & Son Funeral Home, 1631 Parsons-av. Burial will be in Greenlawn Cemetery.

Westgate M. E. Gives Program

Sunday morning, Dec. 26, the Westgate Methodist Church, in the West High School Auditorium, will have a special Christmas Service at 10:30. The church choir under the direction of Robert Fisher, will sing "The Prince of Peace."

Mrs. Howard Sheppard; And there were in the same country, Mrs. H. L. Heinzelman; And Suddenly There Was With The Angels, Mr. Huntley and choir; Calm on the Listening Ear of Night, Mrs. Grace Martin and choir; O Praise the Lord all ye Nations, Choir.

Robert Fisher, organist.

Legion Gives New Year's Eve Dance

St. John Lutheran To Have Candle-Light Christmas Morning

St. John Lutheran Church will have a candle-light Christmas service at 6 a. m. Christmas morning. Immediately following the processional there will be carol singing by the choir and congregation.

On Christmas morning during the regular worship hour the choir, under the direction of Mrs. Dorothy Lose Young, will present a short Christmas cantata, "King of Kings." Soloists for the program will be Charles Apel, Maurley Sutton, Jean Young and Janice Judy.

Injured

W. W. Bolen, 56 N. Oakley-av, suffered a severe head laceration Tuesday morning while unloading coal from a hopper car at Horner C. Gill Coal Co., 351 N. Neilston-av. He was given first aid by emergency squadmen and taken to St. Francis Hospital where his condition was termed "fair."

Furnace Is Stolen

During a three hour period Monday night a 1000-pound furnace was taken from the backyard of Clifford Reed's home, 333 S. Richardson-av, he told police. He had just installed a new furnace in his home and the old one was stored temporarily in the yard. Reed estimated his loss at $10.

There is Hope

OUR OWN community, like the rest of the world, has been shaken by the thunder of guns. This thunder echoes in our ears as we once more celebrate the birth of the Prince of Peace.

Yet this newspaper sees no irony in the scars of war and the message of hope that is Christmas.

For it is the everlasting hope of Christmas that makes it such a vital force in our lives. That hope is one of a never ending period of "Peace on Earth."

While it is true that the columns of this paper since last Christmas have been dominated by the effects of the war lords on our normal way of living—we know that the peace-loving "little" men of goodwill far outnumber the evil.

These "little" people are the citizens of this community and other communities like it. And it was for these same "little" people that Christ came into this world 1943 years ago.

So Christmas belongs to them and not to those who plunge the world into darkness.

Let this true spirit of Christmas dominate your thinking and you can say to all your friends as we now say to you—

A Merry Christmas

Local Men Retire

Two Hilltop railroad conductors wrote a "finis" to their careers with the Pennsylvania and New York Central Lines this week. The men are Otto C. Streets, 586 Binns-blvd and Donald P. Newsom, 257 S. Westgate-av. Together the men have reached a total of 86 years service with the railroad.

Streets, 66, began his work with the Pennsylvania on Sept. 21, 1899, as a brakeman and has been a conductor since March, 1905. His last trip to Indianapolis was Tuesday.

Newsom will be 66 Saturday and has been a conductor for the New York Central since 1904 and for three previous years he served as a brakeman.

Streets figured he traveled 33,840 miles annually. For 37 years he has been a member of the Order of Railway Conductors, Division 100, and for 28 years he was local chairman for the division. Newsom is also a member of the organization.

After traveling a million and one-half miles in his work Streets claims he still isn't tired of traveling and after the war he plans to take his wife on a long vacation by rail.

Newsom said he was going to spend most of his time on his farm while Streets expects to spend his future time keeping his automobile clean and gardening.

Library To Close Over Holidays

Hilltop Branch of the Public Library, 31 N. Hague-av, will be closed Dec. 24 and 25 in observance of Christmas. They will also close Dec. 31 and Jan. 1, for the New Years' week-end.

Books due on one of these days may be held until the following Monday.

Lost Amounts To $82

A sum of $82 was stolen from the cash register of Lauer's Dry Cleaning Shop, 3699 Sullivant-av, last week and police reported. The thief entered through an open coal chute.

Award Prizes To First-Born In 7th Annual Stork Derby

To the first baby born after midnight of Dec. 31, will go the prizes awarded by Hilltop merchants in the Hilltop Record's seventh annual Stork Derby.

Any Hilltop parents living within the territory east to Central-av; west to city limits; north to and including Valley View; and south to Eakin-rd, are eligible. The baby's birth certificate or the attending physician's record of birth must be presented at the Hilltop Record office before 6 p. m. Wednesday, Jan. 5. Participants must prove their residence on the Hilltop for a period of three months preceding the birth date.

Frederick Cunningham, son of Rev. and Mrs. O. W. Cunningham now residents of Florida, was the first contest winner in 1938; in 1939, Linda Myers collected the prizes. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Myers. Son of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Frazier, 129 N. Oakley-av, was the first baby in 1940. He was named Donald Edward.

Bonnie Janet Warsmith, was the lucky winner in 1941, also being the first baby born in Columbus. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold R. Warsmith, 534 Hilltonia-av. In 1942, Mary Lou Sowers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Donald Sowers, was the winner.

Last year's infant, James Robert Ginther, was born at Chillicothe where his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph H. Ginther, were spending the week-end. They made their home at 1020 Union-av.

The score so far is three each. Which will it be this year? A girl? A boy?

Submit More Honor Names

The Honor Roll Committee requests that persons having sons or daughters in the armed forces who have not as yet submitted their names for erection on the Hilltop Honor Roll, please do so as soon as possible. Panels require 165 names before they can be completed and as the names have been slow in coming in, new panels cannot be added.

Rev. J. Lorenz Starts Weekly Broadcast, WHKC

Rev. James Lorenz, pastor of Westgate Methodist Church, now holding services in the West High School auditorium, will inaugurate a "Good News" broadcast over WHKC.

His first program will be given Christmas morning, Saturday, Dec. 25, at 7:45, and will continue to be a weekly feature of that station each Saturday morning at the same time.

Cowboys Lose To Central Pirates

By Joe Case

Both defensively and offensively the Cowboys were off, can be said of last Friday's encounter with the Central Pirates as the local quintet were stopped 39-33 on the West hardwood.

Failing to throw in a single basket in the last half, proved too much as the Pirates accounted three baskets and the remaining free throws to lead 13-7 at the half.

Central used a shifting zone defensive which proved fairly favorable while West stuck by its on and off man-to-man. Flipping in 14 points in the third stanza and adding 13 in the final period gave the Pirates sufficient counters to overcome the 15 the Bucks accumulated.

Ernie Garland, lanky pivot man, led the individual scoring with 13 points while Tillman and Sagar of the Pirates and Blackwell of West accounted eight.

A good number of personals were called on both teams with both losing players on the violations.

The Cowboys were given some consolation as the Reserves won 33-25 in a more thrill packed battle.

All teams will be idle over the holidays.

Blue Star Mothers Elect New Officers

Blue Star Mothers Club, West Side Unit, met at Glenwood Church last Thursday evening for a Christmas party. Acting hostesses were Mesdames Mary Shirley, 314 S. Hague-av; Elsie Marmon, 62 N. Westgate-av, and Lois Brown, 110 N. Central-av.

The following were elected officers: Mrs. Sarah E. Davis, 45 S. Wheatland-av, chairman; Mrs. H. H. Herron, 28 N. Harris-av, vice chairman and historian; Mrs. W. W. Ogden, 207 S. Burgess-av, recording secretary; Melba Blesch, 172 Binns-blvd, secretary and publicity; Mrs. Edith Bell, 89 Chicago-av, treasurer; Mrs. Phillips Manus, 263 S. Eureka-av, assisting historian.

For their Christmas project the club filled a Christmas box and sent it to the General Ashford Hospital, White Sulphur, W. Va., where injured soldiers are recovering from battle wounds.

V-Christmas Greetings

In recent weeks we have received several V-mail Christmas greetings from 'over there.'

From North Africa, Cpl. Kelman Fuller, Cpl. Jack Thrush and Pvt. James Reed join in sending their greetings, depicted with an African scene.

Somewhere in Sicily, a greeting is written by Robert W. Rose, assistant editor of a weekly paper, the Navy 187. This message, I feel, was intended for all those having sons in the service, and is as follows:

"With this special Christmas edition greeting, the weekly paper of Navy 187, on behalf of all officers and men, sends heartiest wishes for a Merry Christmas and a gay New Year to you at home.

"We know that on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day, and again at New Year's time, there will be strained lips and faces, taut nerves and turbulent hearts, at home as well as here. We will miss you and we know that when festivities begin—when the tree is decorated, when the turkey is carved, when presents are opened and toasts are spoken, there will be vacant spaces in hearts and in houses.

"But in a larger sense, we will be with you and you with us. Our thoughts will be where you are and we will wish you happiness and cheer as never before. The miles of sea and land which stand between us are not the final barrier. Rather, in this quest for victory and peace, we are united, all of us, by bonds of faith and hope which could never exist were we at your side.

"Our experiences here have blessed us with a new birth of appreciation for our country, our homes, and our loved ones. Great numbers of us have never before realized how precious America really is. We know and we shall remember these things forever.

"Perhaps this knowledge is our special Christmas gift for 1943."

They also sent this poem, written by M. C. Emory, C.-Yeoman:

CHRISTMAS—1943

'Twas the "Night before Christmas"
And to the men "Over Here"
Their thoughts were on loved ones
To bring them good cheer.

They thought of their sweethearts,
Of mother and dad—
Some prayed for their loved ones
With hearts that were sad.

They thought of their ships
On stations ashore and afloat,
And the ones who were missing
Brought a lump to their throat.

They thought of "The Stockings
All hung in a row."
Of "St. Nick" on the roof-tops
His face "all a-glow."

Their "Russells" and "Patsys"
Their "Johnnies" and "Jeans',
Received "Merry Christmases"
That night in their dreams.

With smiles on their faces
To hide eyes filled with tears;
They thought of the blessings
That would come with the years.

Please, God, in Your Mercy
May this terrible war cease—
And "The Night before Christmas"
TO A WEARY WORLD—
BRING PEACE.

Christmas Brings To Mind

Christmas always brings to my mind each year a poem which my mother taught me when I was quite small. I can only recall the verses of it—the title has long been lost, as has been the name of the author or authoress.

'Santa Claus came down my chimney'
And he left a great big tree,
With lots of things upon it,
Most all of them for me.

When my mother took the tinsels
From the branches, one by one,
I could hardly keep from laughing
'Twas such a splendid fun.

Books and blocks and games and candy,
Noah's Ark, a horn, a drum,
Tell you what—I wish that Christmas
More than once a year would come.

Papa says and so does mama
"Christmas ain't the best of jokes."

OLDER THAN CHRISTMAS

At the time of the Nativity, pharmacy was already an ancient profession. Gold, Frankincense and Myrrh — three gifts of the Magi—frequently appeared in prescriptions of that day. Gold no longer is used for medicinal purposes, but the reputation enjoyed by MURPHY'S constitutes a gold standard by which to measure prescription service.

Come To Church Christmas Day

ENJOY the richest fulfillment of Christmas . . by attending the church of your choice when Christmas morning breaks. Obtain freedom from the worries of the present . . . gain new hope for the future. Meditate in prayerful silence as the notes of the organ float from the chancel. Rejoice again in the glory of the Nativity; join your friends and neighbors in the singing of the old traditional Christmas carols.

Your church is the bulwark of democracy. There does freedom exist and flourish. By regular attendance at church we can better mobilize our spiritual forces against Axis denials of faith. Come to church Christmas morning and every Sunday thereafter. "For what is a man profited if he shall gain the whole world and lose his soul?" "God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble." Let the word of God penetrate our consciousness anew, guide us in the dark and troublous days ahead.

Better Gardens For Next Year

Franklin County gardeners should be making their plans to produce more foodstuffs in 1944, according to Professor T. H. Parks, of Ohio State University.

Coupled with this warning, Professor Parks gave a salute to the twenty million 1943 victory gardeners for their estimated production of eight million tons of food. He points out that many of these individuals were having their first experience with gardens.

"The problem of 1944 will be to produce even more food in home and victory gardens," Parks says. "Approximately 30 per cent of our commercial vegetables will be needed and taken for shipment to our armed services and to our Allies."

The increase, according to the Ohio State faculty member, should be accomplished by more and better gardens, not necessarily larger ones. He continues:

"Next year the garden should be only so large as the owner can care for effectively. Gardens larger than can be tended well may not produce as much as a smaller tract well cared for.

"Next year we may not have such a favorable growing season as in 1943. Drouth years make it more difficult to combat certain insect pests. As in 1943, we shall have only a limited supply of the most efficient insecticides—rotenone."

Most common mistakes of this year's new gardeners, he said, were that they—

Attempted to grow a garden on soil not suitable.

Attempted to grow some crops not suited for small gardens.

Failed to provide suitable spraying or dusting equipment.

Failed to recognize and combat the early appearance of insects.

Over-applied insecticides.

"Accepted advice from anybody," resulting at times in using the wrong materials or methods.

A New Christmas bringing you New Joy is our wish for you this season.

THE GIFT

A mother was watching on Christmas night,
Rocking her babe by the candle light,
And she lifted her eyes in the gathering gloom,
For the Christchild stood in her lowly room.

"What shall I give to thy child?" he said,
Softly caressing the sleeper's head,
"Nay!" said the mother, "O angel guest,
Give her what ever thou deemest best!"

"What shall I give her, O mother mild?
Ask what thou wilt for thy little child.
Shall I kiss her brow that her eyes may shine,
With a beauty that men will call divine?

Shall I touch her lips that they may flow,
With songs the sweetest the world may know?"
"Nay" said the mother, "that will not stay,
Songs are forgotten and hair turns gray!"

"But what shall I give her?" He asked again,
"Ask, and thou shalt not ask in vain."
And the mother lifted her eyes above,
"Give her purity, truth and love!"

And the Christchild turned to her soft and mild,
"Thou has chosen the best for thy little child;
Be not afraid tho' life be sore,
I shall be with her forever more."

—F. E. Weatherly

CHRISTMAS EVE, 1943

The Christ Child's eyes are filled with tears,
His head is bowed in grief.
The world he loves is a battlefield
Torn beyond belief.

Let the guns be silent!
Planes both near and far
Withhold their rain of death!
Tonight, let all men
Follow the Star.

—Mamie C. Knepper.

BEACON

"No room! No room!" Thus destiny made
Of the inn a symbol of lack and loss;
And of the stable a center of light
Undimmed except by the gleaming cross
That shines on the road where His feet trod—
The road to awareness and so—to God.

—Vida S. Adkins.

Russian Influence

When the "North wind doth blow" Miss America ties a babushka under her pert little chin and says "what of it?" These three-cornered shawls, worn peasant-fashion over the curly mop, keep head and ears warm in the most disagreeable weather.

One babushka can be made to last all winter if it is given an occasional wash. As most of them are made of soft wool, either woven or knitted, they should be laundered gently. A few dunks in lukewarm suds, a couple of rinses, and the job is done. The knit headgear should be dried flat. The triangles and squares of woven material may be hung on a line or rod. Press lightly when dry.

WRITE A LETTER!

Is your husband, brother, or sweetheart the "forgotten soldier?" There is a forgotten soldier at every mail call. Have you ever seen the face of one of these men who stands at mail call, waiting patiently, while all of his buddies get letters from home? It isn't a pretty sight. It is a look most approaching to a MAN. He looks lost and unforsaken.

After the last name is called and he is still empty-handed the forgotten soldier shuffles away from the crowd of boys who are reading their letters from home. He walks slowly then he breaks into a run and goes where he can be alone. What his thoughts are you can't be sure but there is no reason why any soldier should be forgotten.

Don't forget your Soldier, Sailor, Coast Guard or Marine. He's not forgetting you. It takes so little time to write a page at least once a day.

Don't delay, write today.

David E. Ramsey, age 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lydia Dickerson, 233 S. Eureka-av, and Donley E. Paul, age 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donley J. Paul, 480 S. Warren-av, are taking their basic training at the Naval Training Station, Great Lakes, Ill. Upon completing their recruit training they will be home on a nine-day leave.

Corporal Cecil E. Parker has graduated from the advance army finance school at Wake Forest College, North Carolina. He will arrive home this morning for a 15-day furlough. A 1939 graduate of West High School, Cpl. Parker is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Parker, 303 S. Richardson-av. He will leave Jan. 4 for a base in Florida.

Three Hilltop men were recently promoted in the Ohio State University ROTC. Joseph W. Murnane, 2023 W. Broad-st, and William C. Schmelzer, 281 N. Ogden-av, were promoted to sergeants. Harry J. Andrews, 162 S. Burgess-av, was promoted to a corporal.

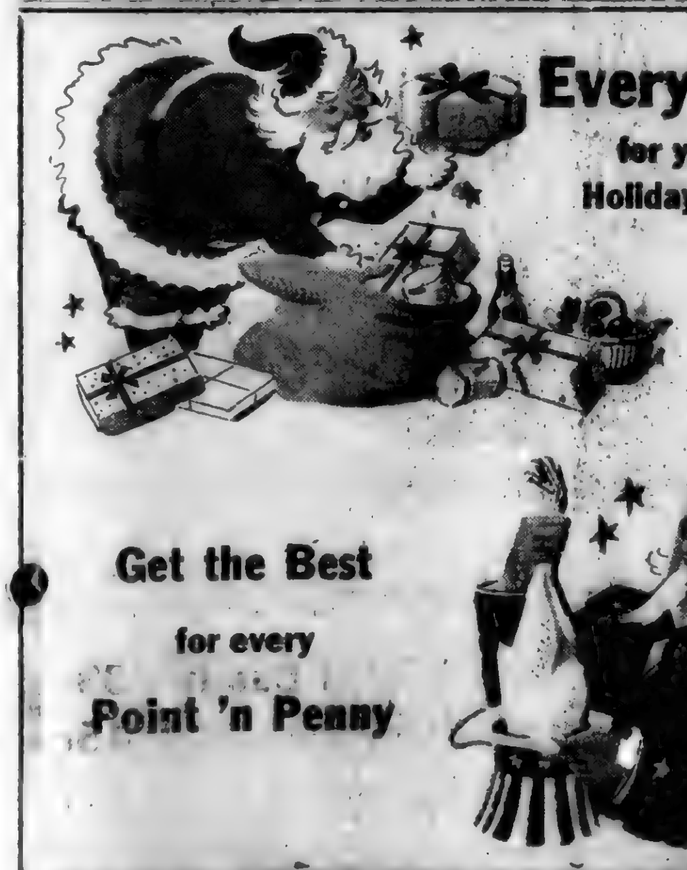
Local Theatres Closed Christmas Eve.

Rivoli and Ritz Theatres, located at Oakley-av and Broad-st and 2568 Sullivant-av, respectively, and Westmont Theatre, 2685 W. Broad-st, will be closed Christmas eve. They will open Christmas day, however, for matinee and evening performances.

Receive Greetings From Son In China

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Blanch, 172 Binns-blvd, received a Christmas card this week from their son, Bob, who is serving in China. On the inside of the card are holiday greetings in Chinese with pictures of the U. S. Air Corps insignia, the insignia of the Air Transport Command and of the shields used by the American boys serving in China. The card appeared to be hand made.

Care For Snowsuits To Get Good Wear



Snowsuits for children seldom stay clean very long. To get the best use of these and other outdoor winter clothes, teach the children to hang them over a line indoors as soon as they have been removed. If they can be washed immediately after getting dirty, so much the better, but if they must be worn again before washing, be sure they are hung and dried.

When washing snowclothes, watch the temperature of the water carefully. If the garments are made of wool, or partly of wool, the water must be lukewarm, and must be kept so. Whisk up two or three inches of suds, not more because this would be waste. Immerse the clothes, wash them gently, supporting them when lifting them from the wash to the rinse water. After a thorough rinsing, also in lukewarm water, place the clothes on hangers, and let them dry. Keep them away from furnace, radiator, or stove. A quick roll in a thick cloth or towel, to blot up some of the excess water, will hasten the drying and prevent dripping.

If pressing is necessary, do it with a moderate iron over a dampened pressing cloth. Caps and helmets made of wooly materials can be dried to shape over an inverted bowl. Knitted scarfs or mittens should be dried flat. They will not need pressing.

OHIO IS THE BEST

I have been he said everywhere men tread
Have traveled the states around,
Along the coast where they freeze or roast
Handicaps every where I found.
Traveled in Idaho, Texas and old Mexico
In Maine among the tall pine
Stood on the ground where gold was found

In the heyday of forty nine.
In Florida I froze my nose and toes,
Saw a hurricane sweep the plane,
Saw the wake of a California earthquake
I will never go there.
Boarded a train in the rain at Spokane,
Was bit by a hound at Puget Sound,
Both early and late I will state and debate
Ohio is the best all around.

CHRISTMAS GREETING SECTION

Vol. XVII, No. 34 | The Hilltop, Columbus, Ohio, Friday, December 24, 1943 | Total No. 1291

Merry Christmas, Son . . . .

It's Christmas Eve, son . . . the kiss at trimmed and all ag low . . . the Lawsons and the Wrights have just said goodnight, and Mother and I are alone.

We miss you plenty, boy. Just as we did last year when you were at camp and we got your wire saying you couldn't get leave to come home. But there's this difference . . .

Last year we were looking BACKWARD; dreaming of Christmases past . . . harking back through years to your first Christmas when you neglected your new gifts to play with your old shoe . . . to the Christmas when Uncle Frank spent the whole day on the floor playing with your new electric train . . . to the Christmas, not too many years ago, when you got the chemical set and nearly blew up the house.

Last year it seemed—well, as though some of the happiest days of our lives had gone, never to return.

But this year, we KNOW that the happiest day of our lives is still to come. This year we are looking AHEAD, waiting for the Christmas when you and your Mary are here to help trim the tree; we are thinking of the Christmas not so far away when you will be home.

And though you're farther away than ever this year—though there's a lot of blue water between you and our front door here at home, we know that every day that passes brings a little closer the great day when you will come back to all of us.

We can never forget those Christmases Past; but the joy of Christmas Present is made more real this year by the growing certainty of a Happier Christmas Yet to Come.

Merry Christmas, son.

Thots oft expressed proclaim
Their worth

Christmas Carols

Silent Night, Holy Night

Silent night, holy night,
All is calm, all is bright.
Round yon virgin mother and child,
Holy infant so tender and mild,
Sleep in Heavenly peace,
Sleep in Heavenly Peace.

O Little Town of Bethlehem

O little town of Bethlehem,
How still we see thee lie!
Above thy deep and dreamless sleep
The silent stars go by:
Yet in thy dark streets shineth
The everlasting Light;
The hopes and fears of all the years
Are met in thee tonight.

Hark! The Herald Angels Sing

Hark! The herald angels sing,
"Glory to the newborn King:
Peace on earth and mercy mild,
God and sinners reconciled!"
Joyful, all ye nations, rise,
Join the triumph of the skies;
With angelic host proclaim,
"Christ is born in Bethlehem!"
Hark! the herald angels sing,
"Glory to the newborn King."

I Came Upon The Midnight Clear

It came upon the midnight clear,
That glorious song of old.
From angels bending near the earth
To touch their harps of gold;
"Peace on the earth, good-will to men,
From heaven's all gracious King;"
The world in solemn stillness lay
To hear the angels sing.

Joy to the World

Joy to the World! the Lord is come;
Let earth receive her King;
Let every heart prepare Him room;
And heaven and nature sing,
And heaven and nature sing,
And heaven and nature sing.

He rules the world with truth and grace,
And makes the nations prove
The glories of His righteousness,
And wonders of His love,
And wonders of His love,
And wonders of His love.

Away In The Manger

Away in the manger,
No crib for His bed,
The little Lord Jesus
Lay down His wee head:
The stars in the heavens
Looked down where He lay,
The little Lord Jesus,
The little Lord Jesus,
Asleep on the hay.

The cattle were lowing—
The poor Baby wakes;
But little Lord Jesus,
No crying He makes;
I love Thee, Lord Jesus,
Look down from the sky,
And stay by my cradle,
To watch lullaby.

Be near me, Lord Jesus,
I ask Thee to stay
Close by me forever,
And love me, I pray;
Bless all the dear children
In Thy tender care,
And take us to heaven,
To live with Thee there.

The First Noel

The first Noel,
The angels did say
Was to certain poor shepherds
In fields as they lay,
In fields where they lay
Keeping their sheep
On a cold winter's night
That was so deep.

Noel, Noel, Noel, Noel,
Born is the King of Israel.

At this time, when common tasks begin to glimmer with new glory, we pause to wish you all the Christmas joys this joyous season can bring.

Modern Poetry

CAPELLA

Now like an alabaster lantern hung
And one is wrapped in peaceful mood and dreams
Of great celestial anthems being sung.
And all the greater planets are among
The stars that sing; and sweetly play the themes
So inexpressibly divine, with beams
That are alike tones of carillons, far-flung.
For now when shepherd's mark the time with care,
And guard their flocks so very tenderly,
Auriga lifts the dear one from the fold
A little higher. And it seems its wee
Heart shines like some great symbol, to declare
The greater shepherd's love, just as of old.
—Rena Winter Montgomery.

PORTENT

When Mary's heart pulsed forth the first Noel
And Magi offered frankincense and myrrh,
I wonder did the God-Child hear a knell
Resounding through the raptured soul of her?

When Joseph in his joy echoed the strain
Blazoned by stars and herald seraphim,
Did Infant eyes percieve a shadowed bane—
A cross the halo's glory seemed to limn?

MODERN POETRY

"EMBERS"

I can see the tall white candle
As we climbed the curving stair
I remember gold light falling
Thick on mother's red-gold hair.

I can feel her slim hand holding
My small hand serenly snug.
Hear her foot-fall, my feet treading
Softly on the velvet rug.

Once upon breathless evening—
Just one time in all the year—
We would walk the dark together,
It was fun with her so near!

Every shadow grew more friendly
With her in the candle-light.
Every wind that tapped and whimpered
Moved more gently through the night.

While she whispered me a story
Of a Shepherd and a Star
Of a young Madonna sleeping
Lovely as the angels are!

All that long dark night grew splendid.
Every time my heart would beat
Each small pulse would pause to listen
For the sound of angel feet . . .

For the lift of their light voices
And the sweep of their wide wings
For the newest hymn from Heaven . . .
That the tallest angel sings!
—by Mary Ellen Jackson.

"UNITY"

The story has been told so many times
Of Christ's nativity that sacred night;
How clotted darkness brooded over bleak
Judean hills; how shepherds watching there
Saw the sky suddenly throbbing with bright wings
Of silver light, that came from one high star
Which shone above a crumbling stable where
The infant King lay, sleeping in a stall.
The story has been told so many times
How three wise men came bringing gifts for Him—
Such heavy gifts for baby hands to hold!
How angels, heralding the miracle,
Sang "Glory in the highest; peace on earth!"
As their song echoes once more down the years,
May it bring God's own peace to aching hearts
And good will to a weary, war-sick world.
—Esther Weakley.

WAR AT CHRISTMAS

Because some heart forgot for Him
A manger to prepare,
And only left a cross within
To hail His advent there.
—Jean Elaine Ett.

ONCE IN A DECEMBER TWILIGHT

Once in a December twilight
To the village of Bethlehem
Came two travelers seeking shelter.
But there was no room for them
In the inn. The house was crowded
With its guests of noble birth,
Magistrates of mighty Caesar,
Rich and honored of the earth.
In this still December twilight
It comes to me with a start
That the little Baby Jesus
Knocked at the door of my heart.
Is there room for Him to enter,
Or have foolish things of earth
Filled my soul, that should be singing
Praises for the Savior's birth?
—Oliver Weaver Ridenour.

HIS MOTHER

She must have marveled that
His baby hands could cling
So sturdily, wee fingers curl in grace
To clasp a fragment of her shawl.
She must have counselled Joseph, last the babbling
Of foreign tongues intrude the Holy Place
And desecrate the sacred stall.

Perhaps she tugged a little at each swaddling fold
To shield His tiny face from wisps of hay;
To His first cry of hunger wept:
His new-born eyes she shaded, while the white star rolled
Across the centuries, new light to play
In haloes, while the Baby slept.
—Jean Comeans Long.

Rose of the Year

What is so rare as a completely honest person, especially during a holiday season!

The rose of the year should be given to Mrs. Dewey Stout who returned a large sum of money to the bank last Friday after she had found it scattered on N. Wayne-av.

Notes Here and There

Habit is a strange thing. Those employes who are called upon to answer a telephone often with a label answer, frequently do so while not at work. Strangest incident however, was when a man sat down to the dinner table 'tother evening and in starting to give the blessing, said "Jones speaking."

Numerous service men and women were at home over the Christmas holiday . . . Monty Lambert arrived home the 22nd, bringing a puppy for his baby son, Roger . . Johnny O'Neil rated among the highest in his aviation cadet training at Keesler Field . . . if you haven't already heard it, Jean Young has enlisted in the WAVES . . . a Hilltop family recently became parents of a four-year old girl . . .

In many homes this year Christmas was a nice one, if not a happy one.

Subscribe Now To Record

Within two weeks, students from the West High School journalism and athletic departments will complete their second annual drive for subscriptions to the Hilltop Record. The drive conducted by them will end on Jan. 15.

Each subscriber living in Columbus will find his name and address stencilled in the upper left hand corner of this paper. IS IT CORRECT IN EVERY WAY? If not, please tear this corner off and mail it together with the corrected name and address to the subscription manager, Hilltop Record, 2465 W. Broad-st.

If you subscribed during the campaign last year through West High School, regardless of the actual date of your subscription it did not start until Jan. 15, 1943, whether paid for a year or by the month. If paid by the month, and during the recent weeks you resubscribed and paid to West High School for your renewal, this money applies on your renewal and you still owe and should pay the regular Record collector any balance due on the past twelve months.

There is a definite paper shortage. Your community paper has not as yet been affected by it due to the fact that a year ago at this time the paper was still being distributed free of charge into every home on the Hilltop. In the coming year there will no doubt be a limit placed on the paper supplied which will thereby cause a limitation to be placed on the subscription list. Now is the time to subscribe or renew your present subscription.

Your community paper is important and valuable to you as it brings you community advertising and news not supplied

Leo J. Vogel Retires From Postal Service

By Jean Young

After 35 years service with the United States Post Office Department the only really exciting thing that ever happened to Leo J. Vogel, who is retiring this week, was a fall on the ice. That seemed to have impressed him most when asked to tell any unusual experience he had had while carrying mail.

Vogel has been a familiar figure on the Hilltop the past 15 years since his route was confined to this area. In the last year or so he has delivered mail to business houses on Broad-st, and every time he would come in he had a greeting for everyone and a smile. He has also watched the anxious faces of people waiting for letters from their loved ones serving in the Armed Forces.

Vogel will be 63 when he makes his last trip today. After that he plans to rest.

The father of three children, Vogel makes his home at 138 S. Terrace-av with his family. He has one son in the service, Staff Sergeant Richard C. Vogel in aviation ordnance. Two children are at home. Paul, who is in the parcel post department and Margaret Mary.

INJURED IN FALL

Mrs. Frieda Price, 57, 3486 Sullivant-av, was in fair condition in Mt. Carmel Hospital Thursday after a fall down her basement stairs at 410 Columbia-av Wednesday night. She suffered a possible fracture of her left leg and bruises, Mathen said. She was given treatment by the emergency squad before being removed to the hospital.

While corduroy is drying it should be brushed occasionally with a whisk-broom or clothes-brush, to fluff up the nap. When completely dry, press lightly on the wrong side, padding the ironing board with a terrycloth towel. Brush in one direction as a final step.

Take an Essential Job at Curtiss-Wright

Helping increase the flow of Curtiss Helldiver dive bombers from our assembly lines will go a long way toward "getting it over, over there." The Navy needs more Helldivers to increase the load of destruction dropped on Jap and German. We need more men and women to help build them. Don't let inexperience keep you from this vital, urgent work. If you have the will to learn, we have the way—a short course in our Training School, 809 South Fourth Street. And you earn while you learn. Start the New Year right . . . at Curtiss-Wright!

AN IMPORTANT SUGGESTION

Oxen and mules were never understood,
Too slow, they said, to be any good,
They decided horses were also too slow,
Finally the street cars had to go,
The poor interurban was soon cast aside
Lingered awhile then finally died,
So I hereby make an important suggestion
Upon this very important question.

I would swing a carriage high in the air,
Give each cash fare an easy chair,
All windows and doors automatically close
Soon as the women powered their nose,
Then swing it around to each bargain store,
Return each fare to her kitchen door,
Like the money changers that take our dough,
And swish back our change to the floor below.

Post-War Dream Homes

Have you ever stopped to think what the home you may desire to purchase after the war could or would be made of? Prefabricated at the factory it would be delivered in sections and so designed that it could be erected in a few hours, supplied completely furnished if the home-owner so specified . . .

This new home would be made of sound-proof walls, floors and ceilings; outside walls factory-lined with insulation. Interiors of adjustable partitions to permit conversion of the rooms into various sizes and shapes. Floors scratch-proof, made of plastic or composition boards. Plastic doors opened by push-button control. Windows either of transparent plastic or non-breakable glass, or with glass which permits outward but not inward vision. Screens of nylon, or other plastics . . .

Lighting mainly concealed in the ceiling with flourescent lights for general illumination. Spot lights at various points in the ceiling to focus on particular places where brighter illumination is desired. This could be color lighting, adaptable to menta' moods . . .

A dream-home? Yes, but it can be done . . .

Return Gas Coupons To Ration Board On Sale Of Auto

Motorists and automobile dealers of the West Side were reminded today by Theo. Webb, chairman of the local War Price and Rationing Board 25-10 in Franklinton School, Sandusky and Broad sts, that the new plan designed to assure the return of outstanding gasoline ration coupons for all new and used automobiles and trucks that are sold is now in effect.

Persons buying new or used vehicles from anyone whether a dealer or a private individual are required to obtain a duplicate receipt from the seller in order to be eligible for a gasoline ration, Webb explained.

Under the plan, the owner of a vehicle intending to sell it must return to the board, in person or by mail, all unused ration coupons issued for the vehicle. After it receives the coupons the board will issue in duplicate a "receipt for surrendered gasoline rations." Both copies of this receipt together with the tire inspection record are to be given by the seller to the person buying the car or truck.

Like private individuals who sell their cars, automobile dealers are to obtain duplicate receipts from each car they have for sale, and will deliver both copies of the receipt to the buyer when a car is sold. By Jan. 11 each dealer must report his inventory as of Dec. 31 to the local board, and the board will send him a receipt, in duplicate, for each car reported by him.

The buyer of a vehicle is to give the original copy of the receipt to the State Motor Vehicle Registrar when applying for a new registration certificate. The duplicate copy of the receipt and the tire inspection record are to be given by the buyer to his local board when he applies for a new gasoline ration for his car.

Without this receipt the board could issue a new gasoline ration.

While gasoline rations always had to be surrendered upon the sale of a vehicle, the plan of transferring receipts when a car is sold, and requiring that the receipt be presented at local boards when application is made for a new ration, will bring about greater compliance with regulations. Since more than 200,000 vehicles change hands each month throughout the country, full compliance with these regulations will prevent the possible diversion of substantial amounts of gasoline to wasteful or unlawful uses.

Hilltop Leader Needed

West Side Block Leaders, under the district leadership of Mrs. L. C. Rinear, 289 Dakota-av., are making preparations to strengthen the Block Leader Service in order that it may be in readiness for the coming Fourth War Loan Drive and Blood Donor campaigns in the middle of January. In both of these drives the Block Leader Service will have the responsibility of covering the neighborhood divisions.

The Block Leader Service is a part of the War Services division of the Civilian Defense program— a simple method of community organization by which a block leader brings the current needs and opportunities of the war effort to people in her block.

West Side zone leaders working with Mrs. Rinear, who is one of the six city district leaders, are Mrs. Dale Johnston, 38 S. Cypress-av, zone 1, from the river to Princeton-av., and Mrs. Elmer Brophy, 655 S. Ogden-av, and Mrs. Lawrence Wisdom, 254 N. Harris-av., who are working together in zone 3, (West of Eureka-av). There is no zone leader for the area between Princeton-av. and Eureka-av. and such a person is vitally needed!

It is pointed out by these leaders that the fulfillment of the January program is one of the most important tasks of the war effort for both the Bond Drive and the campaign for Blood Donors, are of the utmost importance, and it is hoped that workers will be able to carry their information block-by-block, house-by-house, to increase the number of individual bonds sold and to build the blood plasma bank for the new high quota of the Franklin County Red Cross, thus help toward winning the war on the home front.

To meet the vital need, they are appealing for more volunteers to help them in covering the Hilltop community. If you are interested in getting information as to how you might serve in this war effort call Mrs. Rinear, AD 5407, or the Block Service Headquarters, Ma-2211, 263.

Upon completion of their training, trainees will receive $1752 per annum when assigned to positions at Air Service Command. Training will consist of 10 weeks at the local schools and two additional weeks at Air Service Command for orientation and military correspondence

All U. S. Civil Service recruiting offices in the areas allotted to the two schools will recruit and examine trainees. Final registration preliminary to induction of trainees will be under the direct supervision of representatives of the U. S. Civil Service Commission.

Means Action Here

U. S. Navy fliers make the headlines, but the men and women in the Columbus Curtiss-Wright factory make the Helldivers. These punishing air attacks on the Japs will continue as long as this plant continues to swell the stream of Helldiver dive bombers coming off the assembly lines.

Wouldn't you like to help by joining the patriotic men and women at Curtiss-Wright. We must have more workers to maintain and exceed production schedules. Can you think of anything more essential than building Helldivers?

Don't let inexperience in factory work keep you away. We quickly teach you the basic processes of airplane construction at our training center, 309 South Fourth Street, and you earn while you learn. In a few weeks you will be transferred to vital, urgent, interesting work at the fatory. Get in a personal rap at the Jap—help build Helldiver dive bombers.

SOPHISTICATED SIMPLICITY

FORERUNNER of the fencer-jacket trend for the coming season is the white fuille blouse adaptation designed to top long and short skirts or hostess pajamas. Simulating the new dropped shoulder line, CBS actress Mercedes ("I Love a Mystery") McCambridge appliques black scroll braid across the back and directs the decorative detail down the front to flatter a Victorian waist or take inches from a more robust figure. Dainty buttons are added to accent the graceful line of the V-shape bodice.

Ohio-Built Dive Bombers Pound Japs

Mighty Curtiss Helldiver dive bombers like this the U. S. Navy's new "Fists of the Fleet," have just been announced in action in the Pacific against the Japanese. Carrying a heavier bomb load further and faster than any previous dive bomber, the powerful new planes are being produced by thousands of Ohioans at the Columbus, O., plant of the Curtiss-Wright Corporation. The Helldiver is equipped with a Wright Cyclone engine and Curtiss electric propeller.

Rationing Notes

Fresh Ham Up One Point

Fresh ham was boosted one point per pound in ration value, but January point-values for meats, fats, cheese and other brown-stamp foods, which became effective Sunday, Jan. 2, remain virtually unchanged.

Butter remains at 16 points per pound, the same as it has been for the past several months, as does margarine which is listed at six points. Likewise, point-values for all beef, veal, lamb and pork cuts, with the exception of fresh hams and a few miscellaneous items, remain at present low levels during January. Cheeses also remain unchanged.

Movement of fresh hams has increased considerably since Spare Stamp No. 1 in Book Four was validated for the purchase of pork, and it is no longer necessary to keep the one-point differential between fresh and smoked ham. Spare Stamp No. 2 expires midnight, Jan. 15, and is worth five points towards the purchase of fresh pork.

Green Stamp Food Reduced

Sharp cuts in the green-stamp cost of canned snap beans, peas, tomatoes and frozen fruits and vegetables became effective Jan. 3, the Office of Price Administration said today in announcing January point values for rationed foods. At the same time jams, preserves and rationed (non-citrus) marmalades will increase two points to a total of eight points per pound.

The reductions in the point values of frozen foods, most of which are cut to zero, is designed to move these foods out of storage into the hands of consumers thus freeing badly needed freezer space for the storage of large amounts of pork now coming into market. With the exception of frozen corn, peas, and lima beans, which remain unchanged, all frozen vegetables are made point-free.

On the frozen fruit list, apples, applesauce and rhubarb are also made point-free, while frozen blueberries and huckleberries are cut from 12 to six points per pound. Frozen fruit juices are also reduced to zero point values.

Endorse Your Gas Coupons Now

Gasoline stations are not permitted to accept ration coupons that are not endorsed with the license number and state of registration on the face of each coupon. Save yourself time and trouble by endorsing all of your coupons as soon as you get them.

Planning to Sell Your Car?

If you are planning to sell your car, you must send or take any remaining gasoline coupons issued for the vehicle to your local War Price and Rationing Board. You'll get a receipt in duplicate. You give one copy of this receipt to the purchaser of the car; he'll need it to obtain gasoline. About 300,000 vehicles change hands each month—involving hundreds of thousands of gallons of gasoline in unexpired gas coupons. Unless OPA can keep a check on these coupons, many of them will find their way into black market hands.

Sugar Stamp No. 30

Office of Price Administration today announced that housewives' sugar ration will remain unchanged through March, with sugar stamp No. 29 in Book 4 expiring Jan. 15, and No. 30 becoming valid Jan. 16 for five pounds of sugar which must last two and a half months until April 1.

WRITE A LETTER!

Is your husband, brother, or sweetheart the "forgotten soldier?" There is a forgotten soldier at every mail call. Have you ever seen the face of one of these men who stands at mail call, waiting patiently, while all of his buddies get letters from home? It isn't a pretty sight. It is a look most unbecoming to a MAN. He looks lost and unforsaken.

After the last name is called and he is still empty-handed the forgotten soldier shuffles away from the crowd of boys who are reading their letters from home. He walks slowly then he breaks into a run and goes where he can be alone. What his thoughts are you can't be sure but there is no reason why any soldier should be forgotten.

Don't forget your Soldier, Sailor, Coast Guard or Marine. He's not forgetting you. It takes so little time to write a page at least once a day.

Don't delay, write today.

AS OTHERS SEE US

If we saw ourself as others see us
Even if we had riches and fame,
Everyday with ourself we'd have a fuss
And wouldn't know who's to blame.
I see enough flaws in the looking glass
With these two eyes of mine,
If I saw with the eyes of all who pass,
My hopes would fade and decline.

I would rather go along without knowing
What others may see in me
If I saw all the winds that are blowing
I might see too much inequity.
I would rather go along ignorant and free,
A servant for Uncle Sam,
If I ever saw myself as others see me
I might fold up like a dead clam.

Jack Logsdon, S 1/c. His name was submitted by his mother, Mrs. Calvin C. Logsdon, who formerly lived at 163 Columbian-av.

Your money goes into battle every time you invest in War Bonds—goes up to the German lines in the form of tanks, planes, assault boats as pictured here in the Mediterranean area.

Success of our troops depends upon the help they get from the home front. Bullets fired yesterday won't win tomorrow's battle. War Bonds bought last month won't pay for our next offensive. Give your dollars action: Buy More War Bonds.

"Why Should We Sigh"
Why should we fear the passing of time,
We are getting closer home
To a place of rhyme cheerful and sublime
From which none care to roam.
To our home sweet home beyond the sky
No wondering around in a haze
So why oh why should any one sigh
And pine for childhood days.

To childhood days of the long ago
And temporary pleasures there,
I want to go where clear waters flow
Free from worry and care.
To my home up yonder, permanent glory
That is what I hope to attain
And daily repeat this beautiful story
I am ready for that train.

Fillin' In

By Eileen Griggs

Heard over the radio the other day.

Eat it all,
Wear it out,
Make it do
Or do without.

This expresses the sentiment of many, or should, for the duration.

Oh, my gad, we called the venerable Perry Morison a "former" Hilltopper in a story last week. Eleven neighbors called asking "What the heck!"

Post-War Fabrics

Along the line of post-war planning will be included the production of textiles and clothing.

Imagine textiles derived from coal, air, water, natural gas, cellulose, glass, soy beans, synthetic rubber. Even potato starch. These synthetic materials could be produced in sheets, not in fiber or thread form.

Such fabrics could be treated to render them harmless from moisture, fire, wrinkling, shrinking and moths.

Women will delight when the day comes that their hosiery will be made of artificial silk or glass fibers, strong, yet as fine as a spider's web.

Thanks For Your Scrap!—

Thanks to all who bundled their scrap paper and donated it to the scrap drive conducted this week. The schools will net about $1200 from your patriotic effort—and the boys "over there"—much more than that.

Woo, woo, woo

Comes a tale to this department that makes us dewy-eyed and quivers our heart.

Jeannie liked the lad, and he liked her. He returned from overseas and their fondness was ripening via the mails. Letters flew thick and fast, and as of the present report, we expect them to fly faster shortly.

Yesterday was no different than usual. Jean got two letters. Lovingly she broke the seal and unfolded the neatly written page.

"My dearest Kathleen," it began. . . .

Jean is YOUNG enough to join the WAVES, so time will heal her sorrow!

Fire Destroys Home On Binns Blvd.

Families of Ray Ruffing and John Reidenbaugh, 300 Binns-blvd, were rudely startled Thursday afternoon of this week when four fire trucks rolled up to their residence, sirens screaming.

A passerby, seeing columns of smoke and flame pouring through the roof of the home, had called fire trucks, while the occupants of the house were busy with household duties, unaware of the flames.

Before firemen could control the fire, the top of the house had burned and the inside was gutted. A few articles of furniture were saved from the downstairs and rooms, but the contents of the third floor were completely destroyed.

Cause of the blaze had not been determined Thursday.

101 Tons Of Paper Collected

The waste paper collection for Columbus took a booming upward surge this week when Hilltop schools released their students from Tuesday morning classes to canvas the community for old magazines and papers.

Far and ahead of any of the other Columbus schools, Hilltop boys and girls rounded up more than 101 tons of the scrap in one morning of work.

Here was a stark reminder that the youth of this community hasn't forgotten about brothers and fathers who are serving their country in the armed forces.

With rabid intent they worked all morning Tuesday collecting scrap paper for the national scrap drive. Even the girls were out working in their slacks and babuschakas. It was the topic of conversation throughout the community how hard and speedily the children were working. Nearly every student participated. Their loads were collected and carted back to the schools on wagons.

West Jr. High School led the local schools, as well as the city, with a total of 54,840 pounds. Close behind was John Burroughs with 46,235. Other schools reported the following: West Mound, 4,830; Starling Jr. High, 23,570; West Broad, 20,090; Skidmore, 2,135; Dana Ave., 16,125; St. Mary Magdalene, 16,045, and St. Aloysius, 4,405.

This totals up to 101 tons.

The schools received $12 per ton for the scrap These funds will be used in various ways at the different schools The West Junior money, totalling almost $300, will be turned over to Boy Scout Troop 45, Dr H. H Reighley, principal said.

Xmas Day Overseas Related

Many parents are still wondering how their sons who are overseas spent their Christmas day. One of the first letters to reach us describing Christmas day overseas was from Cpl. Harold L. Steele, son of Mr and Mrs. O. D. Steele, 23 S Terrace-av Cpl. Steele is a graduate of West High School and has been serving with the American forces in Italy for the past several months.

His letter follows:

"Christmas Night, 1943
Somewhere in Italy.

"Our day's work is done, and we've just finished a tremendous turkey dinner and so now I'll attempt to sit down here and write you of the latest happenings. All the guys around here are noisy as the dickens and so if my letter doesn't make sense in spots you'll know why.

"We now have a regular day off and mine is Friday so I had yesterday off In the morning a friend and I went to town for awhile We got back in time for lunch. After lunch we just laid around on our beds and took life easy. In the evening, nine of us were invited over to an Italian family's home for chicken dinner Talk about a feed- man' we were stuffed They fed us all kinds of delicacies -- really good. We arrived back at our place at 12:30, all of us in pretty good shape. That concluded my day off for this week

"This morning, Christmas, we were awakened at seven by the aroma of hot cakes and ham, so we didn't linger long in bed.

Bucks Beat Alumni

Last Friday evening the Cowboys defeated the experienced but rusty Alumni team by a score of 56-28.

In every phase of the game the Bucks proved superior and racked up buckets almost at will. The old timers had considerable height but the speed and cleverness of the Cowboys made it too tough and wore them down.

Leading 24-12 at the half and increasing their lead all the way with Jim Bell pacing his teammates with 12 points, Blackwell and Humes closely following 9. Lanky Hurd who stands 6-6 and Mitchell len the losers with 7 points each.

The same fellows who played the reserve game had to play the varsity also, as so many former Alumni players are in service. West reserves also won in a close battle, 45-43.

Tuesday evening, on the Cowboy court, the Hilltoppers won their first league encounter, trimming East's Tigers 44-38.

Trailing 15-11 at the half, the Bucks began hitting from all corners and set a blistering pace which the Bengals couldn't match. Fouls were numerous, and both Humes and Blackwell were ejected from the battle, but the former hit the nets for 14 points before departing for the showers. Buckingham garneted 12, as did Curfey of East.

— Letters — To the Editor

Editor,
Hilltop Record:

We have listened to various accounts of the political Brass Hats, news comentators and writers, on the topic of the soldiers vote. In a letter from an overseas veteran who has served overseas for two years we were told that many people back home would get a rude awakening when they did, see just how much the soldier on foreign service knew about conditions back home.

It would seem from his remarks that all this careful planning to keep them in ignorance of the actual mess that has been made of the home front, has gone for nothing for in some way, either through the letters of the folks at home or by word of mouth from men who are constantly being sent from the camps in this counry to foreign service. These men are a lot better informed on domestic issues than many of us who have deliberately closed our eyes to actual conditions and contended that "the King can do no wrong."

As an officer in an active veterans organization I write to many men on foreign service in every land where our troops are now stationed, from Alaska to India, and I was agreeably surprised to learn that news of the home front has in some way seeped through the censors to each of them. One of these active service veterans informs me that these men do know what they are fighting for and they are as much interested in keeping "the America they knew, as they knew it" as they are in winning this war. We know from active experience that active service gives a man a view point that is not clouded by political sentiment. These men living close to the realities of life and death get many strong convictions that political oratory will not shake.

Many of these men who are actually fighting this war had no real political convictions when they left this nation and they are now forming their own beliefs along lines of thought that are based on realities. America as they knew it; is a lot dearer to them than it is to the fellow in the defense plant who has never left the safe confines of his own nation. We may expect a drastic up-set of some well laid political plans if these men on foreign service are permitted to vote in the 1944 election, if such votes are counted as these men actually cast them.

OUR OWN FLAG UNFURLED

We are a Nation of small localities
Who have a mind of our own.
Indifferent to stylish formalities
Bowing to no King on a throne.
Localities an independent neighborhood
Standing on its own business feet
Each one in command of his own land
Proud of our buildings and street.

A man said if our Natuon enters the war
The state of Texas will go in too,
And that's the spirit from shore to shore
In a democracy loyal and true;
Behind the concept of every neighborhood
Is this concept for a better World
Let each one command his own stock and land
His flag of creed and craft unfurled.

Sailor Writes Verses For Sons On Xmas Day

Chief Petty Officer Ralph Massie, who since suffering injuries when the Japs attacked Pearl Harbor, has seen action in other war theatres, is home on furlough. A former Hilltopper, his family now lives at 862 Billows-av.

The Massies formerly lived at San Pedro, Calif., where Massie was a carpenter's mate on the U.S.S. Vestal, a repair boat. Later he was sent with the fleet to Honolulu. Following his recuperation after the Pearl Harbor disaster, Massie was again assigned to active duty.

Mrs. Massie, with their four year old son John, returned to Columbus to live with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Massie, 120 Dakota-av. There a second son Tommy, was born.

On Christmas day, on his ship somewhere in the South Pacific, Massie composed the following verses:

Their ages are
But two and four,
They are but little boys.
I set their worth
But heaven and earth.
They are my earthly joys.

Their rust red hair
Shines in the glare
Of the soft Ohio sun,
And bright blue eyes
Like summer skies
Bring mirth to everyone.

Both full of pride
They stand, beside
Their mother at her ask
"Their daddy, perhaps Is fighting the Japs"
They tell to all who ask

Their eyes grow bright
With a great delight
When I call them to my knee,
And tell them tales
Of wind and gales
I saw in the southern sea.

[illegible]
To keep alive
The pride they have in me

To the People of this Community

KILL OR BE KILLED

United States Marines paid the stiffest price in human life per square yard for the capture of Tarawa, vital Pacific outpost.

It was kill or be killed. Your boys did not flinch when they ran into the deadliest fire power along the beaches of this important Gilbert Island stronghold.

This is dirty, bloody and costly, as are all the many which must be made before Tokyo and Berlin are pounded into dust and ashes.

What are you going to back up the boys? Remember these are boys from this very community, perhaps from your very home. Ten Hilltop boys were among the 58 candidates who completed their work for the highest rank in Scouting, and were awarded the Eagle Badge last Sunday afternoon at the semi-annual Boy Scout Eagle Court of Honor, Memorial Hall, before an estimated crowd of 1400 parents and friends of Scouting.

The Hon. Paul L. Selby, Chairman of the Advancement Committee of the Central Ohio Area Council presided. He was assisted by members of the executive board and Silver Beaver Scouters.

In addition to the Eagle awards, badges for Second Class, First Class, Star, Life and Eagle Palms were presented by Dr. Homer R. Cotterman, Ralph M. Gantz, H. R. Hill and Irving P. Olmsted, Advancement Chairmen of the four Franklin County Districts, and by Dr. Bland L. Stradley, Executive Vice President of the Council. Merit Badges were presented by Ensign Gareth Gilbert, United States Naval Air Corps, an Eagle Scout of the Council.

Because of wartime influences, advancement to the Eagle rank in the Boy Scouts of America is considered a signal honor, even more so than in normal times. The Scout program now includes many projects which fit into civilian defense activities, and Eagle Scouts are all particularly well trained to act in any emergency.

The following are Southwest District Scouts who received their Eagle badges. Harold Spring and Theodore Coburn, Troop 18, Glenwood M. E. Church; William Herbert, James Schreiner, Harold Garver, Donald Doran, Troop 29, West Park Methodist Church; James Slager, Willis Losey and Paul Ricketts, Troop 45, West Junior High School; and Don McVay, Troop 161, Camp Chase Post, American Legion.

Scoutmasters of these troops are: Clayton Stickel, Troop 18; C. O. Rawlings, Troop 29; George Heltz, Troop 45; C. C. Cope, Troop 161.

The Lookout

by John Wolfe

Purely Personal Pish-Posh and Piffle: I always thought WALTER DEAN should have been a school teacher . . . Wonder what Sam Willis was thinking about as he walked across the Broad-st bridge Monday . . . Still I think the cigarette advertisers are liars, and names will be named next week . . . (There's no relationship, as always, between the advertising dept. and this column. I recall General Mills, of years ago.) . . . DEL HOWARD hunted a full day not long ago, and got no game. It hurts me to report this fact, but its news because it hasn't happened in years . . . The new city administration looks good—as all new city administrations look . . . but ye olde lookout waits with a calm and abiding patience . . . Gosh, it's good not to be a Democrat or Republican—and to call 'em as you see 'em. And as Fred Sulzberger used to say, "rouse honorable gentmans," can count on us to do as much. The present economy program is a pious fraud, as time will tell.

Sucker, but Definitely

They've been shystering Jack Shank, for in these many weeks—his bowling team buddies, we mean, and Jack's captain of the team, in which capacity, he collects the $1.15 from each member each week.

But they wait to pay until just before Shank rolls, then rush madly up, hand him a dollar, a nickel, and one of these new pennies, which he hurriedly jams in his pocket.

And one, bolder than the rest, just last week had the brass to give him a dollar, and two shining pennies—and b'golly, he got a nickel change.

Frank Blackstone, about to be wed, found his household full 'o women, so he goes over to the Dorscy home (Gladys of Seiler's), to take a bath and sleep the last lonely batchlorial slumber . . . and after the wedding, they have breakfast of chili and potato salad, also at Dorsey's . . . We report this personal stuff just to show that we gotta round.

Stopt by the First Federal a day this week, just to check as to whether the books were balanced. We try to keep up on all the community business, and if an institution is about to fail, we want to report the same.

But then it was one of those mornings when our hair was flying and the sags under our blinkers were particularly heavy, so Genevieve Proper will be forgiven this time for mistaking us for a federal bureaucrat. But, gad, the next time she wants to know why we want to know whether the books balance, we'll print her name in the paper sarcastically.

METEORLOGICAL DATA

Atmospheric conditions will be less turbulent after Feb. 15 in the Hilltop vicinity. Raleigh J. Dixon, the Tavernetti Tornado, leaves for Arkansas . . . and for the luvva pete, don't call it ArKANsas. P. S. Story later on the name "Raleigh J."

Record Subscriptions

The subscription campaign as conducted by West High School ended Jan. 15.

The coverage was not as complete as last year due to the fact that fewer pupils worked on the campaign, so if anyone was missed and has not renewed, the Record Office will have a solicitor call.

During the past week several church groups have started solicitation amonk their membership and on certain designated streets, and any groups interested in earning money for its group should contact the Subscription Manager at the Record.

Attention is called to the fact that the only OFFICIAL RECEIPT that will be recognized by the Hilltop Record is the new one which has five numbers instead of four as used last year. The receipt given the customer is blue.

Before you give the subscription to anyone demand that the solicitor prove his or her identity by showing a card of identification. Be sure that the receipt you get is signed by the solicitor.

Fourth Loan Drive Gets Under Way

The Fourth War Loan Drive, with a goal of $44,000,000, got under way Tuesday with a gigantic rally at Memorial Hall. Heading the drive in the Hilltop area are: Mrs. L. G. Rinear, Mrs. Dale Johnston, Mrs. Lawrence Wisdom and Mrs. Elmer Brophy. The campaign will continue through Feb. 15.

Workers will be asked to report their sales between Jan. 18 and Feb. 1 in this drive because emphasis is being placed on individual purchases, with a $20,000,000 county quota. In September $12,000,000 was raised so workers are urged to double their efforts by doubling their bond sales.

The Naborhood Division of the Fourth War Loan Drive is conducted by the Block Leader Service of the Civilian Defense Office and is headed in the county by Mrs. Stanley B. Johnston. Headquarters are in the Civilian Defense Office, 4th floor, City Hall.

During the first week of the drive meetings for the instruction of workers are being held in the neighborhoods over the county, with speakers from the Bond Office explaining the methods of handling bond sales.

In addition to working on the Fourth War Loan Drive, Block Workers in the neighborhood will seek applications for blood donors in co-operation with the Columbus Blood Donor Center of the Red Cross.

Bond workers in this community are:

Brotherhood Seeks To Curb Delinquency

The objective, according to William A. Stokes, 451 S. Wayne-av, chairman of the group, is to start a movement to curb delinquency and create recreation facilities on the Hilltop.

"We have faith in the efforts of the present city administration," he said, "but we still feel that efforts should be made on the part of community organizations."

Help from other organizations in the community is being solicited.

Other members of the committee include: Robert Nash, Burleigh Emerich and Rev. C. P. Mitchell.

"Razor" Campbell and Joe Dambach led the Irish with 22 points between them while Dick Layne gathered nine for the Bucks.

Lose to North

On the home floor Tuesday evening, the Hilltoppers were downed by their bitter rivals from North, 33-21. The Polar Bears led all the way, piling up a 15-9 halftime lead.

HOW FIGHTERS FEEL

It has remained for a sailor—a common, ordinary seaman aboard a warship somewhere in the South Pacific where the Japs hang out—a youngster who makes no pretense to being a writing man—to do what professional writers have been trying for months to accomplish.

Kenneth Walsh of Muncie, Ind., in his home town paper, the Muncie Press, has written an epic interpretation of how the men who are fighting this war for $50 a month, room and board, feel toward men making a hundred dollars a week, more or a little less, who strike for a few additional cents an hour.

"When you were a kid, Mr. Striker, you studied about the American heritage of 'life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness'," wrote Seaman Walsh. "Well, read it again and then again; study it; delve back into the pages of American history and show me anything in the American creed of living that will justifiy your wartime strikes.

"Come out here with us in these South Pacific waters and stay awhile. Eat our chow, sleep in our sacks, watch us work, help us fight these jungle flies, help us kill malaria-bearing mosquitoes. Walk with us in the sweltering, steamy heat of a noon-day sun.

"There isn't any air-conditioning out here, Mr. CIO, and there isn't any way you can strike for it, either.

"Come with me to the bridge over the jungle river. I want you to see someone who would make you ashamed of that extra 50 cents an hour you get in your pay envelope. He's just a 17-year-old kid that the brass hats put on duty at this infrequent bridge for the simple reason that he isn't sure of himself any more.

"Did I hear you ask what's wrong with him? He was on a destroyer that took three 'fish' amidships and blew up, Mr. Twenty-Dollar-a-Day-Man. His brother was on that ship, too. There were but a few survivors from a crew of 300, and his brother was not among them. He's plain shell-shocked. Talk to him a while, watch him; he'll break your heart, man, if you have one.

"Did you ask me how much money he makes, Mr. Welder—$50 a month, room and board."

There's much more, in the same vein—a vein of bitterness, of disillusionment, of reproach. In one powerful, tight-packed piece of heart-rending prose Seaman Walsh says what hundreds or perhaps thousands of men, facing death and mutilation under the most unbearable conditions for "50 a month, room and board," have tried less effectively to say.

If you haven't read Seaman Walsh's piece, you should, particularly if you belong to one of the unions that are talking about striking against the men in uniform for a few cents an hour, some matter of working conditions, a jurisdictional dispute.

Do you have a son over there, or a brother or nephew or buddy or neighbor? Do you wonder how he feels about wartime strikes? You needn't wonder any longer Kenneth Walsh tells you.

76 To Get Diplomas At Commencement Tuesday

Beautiful, Beautiful Morning

Tuesday dawned grav and chill, but over the landscape lay a silvery sheen of hoar frost, in delicate and fragile beauty.

The grunts, groans and profanity of the night before, as workers and motorists sought their way home in a fog too dense to slice, was replaced by "ahs" and "ahs" as buses and autos moved eastward in Broad-st past the gilded vines, oaks and maples of the asylum grounds.

Yes, every persistent leaf of the vines and oaks, every twig and blade and stem, was covered with a sparkling accumulation of frost, and in the gray and frosty morning light, even those weary beyond the woes of worry, looked out the windows to view the wintry spectacle.

A RECORD reporter, on the scene bright and early, interviewed a half dozen Hilltoppers en route to work, regarding winter's most spectacular show:

"What think you of the hoar-frost this grav and silver morning," each was asked. Herewith are the answers:

Art Bishop (sleepily): "What the hell is hoar-frost?"

Bill Gloekner (contacted by telephone): "This is remarkable in no respect. Whenever absolute humidity approaches the maximum, and attending conditions are favorable, this phenomenon occurs. Do not waken me again to explain such trivia."

Gene White: "Twas a glorious sight of fragile beauty, noble in its grandeur and fantastic in its majestic splendor."

Don Burgoon: "Haint never seen nuthin' quite so purty."

Jack Shank: "Gad, gad, what . . . didja hear about the travelin' salesman?"

The frost faded Tuesday afternoon, so these comments are of historical importance only.

Gold Star Honor Roll Started

The Camp Chase Post, American Legion, and the Hilltop Record co-operating, an effort is being made this week to obtain the names of all servicemen in the community who have died in action, or are reported missing.

In a letter to the RECORD this wek, the local Post expressed sympathies to Hilltop families who have lost sons and daughters on the various war fronts. The letter follows:

We, the members, of CAMP CHASE POST NO. 96, AMERICAN LEGION, thru the medium of your paper, desire to extend our deepest and most heartfelt sympathy to those families on the West Side of Columbus, who have been officially notified by the War or Navy Department, that one of their loved ones has given his life in service, while a member of our armed forces.

To these Fathers and Mothers, and other next kin, may we say they can be justly proud of the sacrifice made by their loved ones, for there is no greater sacrifice than to lay down one's life for his country.

We, of Camp Chase, would appreciate it if the next of kin would forward, either to your paper, or direct to the Post, the full name and rank of the person killed, so we can place a Gold Star behind the name on the Honor Roll. If the name does not now appear on the Honor Roll send it in and we shall see that it is placed there together with the Gold Star. We also ask the next kin forwarding the letter to furnish his, or her, address as we wish to present to them a Gold Star Citation, something they will always cherish.

While we have had many families in our Comunity receive these sorrowful messages, we know there will be many more before the dastardly foes of our freedom and democracy are subdued and Peace comes to stay. Therefore, we would be very grate-

LAMBERT-BRIGGS VOWS EXCHANGED BEFORE CANDLELIT ALTAR, DEC. 7

Cpl. and Mrs. Ralph J. Briggs

Miss Eileen Lambert and Cpl. Ralph J. Briggs, exchanged wedding vows in the Gift Street Methodist Church Tuesday, Dec. 7, before a candlelit altar. Rev. Herbert E. Saxman read the nuptials.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Lambert, Coshocton, O., wore a creamy lace wedding gown with a collared neckline, long fitted sleeves and a full skirt extending into a slight train. She carried a bouquet of white roses and gardenias. Her finger tip veil was held in place by a dainty cluster of orange blossoms.

Only attendant for the bride was Miss Carmen Lambert who was dressed in a floor-length gown of pale blue. She carried a bouquet of red roses and carnations. Best man for Cpl. Briggs, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry R. Briggs, 2736 Sutton-av, was his brother, Harry W. Briggs, of Ashtabula, O.

Following the wedding, a reception was given at the home of the bride-groom's parents. Mrs. Lambert greeted the wedding guests in a navy blue frock while Mrs. Briggs wore a gown of olive green. Both mothers wore gardenia corsages.

For her wedding trip Mrs. Briggs changed to a suit of Air Force blue with British tan accessories.

Both are graduates of West High School. Cpl. Briggs also graduated from Franklin University and before entering the armed service he was connected with the Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co. He is stationed in California.

All In A Day's Work
Yesterday, our pharmacists filled 68 prescriptions — a figure to which we point with justifiable pride because it emphasizes the confidence the community has in our professional service. We do not look upon prescriptions as "all in a day's work" but consider each one a separate and distinct challenge to our professional skill . . . a challenge to be met only with purest quality ingredients painstakingly weighed, measured and mixed.

Here is a typical group of Curtiss-Wright trainees at our Training Center, 309 South Fourth Street. They are following in the footsteps of the many men and women now actually building Helldiver dive bombers in our factory.

None of these 14,000 had previously known anything about building airplanes. Relatively few had done factory work. But they were eager to learn so that they could do this highly essential and urgent work. They realized that the more of these Helldivers put into action, the more vigorously our fighting men can press home the attack against the enemy.

Don't hesitate any longer to be a Helldiver builder —it's the perfect way to get in a strong personal slap at the Jap and keep the Hun on the run. Come with Curtiss-Wright.

The Editor
Hilltop Record
Dear Sir:

I am writing to you in regard to an article in this week's paper, Jan. 14, entitled "O. S. U. Honor Roll." This is to bring to your attention the fact that you overlooked publishing the name of a Hilltop girl who was on the Honor Roll as a straight A student, namely Evelyn V. Cardwell, 404 Highland-av. College of Education. Or was her name omitted because she is a Negro? It seems to me if you are going to give recognition to Hilltop students whose names appear on the Honor Roll, you certainly ought to include the name of one who received even higher grades than either of the two you did mention.

Sincerely,
Esther M. Burke

Sorry. It was an oversight. The editor is unable to distinguish race, creed or color in a list of names. Ed.

BUY WAR BONDS

You've got to do it for your own sake!

Every American must follow this 7-point program now—or prices of the things you need will go up and the Value of your money will go down.

More money to spend than there are goods to buy.
That's the pickle America is in today.
If we all try to spend all we have, we won't succeed in making any more goods to buy. But we will succeed in boosting prices on what there are.

If we handle our money sensibly now, we can hold prices down and build for a future worth having. Better yet, we'll help hold down the cost of the war—in money and in lives.

Here's how you can help—

1. Buy only what you need. And don't kid yourself about what you really need. Spending can't create more goods. It makes them scarce and prices go up.

2. Pay no more than ceiling prices. If you do pay more, you're party to a black market that boosts prices. Buy rationed goods only with stamps.

3. Pay taxes willingly. It's easier and cheaper to pay for the war now while you have the extra money to do it. And money in taxes can't bid for scarce goods.

4. Pay off old debts. Become independent now and make your position a whale of a lot safer against the day when you may be earning less. Don't make new debts.

5. Don't ask more money in wages, or in prices. That boosts the cost of living for all of us. And increases come out of everybody's pocket—including yours

6. Save your money. A savings account will come in handy for emergencies. And life insurance protects your family, protects you in old age.

7. Buy War Bonds and hold them. Bonds put money to work fighting the war instead of letting it shove prices up. And Bonds mean safety for you tomorrow.

Use it up ... Wear it out ... Make it do ... Or do without

Questions and Answers On New Ration Tokens

Ration tokens will come into use on Feb. 27. The following questions and answers were issued by the Office of Price Administration today to help consumers understand how they will buy with this new ration currency.

Q. When will I begin to use ration tokens?

A. Consumers will begin to receive tokens in change from their retailers on February 27. They can be used immediately.

Q. Will OPA give each consumer a certain number of tokens when this new program begins, just as everybody was given a supply of ration stamps?

A. No. The only tokens you will get are those your retailer gives you in change.

Q. Why will I need ration change? So far, except for receiving 1-point meat stamps in change, I have just counted out the right number of stamps to give my retailer when I bought rationed foods.

A. You will need change when tokens go into use because each red and blue stamp in your ration book will be worth ten points. It will no longer be so easy to give your dealer an exact number of points as it was when you had 8, 5, 2 and 1-point stamps to use.

Q. If each stamp will be worth ten points, will I have more points to spend than I do now?

A. No. You will have almost exactly the same number of points as you do now. You will simply use fewer stamps during any one ration period. That's one advantage of the new plan since handling fewer stamps will cut down the work of your retailer and will make your ration book last longer.

Q. When each is worth ten points, how will OPA adjust the rationing program so as to give me the same number of points per month as I have now?

A. At present, three sets of processed foods stamps, a total of 12 stamps are worth 48 points. Under the token system, five blue stamps, worth ten points each, will have a total value of 50 points. This small difference of two points can be adjusted by a slight change in the point value of processed foods.

Q. Will meat stamps be handled the same way?

A. Yes. At present each consumer gets 18 meat points a week, or 32 points every two weeks. Under the token system three red stamps, worth 10 points each, will give him 30 points to use during the first two weeks of token rationing. As in processed foods rationing, the small difference of two points will be adjusted in the point value of items rationed under the meat order.

Q. What will consumers do with their tokens?

A. They will use them very much as they now do pennies. A consumer who buys items worth 23 blue points, for example, will give his retailer two blue stamps (a total of 20 points) and three blue tokens, (each worth one point). If he has no tokens, he will give his retailer three blue stamps (30 points) and receive seven blue tokens in change.

Q. Is there any difference between the meat and the processed food tokens?

A. The only difference in the two kinds of tokens is in their color. The colors match the stamps with which they will be used; blue stamps and blue tokens for processed foods; red stamps and red tokens for meats and fats.

Q. If I have no blue tokens, may I use red ones to pay for processed foods?

A. No. You will use two kinds of tokens just as you have always used two kinds of point stamps—one set for processed foods, the other for meats.

Q. What is the advantage of using tokens?

A. Tokens are expected to make rationing simpler both for consumer and for the trade. There will be point currency of only two denominations—all stamps will be worth ten points; all tokens, one point. Consumers who have long used dimes and pennies will find it easier to figure than when they handled ration stamps worth 8, 5, 2 and 1 points. It will be easier for retailers to count stamps and to make change than when they had to examine each stamp to determine its point value. Tokens are also easier to handle than stamps.

Q. Will I turn in my ration tokens at the end of each ration period?

A. No. Tokens have no expiration date.

Robert Morris Social club will meet at West Gate Temple Wed. Jan. 26, at 2 o'clock.

EVERYBODY KNOWS THEY'LL GROW

They say that marble will perish—
Nothing is permanent here,
Great riches we shouldn't cherish,
Silver and gold will disappear.
Temples and thrones will pass away,
Rocks tumble into the sea,
Rivers are changing both night and day,
Winds level the giant oak tree.

Young women and men are passing away,
The old folks are going fast,
Gardens of flowers will soon decay,
Not long will the universe last.
There's one thing permanent here below,
And the answer I know you know,
Seeds of kindness we sincerely sow
And—everybody knows they'll grow.

War Prisoner Aid Drive To Get Underway

School buildings and branches of the Y. M. C. A. throughout the country will serve as collection stations for the War Prisoners Aid drive to be held Feb. 14 to 21 by the Y. M. C. A.

Musical instruments and athletic equipment are being sought. Heading the drive is C. P. Willcox, Al Buoistor, president of the Columbus Red Birds.

"Because of manufacturing restrictions, if we are going to get these articles, they must come from our homes," Mr. Willcox said, in urging everyone to search attics, store rooms and closets.

He emphasized that this is not a scrap drive, and that articles need to be in usuable condition. Minor repairs will be made by War Prisoners Aid in New York before they are shipped to prison camps all over the world.

"I can think of no better use for athletic equipment than to send it to men in prison camps," Mr. Bunister said. "If it will help relieve the strain, and give them a better slant on things, it is up to us to see that they have all these things they can use. We must go all out on this, even if we at home have to do without. Their cause is paramount."

War Prisoners Aid receives financial help from the Franklin County War Chest through the National War Fund.

To the People of this Community

THINK IT OVER

How about doing a little cold turkey thinking after you lay aside this newspaper tonight?

You've got a good job. The chances are there is someone else in your family, perhaps two or three, working. Your son or your brother—may be away at war.

This war must end sometime. Your whole family, your neighbors, are praying it ends soon and those fighting boys of yours will come home safely.

But will you be ready for whatever happens when peace comes? Will you have something laid away? We're all hoping there'll be jobs aplenty, jobs which mean making something for somebody's happiness and not for somebody's sorrow. That's where your War Bonds come into the picture. Sure, Americans own billions of dollars of War Bonds now; and before this 4th War Loan ends they will have put away billions more. But how about you? You're the one that counts. The bigger the pile of War Bonds you have when peace comes, the bigger chance you'll have to slip right into the post-war world you're dreaming about tonight.

So "Let's All Keep on Backing the Attack."

THE EDITOR.

To the People of this Community

YOU CAN AFFORD IT

You can afford to buy Extra War Bonds during this Fourth War Loan Drive.

Everyone in this community knows incomes are higher than ever before—that both workers and farmers have more cash than ever before. Everyone knows that more than one member of hundreds of families are income earners -- and everyone knows that increases in wages and salaries have far outstripped rising prices, and increased taxes. You can afford to buy Extra War Bonds.

As a matter of fact, you can't afford NOT to Buy Extra War Bonds. If you spend your money for needless, scarce goods, you are increasing prices . . . If you want to help win the war you can't afford NOT to buy War Bonds. If you want to help that boy in the service, you can't afford NOT to buy Extra Bonds and if you want a gilt-edged investment for your own future security, you can't afford NOT to buy Extra War Bonds.

Don't just do the expected—buy All the Bonds you can.

THE EDITOR.

Keating Missing In Pan-America Listed As Dead

First Lieut. Charles Max Keating, 26, son of Mrs. Carson Gordon, 558 S. Terrace Avenue, navigator in the AAF bomber ferry command, missing in the Latin-American area since December, 1942, has been listed as officially dead.

First Lieut. Keating's mother was informed by the war department that her son is now declared officially dead since Dec. 6, 1942, when he and two others on a bomber ferry mission were lost in the Latin-American area. He entered the service in the fall of 1942 at Miami, Fla., where he had been identified with Pan American Airways, and was commissioned as a bombardier.

Besides his mother, he leaves his wife, Mrs. Jewell Starling Keating of Miami, Fla.; two brothers, Carlyle J. Keating and Joseph Keating, and one sister, Mrs. Alberta Klein, all of Columbus. He was graduated from West High School in 1934.

Marinade for Low-cost Meats

Have you ever used vinegar to tenderize a less-expensive cut of meat? Too few American housewives know this thrifty trick. But in lands where good meat is scarce and high, housewives learned centuries ago that a thrifty cut of meat, steeped in a marinade of strong vinegar and spice, would become as tender-textured as a finer cut, and absorb a pleasing taste besides.

There has always been such an abundance of quality meat in our land that most of us have never tried the frugal cooking tricks housewives in other countries know so well. We serve choice cuts cooked by simple methods: steaks and chops broiled—ham baked—leg of lamb roasted—breaded veal chops deep fat fried.

But Old World housewives, schooled in scarcity, learned long ago to use commoner cuts of meat, simmered slowly, with vegetables and sauce and spice. Such "made dishes" as ragouts and stews, kabobs, chow mein, curries, and sauerbraten have resulted from their skill.

Since the new ECONOMY WAVE has swept our land we, too, are eager for these low-cost cooking secrets. Canniest trick in the Old World collection is this use of vinegar. For vinegar itself is a slight item in the budget. And when a truly fine, full-bodied vinegar is used the concentrated strength seeps quickly through the flesh, tenderizing firm-textured fibers and imparting a pungent flavor to the dish.

If you would like to cut your kitchen costs this way try one of these for supper:

Spiced Pot Roast of Beef
Wipe with damp cloth and place in bowl—
4 pounds lean beef (inexpensive cut) 2 inches thick.
Combine and pour over meat—
1 tablespoon salt
1 medium onion sliced
2 bay leaves
1 cup light brown sugar
1 cup pure cider vinegar
½ cup tomato ketchup.
Cover and let stand 1 hour turning once. Lift from liquids and drain.
Using deep pan brown lightly in—
Small amount of fat.
Add to browned meat—
Liquids used for steeping.
Cover and cook meat slowly 3 hours, turning occasionally.
To make sauce blend—
Flour
Water.
Add thickener to—
Juices in pan.
Serve hot or slice and serve cold. Serves 6-8.

Spicy Steak Roast
Place in flat bowl—
1½ pounds round steak, cut 1 inch thick.
Combine and pour over meat—
¾ cup pure cider vinegar
¼ cup water
1 small onion, thinly sliced
1 bay leaf
2 whole cloves
1½ teaspoons salt
⅛ teaspoon black pepper.
Cover and let stand in cool place, or refrigerator, 6 to 8 hours. Remove marinated meat from liquid.
Brown well in—
Deep fat or drippings.
To spicy liquid add—
½ cup water then pour over meat.
Simmer 1¼ to 1½ hours or until tender. Remove meat and thicken gravy. Serves 4-6.

The LOOKOUT

by John Wolfe

A Good Morning . . .

If you were abroad to see it, Tuesday's winter morning foretold of Spring. The gray clouds broke early, and from the opening canopy, great, shining shafts of sunlight poured through. And from my vantage point, a cardinal whistled merrily from the top of a silver maple tree. It felt good, and I to the stint with heart singing. . . .

How The Heck Do You Know?

I wouldn't nibble into your business
But please explain this mystery,
How the heck do you know I always blow
And saucer, my coffee and tea?
I didn't know anyone was on my trail
That detectives were watching me
I'm too nervous or I'd join the service
Where there's no hot coffee and tea.

I'll do my best to thoroughly explain
Now that I am caught in the act
My throat you see isn't used to hot tea
Nor whiskey—and that is a fact.
You may doubt me when I explain truthfully
I've forgot how to drink from a bung
And the reason I saucer my coffee and tea
I don't like to burn my tongue.

Local Blood Bank Seeks More Plasma

By Jean Young

Four million pints of blood were received at the Red Cross Blood Donor Center, Spring and High-sts, during the past year. That means that there were 4,000,000 more chances for service men on far-flung battle fronts to survive wounds inflicted upon them by the enemy. The quota for 1944 has been set at 5,000,000. The center can receive 250 persons a day for donations.

It is a very simple process to give a pint of blood. First the donor must call and make an appointment with the center. When he makes this appointment he will be told by the Red Cross worker answering his call that he is not to eat or drink anything for six hours prior to his appointment at the center. This request is made so that the blood stream will be pure at the time of the donation.

Upon entering the center the donor is checked for his appointment and a card is made out for him stating the date of his donation. From here he goes to a dressing room and puts on a short, loose sleeved hospital gown. He then is taken to the section where a registered nurse gives him a physical check-up to determine whether he is able to make the contribution without harming his body.

Blood pressure, pulse, and a test of the richness of blood is made. The blood test is made by merely pricking the finger. At this time the nurse asks the donor if he has been ill recently or had a cold. If the answer is "yes" the nurse determines the seriousness of the illness or cold, whether it is advisable that the donor give blood. When this brief examination is completed and the nurse is satisfied that the giver is in condition to give up a pint of blood, she places a rubber band on the arm with the largest vein. He is taken to another part of the center where a Red Cross volunteer worker provides fruit juice before sending into the room to give the donation. Sitting there for a few minutes, and if it is a first donation, this is the point where nerves start working. The contributor visualizes all sort of ghastly pains that he fears of suffering when he walks through that next door. He hears the nurses and doctor moving around, from one bed to the other, but he hears no sound from the donors. His hands get cold, and sweat.

In a short time the nurse comes and tells him he is "next." The donor follows the nurse through the arch-way and on the other side of that partition are two rows of neat white bed-tables. On most of them are other donors

SOLDIERS READ RECORD

Kel Fuller and Friend, Reading Hilltop Record

In the accompanying picture are Kel Fuller, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Fuller, 137 S. Terrace-av, and a friend reading The Hilltop Record of June 18, 1943, at Camp Adair, Oregon. Fuller, who entered the Army Jan. 18, 1943, went overseas last August.

Mrs. Fuller called the Record office last week and told us she had spotted a soldier whom she believed was Kel in a picture of a baking unit at Ferryville, N. Africa, which was in the Jan. 10 issue of Life Magazine.

"I think it is Kel. The soldier's hair looks just like his does when it isn't cut. We used a magnifying glass. I believe though it is a thing that only a mother could tell," she said.

The family has written to Fuller to see if he could be the soldier in the picture.

A graduate of West High School, Fuller was editor of the West High School Occident in his senior year.

Stamps R, S, T, U, Expire; Tokens To Be Exchanged

Brown stamps R, S, T, and U, in War Ration Book Three with which meats, butter, fats, canned fish and canned milk are purchased, will expire tomorrow night, Jan. 29.

Brown stamp V, which became valid Jan. 23, and brown stamp W, will be good Jan. 30, and will continue valid until Feb. 26.

Green Stamps

The last green stamps to be used, and the last green stamps on the page, K, L and M in War Ration Book Four for the purchase of processed foods, will expire Mar. 20.

Blue Stamps

Blue stamps will go into effect Feb. 27 when the token plan becomes effective.

Tokens To Be Exchanged

There have been contradictory statements issued relative to the exchange of tokens for the overlapping brown and green stamps, after Feb. 27, when the new token plan goes into operation.

An amendment has been made to provide that green stamps K, L and M in War Ration Book Four and brown stamps Y and Z in War Ration Book Three, may be used for ration items and tokens will be given in exchange for both color of stamps. However, the brown and green stamps will continue to have the same point value as they now carry—(8, 5, 3 and 1 point value.) The blue and red stamps have a uniform value of ten points each.

Consumers should spend their green and brown stamps first.

Lose To South, 53-31

South's crack quintet completely outclassed the Buckaroos Wednesday evening, as they have done every other ball club they've faced this year, and walked off the floor easy 53-31 victors.

The Bulldogs took an early 5-0 lead and kept it throughout the battle. Jack Buckingham was the bright spot in the loser's cause, sinking five buckets and a quartet of charities for 14 points. Captain Edgington of the victors, however, led the point makers with 16 counters

Seek Completion Of Hilltop Gold Star Honor Roll List

An appeal for information from Hilltop relatives of servicemen killed or missing in action is being made this week by the Hilltop Record, co-operating with the Camp Chase Post, American Legion, in an effort to bring up to date the Gold Star Honor Roll.

A list, published last week is admittedly incomplete, as information has not been made available by the war and navy departments, or if it has, has not yet been obtained by the Record.

Request is made for the following information: full name of the service man, branch of service, age, date of death, theatre of action, or if not in actual combat, place of death. This information may be sent or phoned to the Record.

The Legion will place gold stars beside the names of those lost, on the Hilltop Honor Roll.

The following is the present Gold Star Honor Roll. Corrections or omissions should be called to the attention of the editor, the Hilltop Record.

Staff Sergeant James M. Bercaw Exchanged Vows With Miss Florence White In California

Staff Sergeant James M. Bercaw exchanged nuptial vows with Miss Florence Margaret White before an altar of lovely callas and lighted candles at St. Vincent's Church at Petaluma, Calif., Saturday, Jan. 15. The 9 o'clock ceremony, followed by a nuptial mass, was performed by Rev. Louis J. Miller, cousin of the bride.

Given in marriage by her brother, Frank White, the bride was gowned in traditional white brocade satin. It was fashioned with a snug bodice, V neckline, long sleeves that came to points over the hands, and a full skirt with a slight train. Bows of satin adorned the neckline and waist. A coronet of tulle and satin held the finger-tip veil and she carried a shower bouquet of gardenias and bouvardia.

Attendants were her sister Miss Theresa Catherine White, maid-of-honor, while another sister, Mrs. James J. McGoldrick and Miss Dorothy Mattei were bridesmaids. Sgt. Richard A. Beck, Cincinnati, now stationed near Petaluma was best man. Ushers were Sgt. Gene Ference and Sgt. Richard Adams.

Mrs. J. L. White, mother of the bride, was gowned in green silk with which she wore brown accessories and an orchid corsage.

A reception was given at the home of the bride's mother from 2 to 5 in the afternoon.

Sergeant Bercaw is the son of Mrs. Hazel Bercaw and the late Charles L. Bercaw, 73 S. Richardson-av. He is a graduate of West High School, Franklin University and School of Cosmotology. Prior to his enlistment in the 107th Cavalry in December 1940, he was in business with his mother who now operates a beauty salon at 2842 W. Broad-st.

Following a brief honeymoon spent in San Francisco, the couple is now residing in Petaluma, where Sergeant Bercaw is awaiting orders for duty.

Restaurant Proprietors Attention!

Proprietors of restaurants and institutional users of food were reminded today by Theo. F. Webb, chairman of the West Side War Price and Rationing Board, that Feb. 1 is the deadline for filing OPA Form R-1307 Supplement with the local board for the purpose of obtaining rationed commodities beginning Mar. 1.

The revision of General Ration Order No. 5, which affects all hotels, restaurants and other eating and drinking establishments, was designed to accomplish a more equitable distribution of food to commercial eating places. The plan involves primarily a change in the way these places will report their count on "the number of persons served."

Heretofore, an institutional user included in this count all persons to whom either "food" or "refreshments" were served, both for the "base period" in Dec. 1942, and for each current allotment period. Beginning Jan. 1, these two groups are being counted separately.

Restaurant proprietors may obtain additional information from the Food Clerk of the Local War Price and Rationing Board, Franklinton School, Sandusky and Broad-st.

Don't Request Statement Of 1943 Wages

"Don't ask your Social Security Board field office for a statement of your 1943 earnings for income tax purposes," Wayne W. Putman, manager of the Columbus field office reminded this week.

The Social Security Board cannot help because the employer's tax return will not have reached the Board in time to permit it to make available a statement of annual earnings for income tax returns.

Manager Putman said this week that each year, "come income tax time," hundreds of Central Ohioans request statements of their annual earnings for use in making out income tax returns, because they know that the Social Security Board keeps careful records of wages paid to workers in jobs covered by the old-age and survivors insurance system. It is on the basis of these records that benefits are calculated for the insured worker or his family.

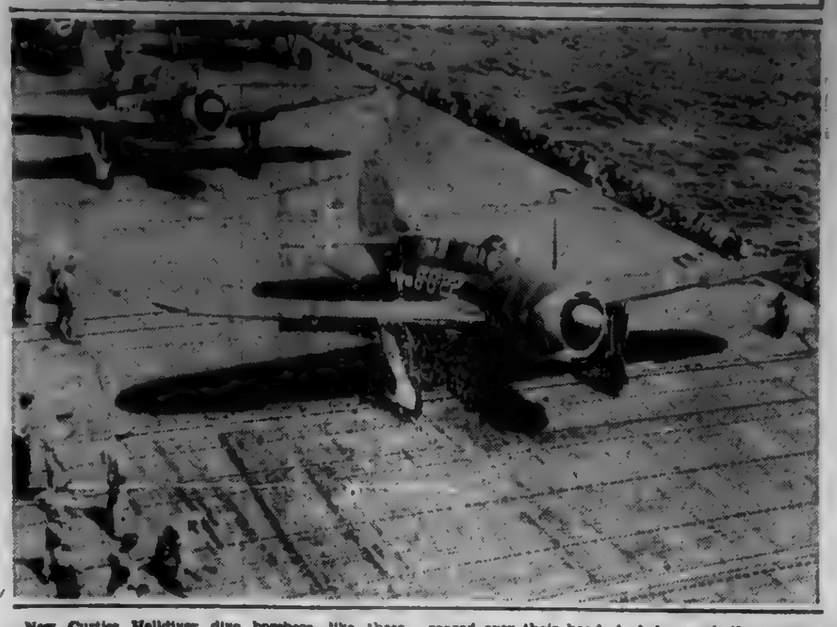
ON THE AIR
By Fred Emery
Musical Tailor

Harry Sosnik, who conducts the orchestra for the musical quiz program, "Beat the Band," (Station WLW, Wednesdays, 7:30 p. m., CWT), has as practical and modest a philosophy as anyone in the creative side of show business, scorning euphemism, he calls himself a musical tailor.

H. SOSNIK

Sosnik finds out what the the client wants in the way of music. Then he tailors his scores to fit, selecting musicians and and instruments to form the right musical pattern, just as he'd choose material for a suit, trimming here, building up there, remodeling until the customer likes the fit.

Sosnik has no patience with temperament. Radio, he feels, is a business like any other, and the fact that the public sees fit to throw an aura of romance over his particular field is no justification for an inflated ego or mock heroics. Deeply absorbed in his work, Sosnik tries to balance his perspective by spending his free time with people who have no professional interest in radio and who are intent on talking about their own work.



Yet Sosnik, slender, fast-moving and quick-witted, is far from phlegmatic. He drives himself with the relentlessness of a man in love with his work.

Brought up in Chicago, that cradle of so many musicians, Sosnik's first contact with music was at eight, when his mother decided on piano lessons for him. He had to be driven to practice, like so many boys, and his interest was no more than casual until he was of high school age and began playing with a jazz band weekends. At 18, he suddenly realized he no longer wanted to be an architect but a musician.

He then attended the American Conservatory of Music in Chicago and when he had finished his formal study there began doing radio arrangements for Ben Bernie, Paul Whiteman and Coon Sanders. At the same time he was conducting and playing piano in orchestral groups, both serious and jazz. His first radio program under his own name was in 1931, for NBC, and he has been in commercial radio ever since.

Since he has been in New York, Sosnik has kept up his study with courses at Juilliard and with private instructors, as well as doing some composing.

New Helldiver Bombers in Gilberts Invasion

New Curtiss Helldiver dive bombers, like these taking off from a U. S. Navy aircraft carrier, bombed and strafed Jap positions in the successful Gilbert Islands campaign. Two young Marines, former Helldiver-builders at the Columbus, O., plant of the Curtiss-Wright Corporation, told how the Helldivers roared over their heads to help smash the enemy in the Central Pacific. The Helldivers, equipped with Wright Cyclone engines and Curtiss Electric propellers, were previously reported in action in the southwest Pacific where they took a heavy toll of Jap warships.

Suggestions For Firing Furnace

Suggestions for hand-firing a furnace to get the best results and greatest economy are offered by J. M. Jackson, president of the J. M. Jackson Fuel Co., Dana and Thomas-ave, and the Columbus Retail Coal Merchants Ass'n.

He says: "Lack of an understanding of the principles of firing a furnace causes heat loss and unnecessary fuel consumption. It is a too common practice to shake the fuel bed vigorously in the morning, stuff the fire-pot full and open the ash door wide in order to quickly warm the house. Such a procedure is extremely wasteful because too many red coals are shaken into the ash-pit and the heat is forced up the chimney in unignited gases.

"The proper way is to shake the grates gently until the fine ash is sifted into the ash-pit and a red glow is noticed. Make a pocket by pushing the red coals to the back. Take the poker and bore into the red coals to open a hole through to the grates. This allows free circulation of air. Then put a few shovels of fresh coal in the pocket made in the fire bed . . . do not heave or throw the fresh coal, but insert the shovel in and carefully pour it on. Never cover the fire bed with fresh coal. Leave about one-half the bed free so that the glowing coals are uncovered. It is the gases passing over these red coals that ignite in perfect combustion and produce the heat.

"Clouds of black smoke issuing from a chimney shows that combustion is not taking place. After charging the furnace with fresh coal, open the front draft until the fire is burning brightly, then close it and open the check draft about half way."

Income Tax Help Provided on WLW

One of the most important series of programs ever carried over Station WLW — and one certain to be appreciated by millions of listeners —will be broadcast each Tuesday and Thursday during February, from 10:50 to 11 p. m., CWT, immediately preceding the news broadcasts by Arthur Reilly. And on Mar. 5 and 12 from 10:45 to 11 p. m., CWT.

These programs will consist of detailed instructions on how to figure the complicated 1943 federal income tax returns. The instructor will be Fred Boss of the Cincinnati office of the Bureau of Internal Revenue, whose thorough knowledge of all intricacies of the tax return insure his instructions being precise and authentic.

Listeners participating in this class of instruction should have before them a copy of Form 1040, together with extra paper and pencils, so they can figure their own returns in following Mr. Boss' detailed instructions.

Income taxpayers are invited to send Mr. Boss specific questions on their particular income tax problems, and these will be answered, insofar as possible, during his broadcasts. Letters should be addressed to Fred Boss, Station WLW, Cincinnati, 2, O.

BLOOD BANK—

waiting for their blood to run through the rubber tube into the pint jar by their beds.

The benefactor is received by a nurse in the big room and taken to a bed. His head lays a little lower than his body. The nurse swaths the inside of his elbow where the needle will be entered, with a fluid to deaden the skin. He holds cotton there until a doctor, either army or navy, comes and places the needle with a rubber tube, which is attached to a jar, in his arm. Then she ties a tourniquet around the top of the arm.

The actual donation has begun. It takes several minutes for the blood to flow and in this time the donor can think, as the blood leaves his body which is in a normally healthy condition, how it will feel when the plasma made from his blood is poured into a wounded serviceman. He is actually giving life as this blood flows from the vein inside his elbow but without pain, without inconvenience.

After a few minutes, when the jar is filled, the doctor comes back and gently removes the needle and places a piece of cotton over the open place and asks the donor to extend his arm into the air. A nurse comes and puts a clean dressing on the pin point hole and tells you to lie quietly until she comes back.

Resting there about 10 minutes, the nurse then takes him into the canteen where more Red Cross volunteer workers give him a light lunch to restore any amount of energy he might have lost during the donation.

From here he goes to a table outside the canteen where a Red Cross worker gives him a bronze button to wear on his coat lapel.

The blood the donor has given will not be transfused to the wounded service man. When the service man gets it it will be in a white crystalline substance.

It is a very simple process to give a pint of blood yet it means so much. The number at the Red Cross blood donor center in Columbus is Ma. 3307.

Soldiers In England Shared Christmas With 250 Children

By Effeon Griggs

Christmas overseas! It meant a lot of disappointment to some; to others it meant joy in bringing some measure of cheer to those who have had their lives disrupted, their homes bombed out.

Pvt. Ray F. McVay, Jr. ("Bud" as he is known intimately), was stationed in England on Dec. 25, 1943. His letter to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray F. McVay, 4105 Alkire-rd, regarding that day is as follows:

"Today was Christmas Day for me. There were 250 English children (all under 12 years of age) brought to camp today for a Christmas program. They asked for 250 men to act as fathers for them, so I volunteered to be a proud 'papa.' Some of the children were orphans and some of them were sent because their fathers had been in the Army a long time. All in all it was a great idea.

"A show was given which lasted around 45 minutes. A number of Walt Disney comedies were shown. After the show, the children were served ice cream (which they haven't had in quite a few years), cookies, sandwiches and candy.

"After they had eaten, they were taken to a big hall where a Christmas tree stood. Santa Claus was there to present each with a present. Believe me, those kids were really happy.

"My charge was a little boy who was from London. He was one of the happiest kids I have ever seen."

Several days later, "Bud" was in one of the Red Cross clubs and thought he recognized a voice behind him. Turning, he found a close high-school friend, William Albert, 153 S. Hague-av. Both, while attending West High School, were quite active in sports.

While residents of the Hilltop, the McVays made their home at 453 S. Waren-av.

Bricker Urges Housewives To Salvage Fats

"As Governor of Ohio, I urge housewives and meat dealers of this state to redouble your efforts to salvage used household fats. A larger portion of the used household fats is necessary for the production of explosives, medical preparations, and essential civilian commodities.

"Fats are now one of the nation's most critical salvage materials. We are not saving enough for our military uses. If we do not increase our supply of fats, we will deprive our soldiers of needed ammunition, medical equipment, and chemical preparations that are so necessary to speed the day of victory.

"For every pound of used household fats not saved, a soldier on the battlefields will be deprived of 150 machine gun bullets. For every five-pounds of used kitchen fats not saved, a sailor fighting submarines will be deprived of a 100-pound depth bomb charge. Fats are vital materials of war.

John W. Bricker"

THE JEEP

Nobody will buy an airplane
After the war is over,
We'll buy a jeep for a couple of sheep
And a bale or two of clover.
A jeep can climb a mountain steep
Go right over the top,
Jump over a gutter, never known to stutter
Can leap, swim, creep or hop.

A jeep will never surrender
To the Devil, a Jap or a Hun.
Its happiest sphere the wildest frontier
Every one carries a gun.
We'll buy a jeep for a couple of sheep
And a bale or two of clover.
Instead of a plane—tide a hurricane
After the war is over.

Board Moves To Safeguard Ration Currency, Webb Says

Moving to safeguard ration currency in the hands of Local War Price and Rationing Boards, the Columbus district office of Price Administration, announced today that hereafter all ration books and certificates will be issued by mail, except in the case of soldiers at home on furlough, and in case of bonafide emergencies.

This means, according to Theo. F. Webb, chairman of the West Side Rationing Board that all applications made in person at the board, will be reviewed and the applicant will be advised that his rations will be mailed to him on the following day.

Only in emergency and in the case of soldiers home on leave, will rations be issued immediately. Recent robberies of local ration boards prompted the change in the methods of issuance of ration books. The new plan will enable the board to have on hand each day, only sufficient number of ration books to take care of the applications approved the previous day.

Applicants are urged to submit their applications by mail rather than appear at the board in person. Mr. Webb stated that mail applications will receive the same prompt attention as if they were presented in person, and the applicant will be relieved of making an unnecessary trip to the board.

Local ration boards in Columbus, equipped with safes, are further protected by the American District Telegraph Company's reporting system.

Success or failure of the individual bond sales quota in Franklin County, set at $20,441,400 rests almost entirely upon the efforts of more than 2,000 volunteer War Bond Workers. They comprise the Neighborhood Division of the Franklin County War Finance Committee and it is their task to make house-to-house solicitations throughout the entire county.

The Block Leader Service of the Franklin County Civilian Defense Office, under the leadership of Mrs. Stanley B. Johnson, chief of the group; Mrs. Harold Johnson, vice chairman in charge of city organization and Mrs. Arthur V. Freeman, secretary, arranged and are in charge of the Neighborhood Division activities.

Block Leaders are carrying on a two-fold job during the Fourth War Loan drive, which ends Feb. 15, by selling War Bonds to individuals and securing applications for blood donors in co-operation with the Blood Donor Center of the Red Cross. To date individual purchases have passed the $4,000,000 mark but, "more

Pin-up picture for the man who "can't afford" to buy an extra war bond...

YOU'VE HEARD PEOPLE say: "I can't afford to buy an extra War Bond." Perhaps you've said it yourself ... without realizing what a ridiculous thing it is to say to men who are dying.

The very least that you can do is to buy an extra $100 War Bond...above and beyond the Bonds you are now buying or had planned to buy. In fact, if you take stock of your resources, you will probably find that you can buy an extra $200...or $300...or even $500 worth of War Bonds.

Sounds like more than you "can afford"? Well, young soldiers can't afford to die, either... yet they do it when called upon. So is it too much to ask of us that we invest more of our money in War Bonds...the best investment in the world today? Is that too much to ask?

Arrives Home From Overseas

S 1/c Elmer A. Howard, Jr.

Arriving in the United States from Noumea, New Caledonia, S 1/c Elmer A. Howard, Jr., telephoned his mother early Tuesday morning informing her of his arrival and that he would be home sometime Saturday, Feb. 5.

Young Howard enlisted in the Navy in September of 1942 and after receiving his boot training at Great Lakes Naval Training Station, received his first furlough which was to be his last until the present time. He reported to active duty immediately following his boot training and arrived in New Caledonia in November, 1942. A member of the utility ship company, he has helped in the complete building of his station at Noumea.

His present furlough will be of nine-days duration, after which he will report for officers training.

He attended West High School and prior to his entrance into the service, he was employed by Ranco, Inc. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer A. Howard, Sr., 346 Guernsey-av.

BOY SCOUTS—

ing war. Patriotism, faith in God, clean living, doing a good turn daily—all of these will be needed more than ever when peace comes.

"Scouting doesn't have to 'convert' after the war in the usual sense of the word. All it has to do is proceed with normal Boy Scout activities. The result can be predicted from the records. For in peacetime as well as during war, Scout training builds leadership and character. The more boys who become Scouts today, the more progress we will make toward world friendship in the postwar period."

WAR BOND DRIVE

people must buy if this drive is successful," Dr. Howard L. Bevis, chairman of the county committee, declared.

An appeal is being issued to individuals to buy freely, asserting that the millions of workers, farmers, merchants, housewives and school children who invested in previous bond drives must "double their purchases" to meet the task of financing the war.

WHEN THEY TAKE OUR PLACE

This is a picture of friends in need,
Hard for an artist to trace,
Parents helping their children succeed
After they take their parents place.
The contented look on the father's face
While helping his son to understand,
The son willing to take his father's place
With the best at his command.
Grandchildren sitting on grandma's knee
Like her own children used to do,
Drawing pictures of a tree for her to see—
Innocent, cheerful and lovely too.
And it would take a fine artist, brother,
Every line of joy to trace,
The peace on the face of father and mother
When their children take their place.

Take It From Me!
THAT FOOD IS IMPORTANT!

I've seen action in North Africa and the battle of Sicily and I've seen what food can do for morale. Or maybe I should have said I've seen what lack of food can do. The look in a hungry kid's eyes isn't pleasant to see. But it sure was swell to see those eyes brighten at the sight of the food we brought and distributed. So keep on sending us that food; we'll see that it gets out to the right people.

Don't Risk Roof Leaks
BAD weather quickly locates the weak spots in roofs. New leaks develop, and old ones get worse. Wise property owners refuse to take chances—they have risky roofs put in good condition or replaced before any damage occurs.
When new roofs are needed, we can supply the right type of Carey Shingles or Roll Roofings at the right price. We'll gladly furnish a free estimate on these time tested roofs.

A Marine Speaks

If anyone has the insight on this war—the terror of bombs—fear of the cuning Jap or the treacherous Nazi . . . it is the Marine. The Marine who is the first to launch the attack in any campaign. The following is one Marine's reply to civilians—reprinted from a camp paper:

A MARINE SPEAKS

So you are sick of the way the country is run.
And you're sick of the way the rationing is done.
And you're sick of standing around in line;
You're sick, you say—well, that's just fine.

So I'm sick of the sun and the heat—
And I'm sick of the roar and aching feet.
And I'm sick of the mud and the jungle flies,
And I'm sick of the stench when the night mists rise.

And I'm sick of the siren's wailing shriek,
And I'm sick of the groans of the wounded and weak,
And I'm sick of the sound of the bomber's dive,
And I'm sick of seeing the dead alive.

And I'm sick of the roar and noise and din,
And I'm sick of the taste of food from a tin,
And I'm sick of the slaughter—
I'm sick to my soul;
I'm sick of playing the killer's role.

And I'm sick of blood and death and smell;
And I'm sick of myself as well.
But I'm sicker still of a tyrant rule,
And conquered lands where the wild beasts drool.

But I'm cured damn quick when I think of the day
When all this hell will be out the way,
When none of this mess will have been in vain;
And the lights of the world will blaze again.

And kids will laugh in the streets once more.
And God looks down on a peaceful world.

Service Center Plans Proceed Here

Announcement is being made today that the Hilltop Community Service Center sponsored by Navy Dads is going to be started as planned. David Cornwell, president, 356 S Roys-av, representing this group called attention to the fact that the opposition to this project, where such exists, is based on the fact that too many people feel that it is intended for Hilltop service men and women only who in most cases are only home on short leaves and would not be able to use its facilities to the best advantage. In connection with this he said: " A great number of boys pass through the Hilltop daily, and go on, without even knowing they were passing through one of the finest parts of Columbus, a community known for its friendship and co-operation. A great many of these boys would be forever grateful for a welcome and a show of friendship as they go on their way.

At Hague and Broad-sts. Cornwell counted 68 boys in one afternoon, most of whom were just loafing with no place to loaf.

It is planned to have a Service Center somewhere in the vicinity of Hague and Broad-sts, which will be open for transient service men and women during the day and evening and will be available for week-end parties of various kinds sponsored by Hilltop groups. Hilltop Service men and women will have full access to its facilities when they are home.

Plans call for as many features of interest to the Services as are possible and the activities after the Center opens will depend entirely on the response Hilltoppers give and the co-operation of Hilltop groups.

Before it can be opened there must be assurance that it is on a satisfactory financial footing This is entirely up to the residents of the Hilltop, as no single one or group of organizations could finance such a project alone.

Mr. Cornwell makes this appeal to Hilltoppers: "If you have a boy or girl in the Service, contribute to this project in his or her name. What we do for other boys and girls in the Service, someone is doing for ours. Can we do less?"

Contributions for the Center may be made to Navy dads, P. O. Box 843, Hilltop station, to any Navy Dad, or to the Record office. An official receipt will be given in each case.

Contribute now.

Aquinas Buck Hardcourt Foe Here Tonight

The Aquinas Terriers, Co-leaders in the city high school cage league, will invade the West High gym tonight, relatively sure of retaining their position in the standings, by taking the lowly Hilltoppers in stride.

Tuesday evening the Hilltoppers climbed out of the cellar for keeps Tuesday evening by whipping the lowly East Tigers 36-34, with Ira Blackwell leading the way with 22 points. East's chances for victory were dimmed considerably when its star center was lost via the personal foul route not long after the season's play by winning its fourth game in eight starts, taking Indianola into camp 21-13.

West Junior Broncos, out of the league race themselves, toppled another aspirant for championship honors last week when they took a surprise victory from the high-flying Everett cagers. The score was 26-24.

Cpl. Scott, Cousin On Bomb Raid

Cpl. Robert Miles Scott, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy M. Scott, 146 S. Ogden-av, and his cousin, Flight Officer Marion T. Rogers at West Union, were members of the crew on one of the Mitchells which bombed the road junction at Frascati, Italy, the Associated Press reported. They said their bombs plastered the horseshoe bend in the road and made so much smoke they thought the Germans had put up a smoke-screen.

Young Scott enlisted Dec. 10, 1941, and after training as a member of an army air forces ground crew was sent overseas in June, 1942, to be based in Africa. Since then he has become a tail gunner.

Mrs. Benton Heads Red Cross Drive

Mrs. Paul B. Benton, 65 S. Westgate-av, has been named co-chairman in charge of the Hilltop district for the 1944 Red Cross War Fund drive, it was announced this week.

Divisional leaders for the 1944 Red Cross War Fund are already busy with organization plans for the opening of the War Fund drive in Coumbus and Franklin county Feb. 29 to raise $859,000 to supplement national and local funds for the maintenance of vital work for the men and women in service all over the globe. With the American Red Cross today handling its biggest assignment in all its years of public service, the 1944 War Fund automatically becomes the most important ever to be launched in this country.

The Heat Is On!

RECORD EDITORIAL

Mayor James Rhodes' assertion, as reported in the press, that "there will be no dives, honky-tonks or junk spots in Columbus" is a noble objective, worthy of full effort on the part of the safety department.

Published reports that the "heat is on gamblers" in Columbus leaves the impression that the city is being cleaned up. This is excellent, and the new mayor is making a good showing. We wish him well.

It's of interest however, to see also in the public press, announcements that "dives, junk spots and honky-tonks" are GOING to be checked. Perhaps of some interest also, is the report that a gentleman, arrested 25 times for suffering a game of chance, was fined the enormous sum of $15.

MUSTERING-OUT PAY APPLICATIONS AVAILABLE AT CAMP CHASE POST 98

Discharged veterans of this war may make application for mustering-out pay at the American Legion Camp Chase Post No. 98, 3184 W. Broad-st, Sunday, Feb. 13, between 1 and 3 p. m. Bob Billups announced today. Anyone making application must bring their discharge papers.

Honorably discharged veterans of the Army, Navy, Marine Corps or Coast Guard are eligible, including members of the women's branches of those services. However, women who left the former Women's Army Auxiliary Corps, are eligible only if they were honorably discharged because of disability.

The procedural rules brought out that personnel who served overseas are eligible for the mustering-out payment even if they are discharged at their own request because they are over 38 and wish to return to employment in an essential industry. Persons discharged under such circumstances without having service overseas are not eligible.

Minimum of $100

The law provides for payment of $100 to veterans with less than 60 days' active service; those with active service of 60 days or more but with no foreign service will receive $100, payable in two monthly installments of $100 each; and veterans with 60 days or more with foreign service will receive $300, payable in three equal monthly installments.

Persons discharged from today on will receive the payments without the necessity of an application.

Officers Eligible

Both officers and enlisted personnel of the Army must file their applications.

Widows Can Collect

In the case of honorably discharged veterans who died after leaving the service and before receiving any mustering-out pay, the amount due may be paid to a surviving wife or husband or, if there is no wife or husband, in equal shares to children. If there is no spouse or children, payment may be in equal shares to surviving parents.

Some Excluded

Certain persons discharged or released from active duty are excluded from benefits under the law. They are:

1 Those who at time of discharge or release from active duty are transferred or returned to the retired list with retirement pay or status in which they receive retirement pay.

3: Those discharged or released from active duty on their own request to accept employment, who have not served outside the United States or in Alaska.

4: Air Corps Reserve officers entitled to a lump sum payment on return to inactive duty.

5: Members of the armed forces whose active service has been as a student detailed for training.

6: Any member of the armed forces discharged for the purpose of entering the U. S. Military Academy, U. S. Naval Academy or the U. S. Coast Guard Academy.

7: Those whose only service has been as a cadet at the Military Academy or Coast Guard Academy, as a midshipman at the Naval Academy, or in a preparatory school after nomination as a principal, alternate or candidate for admission to any such academy.

8: Any officer, who at time of discharge or release from active service, held a grade higher than that of captain in the Army or Marine Corps, lieutenant in the Navy or Coast Guard, or any captain or lieutenant with over 17 years' service for pay purposes.

Penalties are provided for false claims of mustering-out pay.

WARTIME HOMEMAKER

ABOUT THE MEAT SITUATION

By the HOMEMAKING SPECIALISTS of the General Electric Consumers Institute

Even though we have enjoyed spare ration coupons for extra pork products, don't look for too many "extras" along the way, and don't anticipate (as in the case of coffee rationing) the lifting of meat rationing for the duration.

The fact of the matter is that we can expect the meat situation to be critical for the duration with every possibility that it will become more stringent as victories free starved peoples and as our armed forces expand. Although there may be times when a small surplus (as in the case of pork recently) will be enjoyed—and welcomed.

There are a number of things you can do to stretch your meat allowance, but they all fall into three classifications:

"Extend" Meat

You can "extend" meat simply by serving more stews, meat pies, meat loaves, patties, croquettes, or casserole dishes.

Some day when ration points are low, serve Applesauce Meat Balls with steamed rice, a yellow vegetable, tossed green salad, and dessert. Here is the recipe for:

Applesauce Meat Balls

Temp.: 325°; Time: 1 hr.; Casserole or Thrift Cooker

Mix thoroughly . . ⅔ lb. ground beef
¼ lb. ground pork
½ cup applesauce
1 cup soft bread crumbs
1 egg, well beaten
½ onion, minced
salt and pepper to taste

Form into balls. Roll in flour and brown in hot fat.
Place in casserole or Thrift Cooker.
Cover with . . . . . ½ cup catsup
¼ cup water
Bake.

Save Meat "Alternates"

These are actually "meatless" meals—meals using foods rich in protein, vitamins, and minerals to substitute for meat.

Delicious meals can be served with no meat at all. For instance, Corn Loaf served with a green vegetable, fruit salad, and dessert. Here is the recipe for:

Corn Loaf

Temp.: 350°; Time: 1½ hrs.; Loaf Pan

Mix together . . . . 1 can cream-style corn
1 cup tomato soup
1 cup yellow corn meal
1 cup grated cheese
1 green pepper, diced
2 onions, minced
1 tsp. salt

Let stand ½ hour.
Beat and add . . . . 2 eggs
1 cup top milk
Pour into loaf pan and bake.

Buy "Variety" Meats

Variety meats are low in cost, low in point value, and exceedingly high in nutritive value so serve them often to stretch your ration points.

Try serving Beef Liver Creole with a fresh citrus fruit salad, a green vegetable, and dessert. Here is the recipe for:

Beef Liver Creole

Cut in thin slices 1½ lbs. beef liver
Remove skin and veins.
Roll liver in . . . . flour and brown in . . . . 2 tbsp. shortening
Add, ... 1 cup chopped onions and cook until onions are tender.
Add . . . . . 1½ cups stewed tomatoes
3 tbsp. cornstarch dissolved in ¼ cup cold water.

Cover and cook slowly 10 minutes longer. Pile mashed potatoes in center of large serving platter. Lay slices of liver on top, and pour gravy over all.

Helpful Free Booklet

These tested recipes and menu suggestions were taken from the booklet, "Make the Most of the Meat You Buy," published by the General Electric Consumers Institute and sent to you free upon request. As its title indicates, there are hundreds of tips on making the most of your meat allowance. To get your free copy, write to General Electric Consumers Institute, Dept. GN, Bridgeport, Conn.

Prisoner Of War Mail Must Bear No "V" Slogans

Advice from Germany through [illegible] channels state that, [illegible] Mar. 1, mail addressed [illegible] prisoners of war held [illegible] certain prison camps under [illegible] control will not be delivered to the addressee if it [illegible] endorsements or slogans intended to promote our war effort. Further, that such mail will be condemned without the addressee prisoners being advised.

These endorsements include such as "V for Victory." "Win the War," and other like character including post-office cancellations reading "Buy U. S. Savings Bonds. Ask Your Postmaster," "Buy War Savings Stamps and Bonds," as well as postage stamps having patriotic themes as "Win the War" and "For Defense."

This is further confirmed through information sent the American Red Cross from representatives in Switzerland.

Letters properly enveloped and sealed and postal cards addressed to the prisoner of war for whom intended shall be placed by the sender in an outer unsealed envelope (which will require no postage) simply addressed "Postmaster-Prisoner of War Mail," or with words of similar import, and placed in the mails. The letter or card will then be dispatched to New York, N. Y., for censorship treatment.

Letters and cards may be handed to clerks at service windows and when so received they will likewise be forwarded without postmarking to New York, N. Y. for censorship treatment.

The foregoing instructions apply to air mail as well as ordinary mail.

Since postage on letters and postal cards sent by air mail to prisoners of war held in Germany must be prepaid, particular care should be exercised to see that postage stamps containing slogans or patriotic themes are not used.

Parcels sent to prisoners of war must have the so-called "Next-of-Kin" label affixed and be prepared in accordance with the instructions of the Provost Marshal General. However, under no circumstances should such parcels be accepted for mailing if upon the wrapper there appear any of the objectional endorsements.

The term "prisoner of war" also includes "civilians" interned in Germany.

— Letters — To the Editor

U. S. S. P. C. 557

Dear Dads:

After reading in the Hilltop Record about the Service Club you were trying to raise money for, I thought maybe I could lend a hand. You see, when I was in New York, I spent quite a bit of time at different Service Clubs throughout the city. I didn't have hardly any money and if it hadn't been for the U. S. O.'s and canteens, I don't know what I would have done. Those organizations do an awful lot toward easing the strangeness and loneliness of servicemen on leave far from home. Through the Service Clubs I have made many valuable friends. If it hadn't been for these clubs, I would never have met them.

I wonder if I could suggest a few ideas on what the service men want in a Service Club. A Service Club should have a lot of hostesses. Some of the clubs I've been to didn't have nearly enough. One place I went to, the Music Box Canteen on Fifth-av, had the girls come there in shifts. A girl just coming in the organization would sign up for one certain night on a certain shift. The rest of the girls did the same. In that way, a girl would only come for three hours on one night each week. The shifts were from 3:00 p. m. to 6, 6 to 9 and 9 to 12. It worked out nicely.

A canteen should have a record playing machine with a good assortment of records. It should have showers and shaving facilities. A place to take a nap is often wanted. Ping-pong and pool tables are welcome. A refreshment stand that serves sandwiches and coffee and soft drinks at a small fee are swell. Things don't have to be free. A shopping service is swell. Table for purposes of letter-writing are a necessity. Those are the most important things I have noticed that service men want when they are on leave and have a few hours to kill.

I hope that the enclosed money order will help you in your project. If by any chance it does not go through, I would appreciate it if you would donate the money to the Red Cross. They have done wonderful work over here.

I am enclosing a money order for $10.

Sincerely,
K. S. McGonigal

OUR CHILDREN

We bought them skates all kinds of toys
When seven, eight, nine and ten,
Didn't think then our girls and boys
Would soon be women and men..
Get married and move the very next day,
Excuse this foolish tear,
We didn't think till they went away
The old home could look so drear.

Leaving their parents where they began
When they started in life together,
Confident and gay young girl and man
No fears for inclement weather.
Our Children, of course, will suffer the same
When THEIR children leave some day.
The rich and poor and great men of fame
Coz that is the American way

Civil Air Patrol Training Open To 15 Year-Olds

Local Columbus Civil Air Patrol Group No. 8, now under the direction of the U. S. Army Air Corps, recently announced that the enlistment for active members of the Civil Air Patrol has been lowered to 15 years for all youths who wish to prepare for one of the many branches of the Army Air Corps.

New classes will be inaugurated, shortly, on many primary courses necessary for qualifications with the Air Corps. Such classes include drill and military courtesy, radio, code, terrain familiarization, and meterology.

It is anticipated that the new program will be under way by Feb. 10. However, local Civil Air Patrol members are continuing their drive for youths between the ages of 17 and 18 for the Army Air Corps, Air Cadet Reserves and have been highly successful in developing a worth while program under the direction of the U. S. Army Air Force.

Members of Civil Air Patrol are conducting interviews and making arrangements for physical examinations for those who feel they can qualify as Air Forces, Air Cadet Reserves. All youths interested in the preliminary training conducted after a pattern from the U. S. Air Force should contact Lt. Miller at the local Civil Air Patrol Headquarters, the Goodale Armory, 888 W. Goodale-st, between the hours of 8 and 9, on Friday evenings.

Announce Changes In Used Car Transfer

For the convenience of both the public and used car dealers in operating under the new Gasoline Surrender Receipt Plan which went into effect Jan. 1, the Office of Price Administration announced recently three changes relating to the surrender of outstanding gasoline rations by the seller when new or used cars change hands.

(1) A motorist who is selling his car or truck may authorize the used car dealer who buys the vehicle to surrender his ration for him. This will make it possible for the dealer, as the motorist's agent, to turn in the unused ration to the board and obtain the necessary receipts.

(2) The seller of a car may give the receipts to the buyer any time within 48 hours after the sale. Previously these receipts had to be given up at the time the sale was made.

(3) The seller upon the showing of good cause may surrender his gasoline rations to any local board and obtain the receipts. At present, he must go to the local board which originally issued the gasoline ration.

Extra ration points for you, everytime you take your used kitchen fat to your meat dealer. And four cents a pound, as well.

Fire Analysis

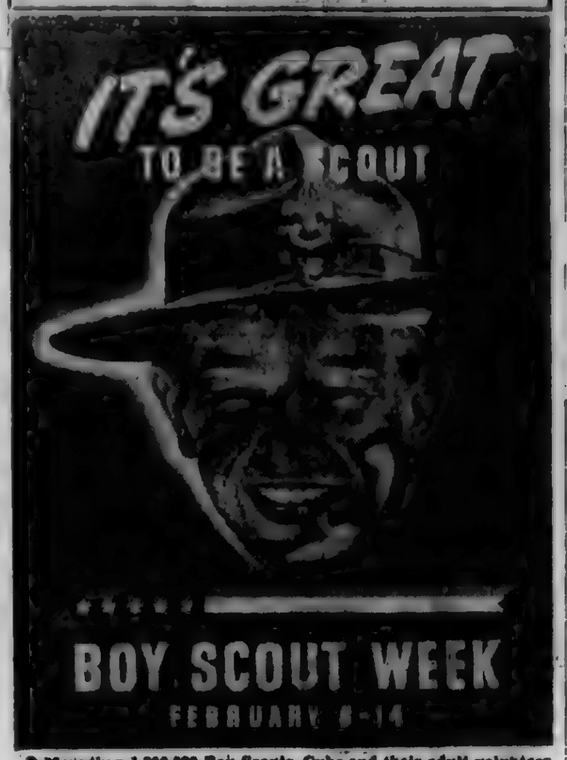
An analysis of last year's fires indicates that "carelessness" continues to be the most common cause and that most fires occur in private homes. In spite of all that has been said on regular radio programs, in spite of the many fire prevention stories that have appeared in this and other neighborhood papers, and in spite of the fact that the daily papers carry a list of from ten to fifteen fires and their causes—Columbus people persist in maintaining in their homes—fire hazards that borders on foolishness.

The Fire Prevention Bureau's annual report to Fire Chief C. W. Ogborn shows that of the 3423 fire runs in 1943, almost 2000 involved private homes, garages and automobiles which are not subject to inspections by the fire prevention bureau. Outstanding in the remaining 1400 fires were 189 false alarms, 358 grass fires and 288 rubbish fires of which 22 occured inside the home. It is difficult to understand how conditions in homes will reach the point where rubbish can start 22 fires.

Ashes in burnable containers caused 52 fires during the winter months, 30 of these being serious basement fires. Careless smokers caused 251 fires — 98 in homes and 74 in automobiles. Children and matches were responsible for 190 home fires (mostly in clothes closets) and 32 in private garages. In some these fires the automobile as well as garage was destroyed by the flames. Children were also involved in 44 rubbish fires and many of the grass fires. About 10 children received serious burns.

Fires involving places of business were usually caused by careless employes, but stringent factory rules keep fires of this nature to a minimum. Electrical defects combined with the use of improper fuses caused fires in 98 homes. Most of these fires could have been avoided by the use of approved 15 ampher fuses in the lighting circuit.

The fine fire record of Columbus' manufacturing and merchantile establishments can be equalled, or surpassed, if the home owner will make a careful check, and eliminate the above mentioned conditions that cause so many fires.



Meat pies are the Australian version of the hot dog, and in Melbourne, the substitute for a hamburger is a "dim sin," chopped meat rolled in cabbage leaves.

Chinese do not fondle pets. Dogs, patted by visitors not knowing this, may bite them out of sheer surprise.

New Caledonia is the only island in the western South Seas which is entirely free of fever.

Nourishing Egg Dishes

Buy eggs and use them often . . . try some of the novelty egg dishes that are listed in the cookbook . . . make nourishing egg drinks to give extra vitamins to the family.

A little ingenuity in the preparation of egg dishes can turn a drab dinner table into an attractive one. Eggs can be used as a garnish for salads, spinach and casserole dishes. Open-face sandwiches can be trimmed with sieved yolks of hard-cooked eggs in the shape of flower centers, and the white can then be cut into strips to resemble the petals.

If your family likes poached eggs, you might vary the method by poaching eggs in hot milk or tomato juice instead of water. Deviled eggs and spiced eggs are popular luncheon dishes. For a colorful salad, spice the eggs with pickled beet juice until they become pink. With Valentine's day next Monday; this would be a good time to try such a salad.

WHAT THE IMBECILE SAID

Oh take me back to my home again
I am sorry I ran away,
Everything here, Vulgar and profane
Please take me back today.
I should have stayed on the inside
Where things are neat and quiet
And while I live that's where I'll abide
No worry about weather nor diet.

In there I had no care nor worry
Out here everything is greed
People everywhere in a fearful hurry
Like cattle on a stampede.
Oh take me back to my home again
To my old home on the hill
Please hurry me back by hack or train
I want to see Jerry and Bill.

C. S. Parks.

The manager of a Chicago apartment hotel, renowned for the luxury of its appointments, believes that no detail should be overlooked by an establishment catering to the very rich. One rainy morning he looked out of the window of his office and saw a picketer. Appalled by the yellow, dirty poster carried by the striker, he dashed out and shouted, "Forevermore, fellow, are you trying to wreck our reputation? If you must carry that sign, let our interior decorator make a decent one for you." An hour later an artistic poster, on a piece of heavy expensive white cardboard, was handed to the picketer.—Frederick Van Ryn.

On Sunday, February 27, 1944, Point Rationing will be made easier by three simple changes:

All Red and Blue stamps in War Ration Book IV will be worth 10 points each.

One-point ration tokens will be used for "change".

All stamps will be good for nearly 12 weeks. Dates will be published.

TEN POINTS FOR EACH STAMP—ONE POINT FOR EACH TOKEN

The new plan provides a simple method for counting and budgeting points. Ten points for each stamp—one point for each token. A quick glance at your ration book tells you how many points you have. This is much better than the old system of counting 8, 5, 2 and 1.

TOKENS GIVEN FOR "CHANGE"

When purchases are made, tokens will be given in change. Red tokens for red stamps and blue tokens for blue stamps. Tokens will be valid indefinitely.

TOKENS MAY BE "SPENT"

You will come into contact with tokens for the first time when you make your first purchase after the program begins. You will not have to obtain tokens before you shop. When you pay your bill you will give your retailer stamps valued at 10 points each. If these do not total the exact amount of your purchases, you will receive "change" in return. These tokens may be used in making later purchases.

LONGER VALIDITY PERIODS

The longer validity periods (each stamp will be good for nearly 12 weeks) will have two advantages. You will have longer periods over which to budget your points, and the confusion of "last minute" rushes before expiration dates should be avoided.

FEW TOKENS NEEDED

It will not be necessary for you to carry a large number of tokens at any time. Under no circumstances will you need more than nine tokens in each color. They may be used in any store—by any member of the family.

SAVE HOURS OF SHOPPING TIME

The new plan is an easier way of handling point ration stamps. It will save you many hours of shopping time. It will save jamming stores in a month-end rush, and it will save hundreds of hours of work for your dealer—counting and sorting ration stamps.

LEARN HOW TO USE TOKENS BEFORE THE NEW SYSTEM STARTS. MAKE YOUR SHOPPING AS SIMPLE AS POSSIBLE!

PLANS COMPLETE FOR 15th MINSTREL

POST-WAR HOSPITAL POSSIBILITY HERE

THE SCRATCH PAD

By Eileen Griggs

Bouquet of Roses

To Lee Koontz, who made the patients of the Tuberculosis Hospital a little happier by taking a show there last Friday night to entertain them for several hours.

Sad part, however, is that on the way home, the icy streets resulted in his having to park his automobile on the lawn of the Red Bird Stadium overnight.

As you know, he is director of this year's Hilltop Minstrel show.

As In Olden Times

Just like days of old, the women of the village of Valley View gather together monthly, bringing hand work and trading. Their collection of sales tax is the only income derived by this group which has no dues, no officers—just meetin's.

Occasionally, pot-luck luncheons and jitney suppers, plus several picnics in summer, bring entire families together.

Communities need more of such pioneer spirit.

Missed for quite sometime has been Mrs. Laura Beaver who, for a number of years, has been placing room rent ads in this hyar newspaper. Sorry, we are, to learn she has been confined to a hospital seriously ill of pneumonia.

Glad, however, to know she is well on the road to recovery and can see friends at her home, 58 S. Oakley-av.

Many of those now in the armed forces have been roomers at her home in the past

It's A Boy!

Born to the Harold Ross' who now reside in Chillicothe. John Phllip made his appearance on Jan. 31.

January seems to be the month of birthdays for this family. Their daughter, Natalie Ann, celebrates on the 17th, followed a week later by Dad's.

Mama Phyliss Ross will be remembered as the Record Society Editor about eight years ago.

Return Evelyn Braden!

A petition has been circulated and turned in to the recreation commission, to secure the return of the services of Evelyn Braden to the Glenwood Shelter House.

She had been at Glenwood for four years and during that time had formed two Girl Scout groups, plus having sewing groups of all kinds for young girls. Since her removal, the girls she headed seem reluctant to attend the recreation house.

In view of the present recreation problem, her return is needed.

Rumor Group Interested In Powell Lots

The construction of a hospital on the Hilltop, when the war is over, is being considered by a group of Hilltop business men, physicians and dentists, it was learned upon reliable authority by The Hilltop Record this week.

The proposed undertaking has not even reached the preliminary planning stage, according to one spokesman, who would not be quoted, although admitting that such an institution had been seriously discussed.

Presumably the group is interested in the purchase of the property located south of Broad-st between Powell-av and Roys-av, and extending to Olive st. This property is part of the Powell estate, and consists of about 200 lots.

It was learned that this property will be sold in settling the estate, but litigation may hold up the sale. The group said to be interested in the property at the present time "has no intention of establishing a housing project" nor does it plan "to continue Chase-av through the area," the Record learned. South Chase-av does not extend to Broad-st

The properties were utilized by victory gardeners last year, under the supervision of Mrs. Ray G. Hauntz. They will again be used for this purpose the coming spring and summer, but it was learned that Mrs. Hauntz had been informed to advise the gardeners that "some of the lots may be sold."

Clark Is Re-Elected Sec'y. Of Sunset

Re-election of Charles D. Clark, well-known cemetery engineer and landscape architect, to a three-year term as trustee and secretary of Sunset Cemetery association with offices at 6559 W. Broad-st, was announced Monday.

Mr. Clark was one of the original charter signers and has served as secretary since the association was incorporated Nov. 22, 1922. He was renamed at the 17th annual meeting of the organization.

Other trustees renamed included L. B Wagner, president, and Otis D. Leach, treasurer and managing trustee.

Report of trustees of the perpetual care fund of Sunset cemetery, Columbarium and Mausoleum showed $14,300 in U. S. government bonds; $11,600 in first mortgage loans of less than 60 per cent of their actual value; $5000 in Hilltop Bldg. & Loan Assn. shares and $27,476.64 uninvested cash in City National Bank & Trust Co. trust department for a total of $58,376.64.

John P. Haag, 71, Drops Dead At Physicians Office

Funeral services for John P. Haag, 71, 1533 Brown-rd, who died Tuesday on the steps of a physician's office at 2239 W. Broad-st, will be held this afternoon at 1:30 at Green Lawn Cemetery Chapel. Mr. Haag was caretaker at Green Lawn Cemetery until illness forced him to retire last Christmas.

Dr. Edward E. Smith, coroner, said he apparently suffered a heart attack as he was about to enter the office of Dr. Howard Whitehead, who said he had treated him several times.

He was taken in a Floyd Born ambulance to Mt. Carmel Hospital, where he was pronounced dead.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Minnie Haag; two sons, Frank and John Haag, Grove City; four daughters, Mrs. Clara Tiffany, 529 W. State-st; Mrs. Anna Kientz, 1551 Withers-av; Mrs. Nora Sebring, Michigan City, Ind., and Mrs. Flora Garling, 814 Harrisburg-pk; 12 grandchildren and a great-grandchild.

COMMISSIONER SPEAKS

George Matson, 87 N. Warren-av, Franklin County Commissioner, spoke to the Kiwanis Club in Linden, Monday evening.

Mrs. Ferne Haley Wins Show Tickets

Mrs. Ferne Haley, 167 Lechner-av, was named winner of two tickets to the 15th Hilltop Minstrel for turning in the best joke (that could be used in the show).

Mrs. Haley says she wishes the Minstrel cast "good luck, and hopes to see the show again this year."

The prize tickets will be mailed to Mrs. Haley immediately.

Name Spears Recreation Council Head

At a meeting of the newly formed Community Recreation Council held Monday evening in West Broad Street School, Jerry Spears, 2693 W. Broad-st, was elected president. He is well-acquainted with the problems which confront children and the necessities required to prevent further juvenile delinquency.

Guest speaker for the evening was Judge Clayton W. Rose, Domestic Relations Court, who reported that in 1942, the total number of delinquencies registered were 1061; the total number in 1943 were 1385. This was a total increase of 30 percent including boys and girls, white and colored. This can be placed to the fact that war industry has brought 36,000 people into Columbus, who are, generally speaking, from the ranks of the lower income groups, both parents working, with their children being forced to shift for themselves.

"Our responsibility in curbing juvenile delinquency comes first in strengthening the homes. I mean by that, more co-operation between parents and children in home activities is essential. That mothers of small children should be discouraged from working unless adequate care is provided for the children. The legal and moral responsibility of parents in caring for their children must bear greater emphasis."

Other officers named were Mrs. Leo Uridil, 106 Binns-blvd, vice president; Robert Nash, teacher at West High School, 157 Sheffield-rd, secretary; and Henry Geshwilm, 421 S. Terrace-av, treasurer. William Stokes, 451 S.

George Derrer, 78, Pioneer Hilltopper Taken By Death

George Derrer, 78, of 308 Derrer-rd, dairyman and breeder of purebred Holstein cattle, died Tuesday in Mercy Hospital after a week's illness.

He had been in the dairy business since 1885 when he operated a retail route on the Hilltop. He had bred Holstein cattle since 1907, and had owned and operated several threshing outfits since 1890.

Mr. Derrer was a lifelong resident of Franklin County and a part owner of the Derrerfield Farms, 117 Derrer-rd. Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Catherine "Tillie" Derrer; a brother, Jonas Derrer; a sister, Mrs. John Althen, and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services will be at 3 o'clock this afternoon in the Schoedinger funeral home. Burial will be in Green Lawn Cemetery.

Retires After 37 Years With N. Y. C.

Harvey Betts, 1780 Brown-rd, retired Monday from the New York Central Railroad after serving 37 years. He was an engineer.

Betts, who was honored Tuesday evening with a party at the Seneca Hotel, will spend his time on his five-acre farm, raising rabbits.

PASSES MEDICAL EXAM

Charles E. Johnston, 196 Binnsblvd, successfully passed the State Medical Board examinations given last December, it was announced this week.

Show Business Not New To Director Of 15th Show

Lee Koontz

Jack Lee, better known to Hilltoppers, as Leonell Allan Koontz, West High, '29, is the director of the 15th annual showing of the Hilltop Minstrels, scheduled for next Thursday and Friday evenings at the West High auditorium.

Lee, a professional entertainer for 16 years, was assigned the directorship of the local show this year—the first professional to direct the pageant since Harry Freeman did the chore at the first performance.

Starting as an amateur song and dance man while still in West High School, Koontz gradually branched out to other phases of the entertainment field, and since then has done song and dance acts, comedy and novelty performances, and a bit of master of ceremonies work.

Recently he took a week off from his duties at the Hilltop Record, where he is employed as a stereot per, to make a three-stop tour of West Virginia, spending two days in Beckley, and one night stands in Mt. Hope and Huntington.

He has played in the 48 states, Canada, Mexico and the Burmuda Islands, so don't look for him to be stage-struck Thursday night at the first showing of the local show.

Neither is he new to the Hilltop Minstrel. He did a song and dance act in this first presentation, 15 years ago; appeared two years ago in the well-remembered "10 Little Bottles," and had a song act last year. He comes back this year as the director, assisted by Herb and Lou Saunders.

Lee is married to a girl he met nine years ago while playing the Southeastern Fair at Atlanta, Ga. They have one son, Gary Conrad, and live at 354 S. Richardson-av.

Non-subscribers wishing to obtain the paper may make arrangements to do so at the HILLTOP RECORD office, 2463 W. Broad-st.

Parking Ban Slated For 10 Streets

An amendment to the city traffic code which may eliminate parking on 10 Hilltop streets as far south and north to the first alley from Broad-st, will probably be passed by city council Monday, according to Hilltop councilman Ray G. Hauntz.

Parking on both sides of Harris, Warren, Burgess, Richardson, Terrace, Eureka, Wayne and Eldon avenues will be prohibited, as far north and south as the first alley.

The move was precipitated by the fire department officials, who claim that parking on both sides of the narrow streets prohibited fire apparatus from getting through.

The Safety Committee of the Hilltop Business Men's Association, headed by C. G. Wilcox, recommended last week that a larger area be included in the ban, as well as a section on Sullivant-av. The committee would include the stretch on Broad-st from Midland-av to Binns-blvd and on Sullivant from Highland-av to Powell-av.

Eureka Ave. Woman Killed In Fall

Funeral services will be conducted tomorrow at 2:30 p. m. in the Spears Chapel, 2693 W. Broad-st, for Mrs. Lucretia Blanche Alspach. Interment will be in Union Cemetery.

Mrs. Alspach, 62, 53 S. Eureka-av, was killed early Monday when she fell down a flight of steps at her home, emergency squadmen who found the woman dead when they arrived reported. Dr. E. E. Smith, coroner, examined the body.

Mrs. Alspach is survived by her husband, Renney Alspach; daughter, Mrs. Alice Mirise; father, Noah Riggle, of the same address; sister, Mrs. N. W. Huelf, 208 N. Oakley-av, and a brother, Daniel Riggle, 215 N. Powell.

Presidents Here For Cage Tilt Tonight

West High Buckaroos, struggling valiantly to remove themselves from the cellar position in the city cage loop, will meet the surprisingly strong Linden McKinley five tonight at the West High gym.

South's Bulldogs clinched the city title Tuesday evening by taking the Presidents for the Blue's eleventh consecutive victory. West meanwhile was losing to North, 30-22 to tumble back into a tie with East for last place. The Tigers surprised all by handing Aquinas a 34-32 licking.

West was completely handcuffed Tuesday, no Buck being able to score more than four points. Only eight times did the locals hit the hoop from the field. Added misery came when the North Reserves defeated the Buck futures, 27-18.

In one of the roughest games of the season, West High's fighting Buckaroos came close to taking the Aquinas Terriers last Friday, but finally lost 32-27. Thirty eight personal fouls were called in a disorderly game, in which fans advanced upon the officials on the floor. Both teams are out of the title race, but the green and Gold still had a remote chance when the game was played.

West-Central Next Friday

The Hilltoppers will close their 1943-44 cage campaign next Friday when West invades the Central hardwood. In all probability the Bucks will enter the Central District tournament, however.

1st Show Thursday At West Hi School

Fifteenth showing of the Hilltop Minstrels, long one of the finest community shows in Columbus, is scheduled to open next Thursday evening at West High School's auditorium.

Starring a galaxy of Hilltop business men, and directed by Lee Koontz, the curtain will raise, on this, the finest Business Men's show, promptly at 8:15 o'clock. Assisting Koontz in the direction of the pageant, which includes the usual willy-nilly end men, the magnificent Hilltop Chorus, and a dozen special olio acts, will be Herb Deems, secretary of the First Federal Savings & Loan Ass'n., and Lou Saunders, of the Shank and Saunders Real Estate and Insurance firm.

Tickets Go On Sale At Shank and Saunders Office, 2459 W. Broad St., Tomorrow Morning

Ducats for this community extravaganza, are now on sale by members of the Hilltop Business Men's Association. General admission tickets sell at 35 cents.

Reserved seats available at 50 cents in the lower section of the balcony and in the downstairs wing and center sections back to row O, will be available at Shank and Saunders, 2459 W. Broad-st, Saturday (tomorrow) at 8:30 a. m. No reserved seats have been, nor will be sold, before then.

Tickets may be purchased for either showing of the Minstrels. General admission ducats will also be available at the box office as long as they last.

Director Koontz Says Show Is Finest Of Series; Leo Phillips Heads End Men

Director Lee Koontz, professional entertainer for 16 years, said plans had been completed to present the finest show of the long series. "We're going to give them the works this year," he said, "and for a little while next Thursday and Friday evenings, give Hilltop people a chance to relax from thinking of war work and war troubles."

Interlocutor for this year's show is Dr. Raymond J. Miller, chiropractor with offices at Terrace and Broad-sts. Jousting with him in the comedy routines will be a quartet of end men, headed by the always popular Leo Phillips, long a standout in Hilltop Minstrel performance. This year the quartet will be completed by George Hardy, president of the West High Alumni Association, a bad actor on local ball diamonds but a dandy on the stage; Dick Becker, long known to local minstrel fans; and Art Brown, an old time minstrel performer, who is making his first appearance in the local show.

Hilltop Chorus, Winners Of Many Prizes, Again Furnishes Background

The Hilltop Male Chorus, comparable to any in Ohio, and winner of prizes in competitions throughout the state, will again furnish the musical background for the show, again being under the direction of Dale Gilliland, of the Department of Music, the Ohio State University.

"Waiting on the Robert E. Lee" and "Show Boat" will open the performance. Other numbers to be presented by the chorus will include "Close Harmony," "Sky Anchors Away," "Bells of St. Mary's," and "You Can Take Me Away from Dixie, but You Can't Take Dixie Away from Me."

The chorus will close the show with "Great Day" and "Over There."

One of the several supplementary solo features will be "I Got Plenty of Nothing," by E. B. Graham, principal of John Burrough Elementary School.

Don't Risk Roof Leaks
BAD weather quickly locates the weak spots in roofs. New leaks develop, and old ones get worse. Wise property owners don't take chances—they have risky roofs put in good condition or replaced before any damage occurs.
When new roofs are needed, we can supply the right type of Asphalt Shingles or Roll Roofings at the right price. We'll gladly give a free estimate on these needed roofs.

C. H. Campbell, is at home on a 10-day leave from Camp Rucker, Ala. . . . . Gladys Lamb, who is generally rushing hither and yon in a dither, called the office one day last week to report her coin purse missing, later called to say she has found it—in one of her boots. . . . . Lynn Hall is the new operator of the Gaffney Beauty Salon, and will specialize in Cold Wave permanents. . . . Edna Cockley has taken a position in St. Louis and her sister, Kathryn, will take a position in Canada around the first of June, as wife of a Canadian—too bad some of the ladies must lose such an excellent beauty operator. . . . .

Overheard, but not on a bus—A lady to her little girl, "Don't eat more than two pieces of candy or you'll be sick—and I haven't time for you to be sick."

Columbia Heights

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Suver attended the P-T. A. Benefit dance at Grove City High School recently.

Dr. and Mrs. William O'Harro have returned home from Ft. Myers, Fla., where they were visiting Staff Sgt. and Mrs. J. D. Adams (Mary Katherine O'Harro).

Mr. and Mrs. William Kinneard of West Jefferson, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Weaver.

Miss Martha Suver spent the weekend with relatives in Columbus.

GROUND HOG PROPHETS

Why can't the hogs predict the weather
Without looking for their 'shadder.'
Why can't they talk it over together
And quit trying to climb a ladder?
If they were prophets wise and clever
As we hear some people say
Then why can't they prophecy forever
Without leaving their abode of clay?

Why can't they broadcast their predictions
For Ohio and other states too.
There surely wouldn't be any convictions,
Coz radio crooners we can't subdue.
I think they are losing their reputation,
All the good prophets are dead,
And I am certain this young generation
Is not so very well read.

Ferguson Candidate For State Auditor

State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson will seek re-election to the office of Auditor of State despite the fact that party leaders and friends throughout the state have urged him to become a candidate for Governor.

In a formal statement announcing his candidacy, Mr. Ferguson said: "Many Democrats throughout the state have asked me to become a candidate for Governor of Ohio. I deem it my duty at this time to forego any personal ambition I might have to be Governor of Ohio and instead seek to serve again as Auditor of State."

15TH ANNUAL HILLTOP MINSTREL FEB. 24-25

Hilltop Male Chorus To Again Sing In Background Of Show

Twelfth Minstrel Appearance; Winners Of Six Eisteddfods; Group Now Reduced Due To Some Members in Armed Forces

The Hilltop Male Chorus was organized on Oct. 26, 1931. Eight men attended the first rehearsal. W. Haydn Jones was chosen director, C. J. Kohn, now deceased, was named president; and C. H. Campbell, elected secretary-treasurer.

New members quickly joined and on Dec. 27, the chorus made its first public appearance, giving a Sunday afternoon concert at the Little Theater of the Columbus Art Gallery. On Feb. 22, 1932, they engaged in their first contest, entering the Northern Ohio Eisteddfod at Marion. This contest was won by Lima but the Hilltop singers proved stiff competitors. Since that time this group has competed in nine eisteddfods and on only three occasions has it failed to land a prize. This splendid record makes it central Ohio's most outstanding group of competitive singers and it is one that can be counted on to do its best work against the stiffest competition.

In addition to its work in competition, which requires a great deal of diligent and painstaking rehearsal, the chorus has furnished the musical background for each year's Hilltop Minstrel, as they will do again this year, even though the group has been greatly reduced in number, due to the war-time emergency.

This hard working group meets each Monday night from the beginning of September, 'till the end of May and they spend one and a half to two hours in rehearsal. Before contests and minstrels, they hold as much as three

Jackie's Tellin' George

Pictured above is George and Jackie Hardy. Jackie is the small one. George, long known for his mild-mannered tactics on the ball field, a pleasant and gentle-mannered soul, will be one of the end men in this 15th annual renewal of the Hilltop Minstrels.

Those who know George as a ball player hope that there will be no umpires in the audience the night he does his act. Those who know George as a ball player know that the show will stop while George argues a hopeless and forlorn cause.

George is going to do a dance, —yea a dance—"I can't do my dance without my teacher."

Curtain To Be Raised At 8:15 In West Hi School Auditorium

Leo Phillips, Art Brown, Geo. Hardy, Dick Becker, Endmen; Eleven Ohio Acts Include Last of Old Time Bone Rattlers

All is in readiness for the 15th Annual Hilltop Minstrel which will be staged next Thursday and Friday, Feb. 24 and 25, in the auditorium of West High School under the direction of Lee Koontz. The Hilltop Male Chorus will furnish the musical background under the baton of Dale V. Gilliland.

The show will get under way promptly at 8:15 p. m. with the opening chorus numbers, followed by the introduction of the endmen: Leo Phillips, Art Brown, George Hardy and Dick Becker.

Included in the program are ten crack olio acts, as well as a bone rattling act by Al Kerns, old time minstrel man, who will perform to the tune "I Never Knew."

Joan McKinney, 274 Powhatan-av, who last year gave the "American Creed," will do a Mexican dance.

Bill Minister, 41 N. Westmoor-av, will play "Star Dust" on the marimba.

Special Irish music will accompany Joan Lytle, 15 Whitethorn-av, and Sandy Mahoney, 2735 Ridge-av, in their Irish dances.

Frank Ongara, 57 Letchworth-av, who last year brought the house down as it called for encore after encore, will again play the accordian.

Miss Keith Lovewell, of the Keith School of Dancing, 3105 W. Broad-st, and five of her pupils: Mary Ann Gillivan, 77 S. Brinker-av; Virginia Jones, 152 Guernsey-av; Cherry Ann Moss, 228 S. Terrace-st; Joyce Miller, 528 Columbian-av; and Sue Ann Elleman, 440 S. Huron-av, will do a rhumba to "Si Si" and "Momma Inez."

"Down Argentine Way" will be accompaniment in the Spanish dance of Betty Knodel, 416 S. Richardson-av, and Donna Raymond, 438 S. Richardson-av.

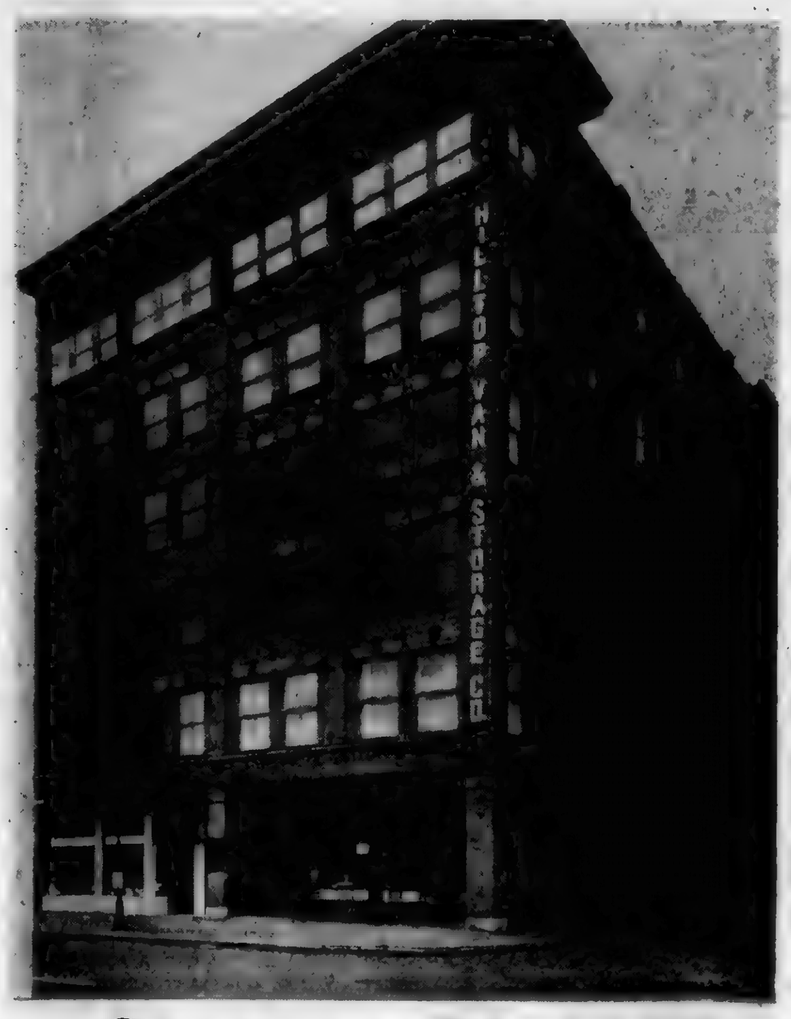
"Red Caps" for the "Chatanooga Choo-choo" will be Mary Ann and Clair Jane Gillivan, 77 S. Brinker-av. "Cottontown" is the music for their second part.

Sue Keller, 740 S. Richardson-av, and Barbara Bell, 396 S. Eureka-av, will capture your heart with "I'll Capture Your Heart" with tap dancing tossed in.

Carolyn Croy, 3195 Parkside-dr, and Nancy Reed, 242 S. Southampton-av, will do an accordian duet, "Anchors Aweigh," and a few other favorites.

"Can you serve company?" asked the mistress.

"Yes, both ways, mum," replied the new maid.



"Both ways?"

"Yes, mum. So they'll come again or so they'll stay away."

Before Pearl Harbor, United States obtained 80% of its imported fats, oils and oil seeds from Pacific areas, now in enemy hands. The government now needs your used household fats for munitions and medicine. Turn them in for cash and extra ration points.

He was having difficulty in fitting himself with a pair of shoes. Then he noticed on the inside of the shoe he had been trying on "Made Expressly For Oscar Walkover."

"Well, I'll be durned," he grumbled. "No wonder they can't fit me."

Glycerine from your used fats is a killer in explosives, a life saver in sulfa drugs. Save a tablespoon of used fats a day. Turn it in to your meat dealer for cash and extra ration points.

In Guatemala, natives use oil from avocadoes as a treatment for burns. Your used household fat is needed to make tannic acid to treat powder burns. Turn it in for cash and extra ration points.

rehearsals in one week. These men sing because they love it and extra rehearsals are always cheerfully attended.

W. Haydn Jones, the first director of the group, led them through eight seasons, after which ill health and the press of business responsibilities forced him to relinquish the position.

In the autumn of 1939, Prof Dale V. Gilliland, of the department of music at Ohio State University, accepted the position of director and the work of the chorus in the past few years is a fine tribute to his capable leadership.

Present members of the chorus are:

First Tenors—Charles Apel, John Aston, I. L. Kidd, Harry Lenz, Howard Moon, *Jack Newlon, R. F. Robinson, Sam Russell, J. G. Smith, *Lowell Thomas, Norman Winnard.

Second Tenors—Donald Baker, Arthur Corcoran, Lawrence Doughty, E. R. Gildersleeve, T. C. Herbert, *Edgar House, George Kennedy, Paul Nuss, E. W. Reeves, William Scharenburg, Bernard Shoaf, Charles Vance, *Howard Vawters, William J. Walker.

Basses—John T. Davies, Jack Embrey, Ansoh Fox, Charles Gardner, L. D. Helyer, C. W. Humphreys, *Dale Leonard, C. C. Marshall, W. A. Neff, *Robert Nichols, Fred Perkins, *Norman Predmore, John Raymond, Ivan Reed, Earl Woltz and J. Howard Young.

Present accompanist is Dwight Frasure who has taken over since Ferne Buckingham took up defense work.

* In armed forces.

Not all of the members will appear in the minstrel chorus, however.

AT ANNAPOLIS

"What time is it?"

"Sir, I am deeply embarrassed and greatly humiliated that, due to unforseen circumstances over which I have no control, the inner working and hidden mechanisms of my chronometer are in such inaccord with the great sideral movement with which time is commonly reckoned, that I cannot with any degree of accuracy state the exact time, Sir. But without fear of being very far off, I will state that it is -- minutes, -- seconds, and -- ticks after the hour."

Newly Married — "I'd like to see your stockings—"

Sweet Young Clerk—"Sir—"

Newly Married—"That are on sale."

Sweet Young Clerk—"Tainly."

"Sorry I can't wait any longer for you to get ready, dear—my furlough is up!"

Customer — "I want to see something cheap in a silver hand mirror."

Tactless Salesman—"Certainly. Now just take a look at the one I have here, madam."

Soloist

Richard Borror

Richard Borror, a high soprano singer, formerly with the Boys' Trinity Choir under the direction of the late "Pop" Hoenig, will sing a Scotch song composed by Sir Harry Lauder in memory of his son following his death in the last World War.

The song is "The End of The Road."

Young Borror, who will be 13 next month, will also give a Scotch sword dance. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Borror, 104 S. Westgate-av.

Publicity

Noble L. Allen

Friendly, easy-going Noble Allen is the chap who tells the world about the 15th edition of the Hilltop Minstrels. How he finds the time to do it all, nobody knows, but the job is always done.

He's active in many community affairs, but takes greatest pride in his work with the Cub Scouts and the auxiliary police. A great guy, Noble.

He is a mortician, at 2456 W. Broad-st.

Over the Phone— Do you have Prince Albert in a can?"

Service—"Yes, sir, we do."

Q. T. P.—"Let him out."

"I understand he belongs to the original Waterproof Quartet."

"What a peculiar name for a group of singers!"

"Yes, that's because you can't drown them out."

"Have you heard the Four-Wheel Brake Song?"

"No. How does it go?"

"For we'll break the news to mother."

One fellow whose work is usually on the up and up is the chef of an ocean liner.

In the army, glycerine compounds rank second only to alcohol as a solvent in medicinal solutions. Save your glycerine-bearing used kitchen fats. Turn them in regularly for cash and extra ration points.

Fatty acids make plastics pliable at all temperatures. These plastic sheets enable the army to get mechanical parts to battle-fronts free from rust and corrosion. Turn in your used kitchen fats for cash and extra ration points.

A stranger ordered a light lunch in a Texas restaurant and after eating told the waitress he had no money with which to pay his check. The girl offered to pay it and upon returning with her purse, the man gratefully refused —and gave her a hundred dollar bill.

Back the attack and out-maneuver the Squander Bug. Buy extra 4th War Loan Bonds.

"Waiter! Why is this milk so weak?"

"Why, the cows got caught in the rain."

Jessie—"I was taken to dinner by that officer you introduced me to. He was quite gallant and remarked upon my birdlike appetite."

Tillie—"He should know, dear; he runs an ostrich farm in South Africa."

"Have you heard the new Swan Song?"

"Why, no?"

"Ha, that's swan on you."

"He claims to be a great emotional actor. Did he move the audience last night?"

"I'll say he did. They all left at the end of the first act."

The Squander Bug dines on the dollars you fritter away. But he can't digest 4th War Loan Bonds. The more you buy, the worse he feels.

Advertising

Jack Shank

Few personalities on the Hilltop have more personality. Here is a law unto himself, but a fellow among men. Nobody agrees with what he says, yet everybody believes what he says. And he's saying all the time.

A first rate, square-shooting, raconteur (shucks, he doesn't know what raconteur means), you'll find him always where the action is thickest. Real estate is his business, but then why advertise the pore il'l feller.

A man of diminutive proportions sat down at the restaurant table.

"I want some salad," he said.

"What kind? shrimp?" asked the waiter.

"Don't get funny with me, young man!"

"There was a terrible fire down the street!"

"Any lives lost?"

"A servant girl; they couldn't get her to leave without a week's notice."

Claire—"Let me see I'll have an oyster cocktail, mock turtle soup, baked salmon, sirloin steak candied sweet potatoes, peach melba, apple pie a la mode, demi tasste and cheese and crackers What will you have?"

Co-Chairman

Lou Saunders

Lou is a goodly and friendly fellow, whose business it is to sell insurance, but who makes if his business to pass the good word to his neighbor 'ere the morning is long spent.

He's helping Lee Koontz, director, and Herb Deems, his associate co-director, in producing this, the best, of the 15 Hilltop Minstrels.

He's associated with Jack Shank in the Shank & Saunders real estate and insurance business.

The single war unit requiring the most fat in its production is the pontoon bridge. A ten-ton bridge of this type uses 3200 pounds of synthetic rubber. In the process of making this rubber, approximately 171 pounds of fat are required. Save your used kitchen fats regularly. Turn them in for cash and extra ration points.

HE GOT IT

A Marine entered Ship's Service. The blonde waitress shouted at him: "What do you want, handsome?" "A hamburger and a kind word,' was the reply.

The waitress brought the hamburger and was moving away when the Marine stopped her. "What about the kind word?"

"Don't eat the hamburger."

A Navy gun captain was at home by the stove dozing peacefully. Suddenly the stove door came open and flames shot out.

"Dinah."

There's no question about what Leo's ditty will be in the 15th showing of the Hilltop Minstrels next week. Somehow, someway, somewhere, there'll be a call for "Dinah" from the audience, and Leo — good-natured Leo — will meet the request.

For 14 years, Leo has been an end man in the local show. Most of the time he's had to practice "Dinah," for his finest efforts with this song, no matter his specialty of the evening, have brought the house into the aisles.

Sure, Leo will give out with "Dinah" again this year. Take 'er away, copper.

Costumes

John Riepenhoff

John is a long time member of the Hilltop Business Men's Association, and one of the organization's hardest workers. He's in charge of costumes, and those war time days give him tribulations and trials beyond the further troubling of any hour. But John always comes through.

He operates a dry-cleaning establishment at 2530 Sullivant-av.

The army is turning in 3 pounds of fat per man per month. Civilian quota is just one pound per month for a whole family. Save a tablespoon of fat a day. Turn it in for cash and extra ration points.

A match flare in a blackout is visible to a flier a mile high.

THE FOUR FREEDOMS

1. Freedom of speech and expression — "everywhere in the world.

2. Freedom of every person to worship God in his own way—everywhere in the world.

3. Freedom from want, which translated into world terms means economic understandings which will secure to every nation a healthy peacetime life for its inhabitants everywhere in the world.

4. Freedom from fear, which translated into world terms means a worldwide reduction of armaments to such a point and in such a thorough fashion that no nation will be in a position to commit an act of physical aggression against any neighbor—anywhere in the world.

NOW IT CAN BE TOLD!

Women are like newspapers because:

They have forms; and are made up; have bold types, always have the last word; back numbers are not in demand; have a great deal of influence; are well worth looking over; carry the news wherever they go; you cannot believe everything they say; they are never afraid to speak; they are much thinner than they used to be; every man should have one of his own and not borrow one from his neighbors.

One of the RAF stories concerns Hitler's suggestion that he and his staff fly over London and inspect the damage reported done by their bombers. They took off before dawn with an escort of fighters and Hitler soon fell asleep. He awoke at dawn and saw below him a devastated city with not a single building standing.

"Wonderful, wonderful," he complimented Goering.

"Sh, go to sleep again," came the reply, "that was Hamburg."

One pound of used fats yields enough glycerine for 78 smallpox inoculations, or 1.5 pounds of gunpowder. One pound of used fats is just 31 tablespoons full. Save a tablespoonful a day, turn it in for cash and extra ration points.

Freedom First

To help bring Victory sooner, we have all been asked by the Government to conserve Electricity, so as to save important war materials such as coal, copper, manpower, and transportation.

Freedom was hard fought for in days of yore. Let's fight even harder to keep it today.

WASTE RETARDS VICTORY! DON'T WASTE ELECTRICITY JUST BECAUSE IT ISN'T RATIONED.

The money that's put into 4th War Loan Bonds is out of reach of the Squander Bug.

"She asks how many lumps I'll have in my tea—"

"Yeah?"

"So I tells her, 'I'll take mine smooth, please.'"

"Jack, when we're married, I must have three servants."

"You shall have twenty, dear; but not all at once."

"How was the attendance at our new musical comedy?"

"Well, on the opening night nobody came, but next day at the matinee the attendance fell off a bit."

Don't let the Squander Bug get your money. Put it in 4th War Loan Bonds.

"Did that new play have a happy ending?"

"Sure everybody was glad it was over."

"It's sabotage" to waste used household fats, says an A. A. F. bulletin posted in mess halls throughout the country. Turn in your used kitchen fats for cash and extra ration points.

WHO IS MAKING THE GREATEST SACRIFICE ?

The woman who gives up buying a new fur coat and buys several $100 War Bonds with the money, or . . .

Newly Married — "I'd like to see your stockings—"

Sweet Young Clerk—"Sir—"

Newly Married—"That are on sale."

Sweet Young Clerk—"Tainly."

"Sorry I can't wait any longer for you to get ready, dear—my furlough is up!"

Customer — "I want to see something cheap in a silver hand mirror."

Tactless Salesman—"Certainly. Now just take a look at the one I have here, madam."

Let's all BACK THE ATTACK!

Your Government wants you to support this war by buying at least one extra $100 Bond.

You may not find it easy to spare an extra $100. But---

If the men in our armed forces can afford to give their limbs and lives--then certainly you can afford to lend at least $100 . . . or $200 . . . or $300 . . . or even $500.

Be a good American--buy extra Bonds Right Now!

A speaker at the meeting of the British Association said that butterflies recognize each other at a distance of three and a half feet. But that is only because the insects never owe each other money.

The Squander Bug will puff with elation and cause inflation, if you don't buy 4th War Loan Bonds.

The Head of the House—"Why didn't you answer the telephone?"

The New Maid—"I was afraid, Ma'am."

The Head of the House—"Then why didn't you call me, you simpleton?"

The New Maid—"I wouldn't dare to call you anything like that, Ma'am."

One good thing about singing over the radio is that they can't throw eggs at you.

There is enough nicotine in the average cigar to kill 32 rabbits. But imagine 32 rabbits smoking one cigar!

Back the attack—and give the Squander Bug a stab in the back—with an extra 4th War Loan Bond.

"It must be kind of difficult to eat soup with a mustache."

"Yes, it's quite a strain."

Drunk—"Shay, you cheated me. You sold me this cigar and I want my money back."

Co-Chairman

Herbert G. Deems

Co-chairman with Lou Saunders and Lee Koontz, Herb has few superiors among friendly fellows.

He's secretary of the First Federal Savings & Loan Association, and as proud of his job as any man alive.

You've heard his hearty "good morning" and you've been happier the day through for his goodly greeting. He bids you well, and means it from the bottom of his heart.

They call them Glee Clubs because their singing is such a joke.

Clerk—"A collar for your husband? What size?"

Wife—"I've forgotten the size, but I can just reach around his neck with both hands."

Every mile our boys win means longer communication lines. These mean greater expense, more energy, more of everything from all of us.

Let's All Back the Attack: Buy More War Bonds.

"My plate is damp," complained a traveler who was dining in a London hotel.

"Hush," whispered his wife, "that's your soup."

"Hate food."

"Why?"

"Goes to my stomach."

Emily—"Pardon me, Arthur, did you say ice cream?"

Arthur—"Indeed not, Emily, you hardly speak above a whisper."

Extravagant spending of money at home results in unobtainable extra war bonds today to keep spending of blood in battle. Buy our casualties to a minimum. Let's all back the attack.

"This is a good restaurant, isn't it?"

"Yes. If you order a fresh egg, you get the freshest egg in the world. If you order a good cup of coffee you get the best cup of coffee in the world, and—"

"I believe you. I ordered a small steak!"

Bombs aren't falling on your street, so you feel safe.

Help keep it that way.

Let's All Back the Attack: Buy More War Bonds.

"You big bum, why don't you join the Navy?"

"Aw, heck, who wants to be an Admiral?"

Mr. A. Shopliftah will now sing, I'm leaving my Home Sweet Home, accompanied by the police force.

Your son, brother, husband in uniform is standing at the side of every canvasser in the 4th War Loan, watching, waiting, wishing. Let's all back the attack.

"You say these hats are 20 dollars. Good buy."

"Yes, goodbye 20 dollars."

Musician

Dale Gilliland

A learned gentleman, guiding the destinies of Hilltop singers for lo, these many years, Dale will again preside with the baton when the Hilltop Business Men's Chorus furnish the background music for the 15th annual Hilltop Minstrel Show next week.

Mistress—"Have you finished cleaning the brass ornaments yet?"

Maid (sore about something)—"Yes, ma'am—all except your rings and bracelets."

Clerk—"Why, what's the matter with it?"

Drunk—"You shed this wash a walking cane and here it won't take a shtep."

Less than half of the American people own War Bonds. Supposing only half of our army decided to fight? Let's all back the attack with extra War Bonds.

"I hate most of all to visit a shoe store—inevitably I pull a boner. Yes, whenever I go to buy a shoe, I put my foot in it."

"Why do you always smoke cigars without bands?"

"I enjoy a quiet smoke."

The Squander Bug dines on the dollars you throw away. Give him a starvation diet. Salt your dough into 4th War Loan Bonds.

"Don't you think Estelle sings with feeling?"

"Not for the neighbors."

Secenery

Edgar P. Planck

Ed does a swell job in keeping the scenery in order. In general, he acts as stage manager, a no mean job, but he does it well. Once again, a thankless job, but thankless jobs make the minstrels what they are.

Boy, walking into cigar store: 'Let me be your salesman. I'm the best salesman in the world."

"All right, take a dozen boxes out and sell them."

The boy tried hard to make a sale, but nobody wanted the cigars. He then goes back to the storekeeper with an apology, "I'm the second best salesman; the man that sold you these cigars is the best."

Pa—"What's daughter doing?"

Ma—"Making shrimp salad."

Pa—"I didn't know we had any shrimp in the house."

Ma—"We haven't, but there's one going to call on her tonight."

Goebbels called our Flying Fortresses "Flying Coffins." We need more of them over Germany.

Let's All Back the Attack: Buy More War Bonds.

Talkative six-year-old son—"Daddy, am I made of dust?"

Daddy—"I'm afraid not. If you were you'd dry up now and then."

"Rome" Real Estate For Sale

At this moment American boys are buying ground on the shell-swept beaches of Italy with their very lives.

Today your Government is asking YOU to "Back Italy, push back the Nazis," by buying an extra War Bond. It will be YOUR part in the Italy battle--your proof that you are backing the attack. But make it hard to do--buy that EXTRA bond that REALLY MEANS A SACRIFICE.

It's the only way you have to show your boys that you, too, have an interest in that bloody real estate at Rome and Naples which they are buying today at so great a cost. The war is now in that tough stage that we have been told was coming. The time to be indifferent has run out; the time for YOU to act is NOW.

Beginning today, every American has a job to do, a part to play in the attack. It's no longer a question of doing our bit--from now on to victory we must do our ALL. Find that money today, buy that EXTRA bond, and resolve to fight beside our boys at WHATEVER THE COST.

Gasoline Coupon Endorsement

To check the black market use of counterfeit and stolen coupons, OPA is requiring all gasoline ration book holders to endorse their coupons as soon as they receive them. This should be done in ink or with an indelible pencil.

Endorsement of coupons will have at least two important effects: First, it will immediately discourage dishonesty. Those who might otherwise misuse coupons will hesitate to sign correct license numbers to illegally acquired coupons, or to forge any other license number. Second, the endorsement will make it possible to trace used coupons stolen from gasoline filling stations. Furthermore, any hesitation on the part of the customer to use correctly endorsed coupons will serve as immediate warning to the station attendant that he is being offered illegal coupons.

Because of the importance of endorsements in stamping out the black market, failure to have every coupon in a ration book endorsed is a ground for revoking gasoline rations. Thefts and counterfeiting in some areas have reached alarming proportions. Every car owner failing to endorse his ration coupons correctly unconsciously aids these racketeers.

The supply of gasoline allocated for civilian consumption will meet only our vital needs. WE MUST STAMP OUT THE BLACK MARKETS. If counterfeit or stolen coupons are used in one area, they will drain off the supply. A shortage will result which may cause war plants to slow up production because it's workers are unable to get to work. This area will have to call on another area for gasoline, necessitating extra transportation and endangering the gasoline supply of other communities.

Anyone who buys BLACK MARKET gasoline is getting more than his share at the expense of others. To eliminate BLACK MARKETING of gasoline, every motorist must make it his personal responsibility to endorse all of his coupons as soon as he receives them—with license number and state in which his car is registered; in ink or indelible pencil. Dealers are already cooperating and refusing to accept coupons that are improperly endorsed.

$5 Per Year Charge On Refuse Collections Passed

4% Tax On Utilities Also Slated; Both Begin April 1

Columbus city council, by a vote of 5-2 Monday evening, passed new taxes calculated to raise about $1,000,000 in the next year. A five dollar annual charge on refuse collection and a four per cent tax on gas, light, telephone and water bills are slated to go into effect on April 1.

Hilltop councilman Ray G. Haunts in explaining the new ordinance this week, said that for many years "the city was going deeper and deeper into the red. Things have been getting worse and worse, because we've been refunding bonds.

"These ordinances," he explained, "appeared to be the easiest and quickest way to put the city back on a 'pay as you go' basis."

Must Obtain Cards

Questioned as to how the refuse collections will be made, Haunts said that cards would be issued at city hall upon payment of five dollars. The city will then make collections at homes wherever payment has been made. Failure to purchase a card, he pointed out, will result in no collection of refuse. An accumulation of garbage and debris will bring action by the city board of health.

The utilities tax of four per cent will be placed on the April gas, light, water and telephone bills.

Announce Red Cross Workers

"Your Red Cross is at his Side"—This statement will be kept before the American public during the 1944 Red Cross War Fund campaign. It is a fact, because, in large part, the Red Cross SAF—services to the armed forces makes it so.

Every chapter, even every volunteer has a part in the SAF. Of the $200,000,000 war fund goal, $140,000,000 is for the worldwide work of the national organization. More than 90 per cent of all Red Cross expenditures are being directed to the services for the men in the armed forces.

Hilltop Division workers of the Red Cross drive, scheduled to get under way Mar. 1, were announced this week by Mrs. Loonard Wisdom, 254 N. Harris-av, colonel for this locality. They are as follows:

Co-colonel, Mrs. Henry Whipple, 2602 Valleyview-dr; majors, Mrs. A. J. Bellar, Mrs. A. A. Frey, Mrs. Philip Johnson, Mrs. Fred Martin, Mrs. C. C. Saylor and Mrs. R. H. Lorimer.

Captains:

Sugar Stamp 40, Not Bonus

Sugar Stamp 40 made valid recently in order to enable consumers in the South to can some early fruit is not a "bonus" stamp to be used in stocking your supply pantry. It is valid for use in buying sugar for home-canning only.

If this stamp is spent and the sugar is used now, the housewife may find her supply "short" when the canning season comes, since the five pounds bought with this stamp will be deducted from the season's canning allotment.

Stamp 40 will remain valid 13 months, through Feb. 28, 1945, so there need be no hurry about spending it.

Valley-view Drive Improvement Begun

The beginning of work on the improvement of a portion of Valley View Drive in the village of Valley-view, was announced this week by Allan Slade, county engineer.

This improvement, which begins at Murray-av, one block west of Eureka-av, extends west about a mile and involves the construction of a new culvert over the stream which flows thru Rodgers Park and an entire new roadway and pavement.

The new roadway will be built upon a relocation to the north to eliminate the dangerous turn and hill now existing at the present culvert. This location has been a dangerous one, and hazardous to the many motorists who use Valley-view-dr, Hague and McKinley-avs, as a means of travel to the downtown and northern sections of the city.

To complete this project it was necessary for the County to purchase an easement for part of Howison's lot facing Valley view-dr, and to secure from the Council of the Village of Valley View an easement and consent to build this improvement thru Rodgers Park, which is controlled by the village council.

Yoder Announces Candidacy For Clerk Of Courts

J. Arthur Yoder

Citing his record of making the county office self-supporting, Clerk of Courts, J. Arthur Yoder, Democrat, announced his candidacy for re-election. He is expected to be unopposed in the May primary for the Democratic nomination.

Prior to his administration, the office had a deficit of $23,000 a year and was 11 years behind on records. Yoder states he has turned this deficit to a profit and all records are up to date.

With the inauguration of the new Auto Title Department, during his administration, not one stolen automobile has received a title of ownership. He has ousted the professional criminal bond racket and has collected all bonds. A new record filing system has been installed which has met with the approval of the Bar Association.

This office is the first public position Mr. Yoder has held. Before taking office, he was in the grocery business in Linden for 11 years and prior to that, sales manager of the Blue Valley

War-Year Minstrel Show Is One Of Best To Be Produced

The 15th annual Hilltop Minstrel Show is a dandy. This judgment based on the usually miserable and often interrupted dress rehearsal, will be justified many times over tonight when the high-spirited and energetic business and professional men of the community go into their second showing at the West High School auditorium.

It's not possible to applaud all. In this short space we'll tell you that most anything is possible in this performance. You'll hear a prominent Hilltop schoolmaster singing "marsecdotes;" you'll see murder before your very eyes when the lousiest quartet that ever burbled a vocal note hits the stage; end men Hardy and Brown, newcomers to the show at these spots, will put you in the aisles, and their co-workers Becker and Phillips, turn in a hilarious performance.

Dinah Again

As for years, Leo Phillips pours out Dinah, as only the copper can do it. How he keeps it up nobody knows, but we've heard it said that no Hilltop Minstrel is complete without Leo's jubilant version of this ole time minstrel number.

The olio acts are largely song and dance numbers, but there's a lad there by the name of Frank Ongaro, who can really squeeze an accordion. The corrugated music box is made to do everything but whistle "bob white," and your reporter thinks the lad could make it do that on the slightest provocation.

War Memorial Chairman

Edgar G. Planck

Ed Planck Chairman Of Committee

Officials of Camp Chase Post 98, American Legion, announced this week the first step in a plan to erect a permanent memorial to service men and women of the Hilltop community. It is estimated that approximately 3000 men and women from the Hilltop are now serving in the armed forces. The Legion, thru the medium of the Honor Roll Board erected in Glenwood Park, have recognized these men and women in a temporary manner and now plan that they should be honored in a more permanent way.

At the last regular meeting of the post a committee was elected to make plans for such a memorial. The six elected members together with the Post Commander are as follows: Edgar G. Planck, general chairman; Larry G. Scales, vice chairman and secretary; Chester W. Wagner, treasurer; Ray F. McVay, publicity; Arthur J. Bellar, ways and means; Mose M. Wiliams, public relations. Horace J. Swain is post commander.

COMMITTEE MEETS SUNDAY

The committee will hold its next meeting Sunday afternoon at the Legion Hall. Chairman Planck said this week. Nature of the memorial adn plans for raising the necessary funds will be discussed.

The following have been appointed to act as co-chairmen: Robert Hitchcock, Ray Roese, James F. Hurd, Kenneth Dickerson, and William Damigan. A committee of citizens of the community will be announced later. The citizens committee will be composed of those who have expressed a desire to assist the Legion in it's efforts to erect a permanent memorial.

Plans are rapidly being completed and will soon be announced through the press and radio. The Legion at this time desires to thank all who so generously assisted it in the erection of the Honor Roll Board and trust that the same community cooperation will be given in the efforts for the permanent Memorial.

Tickets have been sold out since early this week, although a few which may be returned may be available at the box office tonight. Only scattered single seats were available Monday morning.

Bucks To End League Race At Central

West High Buckaroo cagers will close their city league basketball campaign tonight at the Central High School gymnasium, with the Pirates furnishing the opposition.

Practically certain of finishing out of the cellar as a result of their surprise 48-25 triumph over Linden-McKinley last Friday evening, the Bucks can finish with a 4-8 record if they polish off the Buccaneers tonight.

The Bucks, as usual, will enter the Central District tournament at Delaware this year, which opens next Tuesday evening, Feb. 29. Drawings for this event are slated tomorrow morning.

Should the Cowboys win, they will return to combat Mar. 2.

"Sadie Hawkins" Night At Hilltop-Teen-Canteen Dance

"Sadie Hawkins" day, or rather night, will be observed for the teen-agers when they gather for the third dance given by the Hilltop-Teen-Canteen, in the gymnasium of West High School, tomorrow night, Feb. 26. Dancing will start at 8:15 and last until 11:15 p. m. Orchestrations will be by "Howdy" Gorman and his 10-piece band.

Since it is a "Sadie Hawkins" dance, girls should get their bids in early to invite the boy of their choice. The manshortage what it is, boys are going fast. Charge for admission will remain the same, single 50c, double, 75c.

Jerry Spears, president of the Community Recreation Program, stated this week: "The dances which have been promoted will not be the only phase of activity of the program. As soon as the organization is completed, there will be numerous activities formed."

Contributions have been received from Harold Emswiler; the Auxiliary Police, Co. 2B of the 10th Ward; and Southwest District of the Boy Scouts of America.

Stars of the floor show will be members of the famous "Rushin' Ballet." They are Carl Hosler, R. M. Embleton, Sam Estell, Renee Parkey, Dick Gilmore, Jim Loomis, Walter Kietzman, Fred Hysell, Carl Breckenridge, Hoot Bates, Bud Dean. A solo will be given by Fred Hysell. Jim McClintock will again be on hand to emcee the show and to introduce Irwin Johnson, the Early Worm from WBNS, who will present the Canteen with his "Favorite Album of Records."

Chairman of the dance, Mrs. Leo Uridil, 106 Binn-blvd, announced she is desirous of obtaining a genuine "boogie-woogie" piano player. Anyone who can qualify, should contact her.

Door prizes will again be given for the holders of the lucky ticket stubs.

Margaret was home this week, though still limping about, but Mary will be in the hospital for another week or so, and then will have to be confined to her home for possibly a month or more.

Simplified Token Plan In Effect Sunday, February 27th

On Sunday, Feb. 27, a new and simplified plan for two major food rationing programs will be put into operation. The two programs involved are those rationing processed foods, and meats, fats, cheese and oils.

Three important changes will be made. First, each stamp will have a point-value of 10 cents; second, tokens will be given as "change" and third, the stamps will have a longer validity period; approximately 12 weeks. These changes are being made to simplify the rationing programs and to reduce the work of all who handle ration currency.

The red stamps in War Ration Book Four will be used for the meats and fats program. The blue stamps in War Ration Book Four will be used for the processed foods.

The numbers on the stamps 8, 5, 2 and 1 will no longer indicate their point values. All stamps will have a point value of 10 points each. When purchases are made, tokens will be given "in change"—red tokens for the red stamps and blue tokens for the blue stamps. Tokens will have a 1-point value and will be valid indefinitely.

The validity period of all stamps will be increased to approximately 12 weeks — hence there will be little if any reason for consumers to "hoard" tokens.

Noted To The Consumer

Red and blue stamps in War Ration Book Four both carry letters and numbers like the green stamps in the same book and like the brown stamps in Book 3 now in use. At present the letters indicate the validity period and the numbers indicate the point-value. When the token plan becomes effective, this will no longer be true with the blue and red stamps in Book 4. Both the letters and numbers will indicate only the validity period. All red and blue stamps will carry a 10-point value. Stamps will become valid on a horrizontal basis in the book, instead of vertical strips as heretofore. For example: Blue Stamps A8, B8, C8 D8 and E8 all become valid on Feb. 27.

All red and blue stamps in War Ration Book 4, regardless of the numbers on them, will have the same point value, 10 points for each stamp. For example, blue stamps A8 and A5 both will have a point-value of 10 points each.

A regular schedule of validity dates and periods of validity will be established for the red and blue stamps.

Probably the most conspicious difference between the new simplified method and the old is the use of the much publicized "tokens." Fundamentally it is not a radical revision. The tokens will be used only in "change making."

The consumer will come into contact with tokens for the first time when she makes her first purchase after the program begins. She will not have to obtain a supply of tokens before she shops. She will make her purchase the same way as in the past, surrendering red and blue stamps, each of which carry a 10-point value. If the stamps do

These are a few of the high spots. There's not a bad spot in the show, and the business and professional men of the community, who've given time, effort and spirit to make this show go, are to be congratulated. This is a war year, but they carried on—carried on with generosity and good will—and the Hilltop community again reaps a rich reward in entertainment and fun.

Fires Increase 42 Per Cent During 2nd Year Of War

About a year ago the National Fire Protection Association published a list of fires that occured during the first war year. Comprising this list were fires of any considerable size which directly affected the war effort. Munition plants, airplane hangers and plants manufacturing and storing war material were involved in many of these fires. The cause—mostly carlessness.

A report for the second war year has just been released and covers 517 fires where the loss exceeded $250,000. The number of such fires increased 42 per cent over the reported number for the first year.

Substantiating these reports of the National Fire Protection Association is another report released by the National Board of Fire Underwriters which shows that the dollar fire loss for the United States in 1943 was 21 per cent above the reported loss for 1942.

The exact cause of all these fires is not known, but a study of individual fire reports shows that carelessness and "personal hazards" were largely responsible. The use of improper extinguishers, attempting to extinguish the fire without calling the regular city fire fighting forces, or forgetting to call the city fire department contributed greatly to the fires getting out of control.

In an effort to combat this menace, Fire Chief Clarence Ogborn urges every plant manager to take the "personal hazards" into consideration in planning factory fire safety. Chief Ogborn said that every factory, no matter how small, should have strategic locations in the factory. In addition to this a factory fire brigade should be organized. Call the fire department for every fire.

Fires in private homes showed a marked increase as did the number of children burned in home fires. This can be attributed to the fact that so many children are left alone while both parents are working.

Children were responsible for 58 residence fires in Columbus last year. Many of the children received serious burns, several were fatal. National records show that three out of every five lives lost by fire are the lives of children.

RATION TOKENS—

not total the exact amount of her purchase in points, she will receive "change" in return — red tokens for red stamps and blue tokens for blue stamps. The procedure is the same as with monetary currency.

The tokens of 1 point value each may be used in making later purchases. They have no expiration dates.

Consumers will not be permitted, however, to change stamps into tokens without making a purchase of a rationed commodity. This provision has been made at the request of industry in order to spare them from the work involved of passing out tokens promiscuously.

How to Use Stamps

Green stamps K, L, and M are valid now and will remain good through Mar. 20, then will be eligible to receive blue tokens in change after Feb. 27, when the new streamline system of rationing goes into effect. At this time, Feb. 27, 8A, 8B, 8C, 8D and 8E, become valid with a ten-point value each, regardless of the number printed thereon. A point is to be made clear here, however, that the remaining valid green stamps, K, L, and M will continue to carry their present point value, of 8, 5, 2 and 1.

Of the Brown Stamps used for the purchase of meats and fats, V, W and X expire at midnight Feb. 26. Likewise the Brown Stamps Y and Z which remain valid after Feb. 27 when the tokens are effective, will also be eligible to receive red tokens in change. The point value of the brown Y and Z remain at present values, 8, 5, 2 and 1.

The new Red Stamps which will carry a 10-point value each after Feb. 27 are 8A, 8B and 8C.

If during the first few days of this new transition period your merchant does not have sufficient tokens for change making, he may give you the 1-point green and brown stamp to make the necessary change.

A Promise Fulfilled

The attitude toward doing a job that seems to be the one being adopted by the younger generation is one that they need not be proud . They are not altogether to blame however for the reason that a great many parents are or seem to be more willing to just hand out "doles" to their boys and girls rather than teach them to earn their own way.

This was impressed on us when we tried to get a few thousand "sample copies" of the Minstrel Edition of the Record distributed last week.

Enough boys agreed to distribute these, to have completed the job easily last Friday after school but instead only a few did their job as agreed and for this reason some homes on the Hilltop were given their sample copies as late as Tuesday.

Those who were faithful to their job and who kept their word, should be recognized so all may know the names of the boys who did complete the job as promised.

ARE YOU HARBORING A DELUSION

Never move back to the country again
If you've lived in town very long,
My opinion I offer, sincere and plain,
You'll pine for the passing throng.
You will never like the country again,
City lights have changed your view,
You will tire of the sunshine and rain,
The dust, the mud, and the morning dew.
The country is for country folks alone
And although their life is the best,
If you quit the town of brick and stone,
Country life you are sure to detest.
You will never like the country again,
All your nature has changed for life,
No permanent peace will you ever attain,
For yourself, your children and wife.

Navy Needs More Men

Many opportunities for voluntary enlistments still exist in the Navy, according to word received from Lt. F. A. Duffy, officer in charge of the Columbus Navy recruiting station, located in the old post office bldg.

According to a new ruling, 17-year-old boys who are in their final semester of high school may now enlist in the Navy and be returned to their homes to complete their school year and obtain graduation certificates. This gives them the assurance of being on inactive duty until the completion of their senior year before being called to a training station. Signed consent of parents or guardians must be obtained before a young man of 17 can volunteer for enlistment under this plan.

Voluntary enlistments can also be effected in the Hospital Corps of the Navy. In this branch, a young man of 17 who has sufficient education to learn and a particular desire or liking for hospital corps duty can enlist as a Hospital Apprentice Second Class in Class V-6, Naval Reserve. With experience equivalent to a standard Red Cross first-aid course he may enlist as a Hospital Apprentice First Class. A young man of this age must also have consent of his parents to enlist in the Hospital Corps.

Men 18 to 38 can also be assigned to the Hospital Corps by requesting assignment to the Navy through induction. If this assignment is made he will be sent to a Naval training station where a request may be filed for duty with the Hospital Corps.

Men from 38 to 50 who have the requisite training and experience may apply for enlistment as a Petty Officer in the Hospital Corps. Men with experience in minor surgery equivalent to advanced Red Cross first-aid courses, experienced orderlies in civilian hospitals, and men recently qualified in Medical Department technical specialties with a short period of practical experience may qualify as Pharmacists Mates Third Class. Professional men may qualify up to the rating of Pharmacist's Mate Second Class, while men with satisfactory records of prior naval or military service may qualify up to the rating of Chief Pharmacist's Mate (acting appointment).

In addition, men are needed in the Navy's Ship Repair Units, according to Lt. Duffy.

Men qualified as radio technicians, anglesmiths, coppersmiths, diesel engine mechanics, divers, forgers, instrument makers, patternmakers or sailmakers are urgently needed for immediate ratings and openings in this branch of the Navy.

Men who have registered for selective service, between the ages of 18 and 37, may be examined physically as to their fitness for Naval service and rated commensurate with their civilian skill in professions and skills that still remain open. They will then request immediate induction by their selective boards for assignment to the Navy.

The Navy Recruiting Station, located in the Old Post Office Bldg. at State and Third-sts is open daily from 8 a. m. to 8 p. m. and full and complete information may be obtained regarding Naval service.

Hens On All-Out Production

With the American hens winning blue ribbons for all-out production, many of the menu problems that often confront a housewife when ration points are limited can be ignored. You can keep your refrigerator trays full of eggs for refrigerator trays full and for example, you might shake up nourishing egg drinks for your family. In these last lagging months of winter with everyone's resistance below par, egg nogs are especially valuable. They fortify the body with natural protective foods — eggs, milk, and sometimes fruit.

For an in between-meal lift or midnight snack, or with that hasty noon lunch, a vitalizing egg drink is the perfect answer. It gives that "stick to the ribs feeling."

In making egg drinks, the eggs, fruit juices and milk should be refrigerator-cold. Orange juice, lemon or vanilla flavoring, raspberries or other berries and even cranberry juice all serve for flavoring and pepping up these beverages. The sweetening may be honey, maple syrup, molasses, sugar, or corn syrup, or a combination of these. A deep bowl with beater, jar with tight fitting cap, or shaker may be used for mixing the ingredients.

If desired, the beverages can be poured into the freezing tray and frozen until ice crystals form. For a frothy drink, fold in stiffly beaten egg white just before serving. The top of the drinks can be garnished with a spoonful of wartime whipped cream, fruit ice, ice cream, or sherbet. A "stirred custard" makes a nice drink—the custard must be stirred all the time it is in the double boiler and just barely allowed to thicken. This custard can also be poured over berries.

Here is a tangy egg drink recipe: Combine 2 eggs or 2 yolks; 1 tablespoon sweetening; and 1 cup milk; blend together; add ¼ cup orange juice; beat or shake; and garnish the top with cinnamon, ginger or nutmeg.

This recipe serves 2 or 3.

Join Young Ideas Club

What are our young people thinking about?

What is their place in this war-torn world of today?

What will their influence amount to in the post-war era?

What can we as a community do for these young people?

The young people have their own answers to the above questions and the Record is anxious to receive these answers.

Now, with the start of the Community Recreation Program, is the time for these young ideas. Young ideas have made possible our present great war production. Young ideas have made this world a better place to live in.

Do you have any young ideas?

We wish to give the young people of the Hilltop a chance to express themselves, their thoughts and suggestions.

Pat Carnation Of the Week

One of Yost Florist carnations to Geo. Pekras to proudly display in his buttonhole, in recognition of selling nearly $25,000 in War Bonds, in the recent War Loan campaign.

His one-man drive is a challenge to each and every American citizen to purchase at least one extra bond a month.

Willing To Die—For What?

A news release from Pearl Harbor, telling of the attack on the Marshall Islands, said: ". . . The troops must make landings through machine gun and artillery fire, must secure the beachheads and push forward, often yard by yard. . . . It will be . . . willingness to die which will capture the Marshalls. . . ."

And along with it, a news release from Detroit, reporting that: "A sitdown of more than 1,000 workers in support of demands for a ten-cent an hour wage increase. . . . threatened production in the Ford Willow Run bomber plant."

How long can we expect men in the armed forces to be willing to die for the nation, if these criminal abuses of freedom are continued?

No one can deny the shameful fact that after two years of war the civilian population of this nation has done little to deserve victory. It is sheer hypocrisy to point to our arms production as evidence of a will to win.

Every gun and plane that has rolled off the assembly lines was built on a strictly commercial basis. Not a rivet has been driven for love of country alone—the labor leaders and vote seekers have seen to that.

The accent at home has been on security and comfort, while millions of American boys have for two years been fighting the ugliest war in history.

Did You Say Sun-Tan?

Well, to see the loveliest suntan hereabouts, all you need do is visit the Hilltop Bakery and see Lena Carroll who has just returned from a six-weeks' vacation at Hollywood, Fla. And from all reports, as she had quite a wonderful time, she would have liked to remain. Vacationing with her were Lois O'Bert and Josephine O'Brien.

Here and There: Have you noticed the second hand on the clock in O. J. Linville's window well it is running counter-clockwise . . . a certain Sellers sanctady, journeyed all the way down-town on one of our more disgusting climatic days, to return a too-small girdle, only to find that she had picked the wrong package from off the table—it contained her rubber boots . . . John Wolfe is sporting a new blue suit—quite a pip . . . Gladys Lamb journeyed to Chicago last weekend to visit with her husband who is 'boot' training. . . .

Two Sons Get Purple Heart; Third Ready For Navy Duty

Two of the three sons of W. C. McCoy, 624 S. Eureka-av, have received the Purple Heart for wounds suffered in action overseas, while the third and younger son is awaiting orders to report for sea duty with the Navy.

Latest to receive the Purple Heart is Marine Pvt. Robert J. McCoy, 19, who is recovering in the south Pacific. He received the award for wounds suffered as a result of enemy action in the South Pacific area Nov. 24, 1943, the Navy Department advised his father.

Meanwhile, Sgt. John J. McCoy, 29, who received the Purple Heart after a German mine explosion injured him in North Africa when his combat engineers outfit was moving in on Bizerte, has received a disability discharge and is back in the insurance business in Newark, N. J.

Seaman 2-c William J. McCoy, 17, is stationed at Shumaker, Calif., awaiting assignment.

John is a graduate of St. Joseph's Academy, while Robert graduated from North High School and the younger brother, William, left his studies at West High to enlist in the Navy last November. Robert enlisted in the Marines in Washington the day after Pearl Harbor, while John enlisted in the Army Jan. 12, 1942, at Newark.

Cost of Honor Roll Reprted By Legion

In a statement issued to the public this week, officials of the Camp Chase Post American Legion, reported on the total cost to date of the Honor Roll located at Glenwood Park.

As the honor roll display appears to date, it has involved expenditure of $1284.43, according to Chester W. Wagner, Secretary-treasurer of the committee in charge, which is headed by Arthur J. Bellar. Total collections to date have been $1744.72, leaving a balance for future upkeep of the project of $460.29.

In a statement issued this week, Bellar said: "The members of Camp Chase Post are grateful indeed, to the citizens of the Hilltop for their splendid support of the Honor Roll project. Without this generosity, the display, now containing 2310 names, could not have become a reality."

Bellar said that the public would be kept informed on the future expenditures of the balance. Cost of each name is 25 cents, exclusive of erection, lighting and other items of expense.

A new panel of 105 names will be added soon, Bellar reported.

Auto Licenses Now On Sale

Now 1944 automobile license plates are now on sale. Because of the scarcity of metal, the motorist will receive but one plate which is to be displayed on the rear of the automobile. This is the first time in the history of automobile registration in Ohio, when only one plate was issued to the motorist. The new license plate will have white numerals and letters on a dark blue background.

When applying for the new license, the car owner must present his certificate of title and sign the application.

April 1 is the deadline for obtaining new plates, motorists may use them any time after Mar. 1.

Upon receipt of your new license number, motorists are requested to write the new number on the cover of their gasoline ration book and tire inspection records, in order to save car owners the trouble of rewriting the new numbers on the individual gasoline coupons on which the old number has already been written.

Local deputy registrars are Henry Koontz, 1160 W. Broad-st; Mrs. Frances Spohn, 2486 W. Broad-st and Mrs. Louise Balzer, Hilltopper, at Moby's, Spring and High-sts.

New Food Ration Tokens Prove Popular On Hilltop

A quick survey of Hilltop grocers Thursday morning indicated that they will be well satisfied with the new token system of rationing, largely because it saves time for both the grocer and the customer.

Charlie Kent, of Kent's Modern Market, said that the new system was much superior to the old one because "the customer has but one set of units to be bothered with. Under the old system, much time was consumed loafing through the books."

Chet Herbert, of the Davis & Herbert Food Market, said: "I like the new system much better. It saves time. Not many have been exchanged yet, however, but it will be a big improvement when the system is well established."

Chubby Distelhorst, of Distelhorst's Market, said that the system "had worked nicely so far." He too commented that not much exchange had been made to date, but predicted that the new tokens would be in full operation before the end of the present ration period.

Nowhere were any complaints registered on the part of Hilltop housewives. Most agreed that an extra purse would be necessary, and all were of the opinion that this would be a far better system than the old ration books.

C. H. (Doc) Campbell, genial secretary of the Hilltop Business Men's Association, will be wearing a new hat come Eastertide. He's the chap who won the annual hat prize for selling the most tickets to the Hilltop Minstrel. His total was 231.

It's just like Doc says: "Who deserves it more than a guy with as little hair as I've got?" Take your pick, Doc! And while it won't keep the hair out of your eyes, it will keep the eyes off the hair (what haint).

Scout Troop 45 Celebrates 21st Year

Boy Scout Troop 45 of West High School became of age this week. Twenty-one years of turning out fine lads, 21 years rich in tradition, accomplishment and genuine boys' fun at work and play.

Only one man is still directly connected with the organization which had its beginning back in Highland Avenue School, more than two decades ago. That man is Alfred W. Elliott, organizer and first scoutmaster, now chairman of the Troop Committee.

Elliott, who now operates a farm near Orient and teaches history at the school, lost no time in emphasizing the OUT in scouting. From the year of its beginning, the boys each Christmas time, spent a week in the Fairfield County hills at an old barn made over into a cabin by means of a 14-foot fire place.

Later an old brick farmhouse was rented, and camping was a summer and winter feature, with weekend trips plentiful. Still later, by selling Christmas trees and utilizing the various aptitudes of the fathers of the boys, land was bought near Jacob's Ladder and a cabin constructed with a capacity for 40 or more boys on overnight trips.

Early in its development, the troop participated in the annual Scout Show, until 1936, a competetive affair. Gradually champions in the various events were developed. In 1929, the troop took every first place in the 13-event show, and in some, took all places. Champions in semaphore and wig-wag signalling, fire by friction, barel tilting, chariot racing, wall scaling were developed, and retained their titles until they passed the age limit.

George Keitz is the present scoutmaster, having succeeded Sam Morrison, now with the United States Navy. The troop meets on Thursday evenings at the school, where it has the facilities of the gymnasium and a class room.

Under Ohio Skies
AS TOLD BY The CONSERVATION DIVISION

Winter Landscapes

Though January is the month in this latitude, of lowest temperatures year by year, February is the real winter month. In this month the season reaches its peak, and not infrequently, the wildest winter weather prevails.

By February, all of the lingering late-autumn birds have flown; the final autumn flower has died back; and the landscape is usually one of snow and ice, and brown and black, with here and there on massive boulders, a splash of green where lichens and mosses hold forth, always green throughout the winter, even under the snow.

Recently in the hills of southeastern Ohio, I had good chance to take notes on the winter season. A glaze storm of a few days previously had covered every twig and leaf and blade with a coat of ice. Yet as I stood on the cliff tops at Neotoma, I could see below me the dry and barren south-facing slopes, with no snow at all. Across the valley, in the cold, nasturtium-colored glow of a westering sun, the twigs of the trees sparkled brightly, and on the white-clad slopes, blue shadows stretched across the snow.

But the cliff-top warm to the senses in the glow of the afternoon sun, and one could shut one's eyes and think in terms of spring peepers singing in the valley pools, and soft winds blowing. Yes, in this warm habitat, spiders crawl in the leaf litter and sluggish grasshoppers hop about.

But the winds are sharp, when they blow up from down in the valley, and carry no fragrance of spring; and the slopes opposite are snow-covered, quick reminders of the winter season, and in the late afternoon, the cold is penetrating and severe. "It will go below zero, tonight," one thinks, "as he buttons his jacket about him and hits the homeward road."

Still, all is not lifeless and dormant in the winter landscape. Harbingers of a livelier season show up on every hand. Skunk cabbage in a swamp I know, has been in bloom these three weeks; the tiny vernal whitlow grass, a mustard not two inches tall, is already growing and will be in flower before a fortnight passes; birch buds are splitting on the cliffs, and the Spring Beauty, growing since last October under the leaf mold and snow, has already formed flower buds. An observant eye will catch the first pussy willows along the streams, and on the milder days, song sparrows and blue birds will be heard.

In the pastures, tufts of bright green show where the snow has melted, telling of new growth of blue grass and a couple of dozen weedy plants.

But yet it's a winter season, and though the days are perceptibly longer since the first of February, the sun's long rays bring little warmth, and there's a chill to the air, hard for even winter duds to keep out. Yet it's good to be in the field — and heart-warming, at least, to watch a lingering winter sun set slowly over the hills, the hilltops aglow with a coppery glare, the western sky first crimson, then orange, then yellow. Then the low clouds purpling, and the starry night comes on.

Such my impressions on a winter ramble.

Amusements

Loew's Ohio

Loew's Ohio is showing this week the slashing sea melodrama, "Lifeboat," produced by that master of suspense, Alfred Hitchcock and starring Tallulah Bankhead, with William Bendix, Henry Hull, John Hodiak and Canada Lee. Co-feature is "Nine Girls," with Ann Harding and nine junior glamor girls. As a special added attraction the Ohio is showing the two-reel Technicolor Marine Corps film, "With the Marines at Tarawa," called the best of all service films yet to be shown to the public.

Loew's Broad

Loew's Broad this week is showing one of Jimmy Cagney's most popular pictures, "Frisco Kid," made in 1939 with Margaret Lindsay as his co-star. Lili Damita heads the cast on this action-packed hit. Added feature is "Thieves Fall Out." The Broad also is showing the Technicolor two-reel special, "With the Marines at Tarawa."

Potatoes Bountiful

Potatoes—of which we have a bountiful supply—are an outstanding breakfast, dinner and supper vegetable. Because points are not required for potatoes, homemakers and institutions serving food should take advantage of the current supplies and serve potatoes in some form at every meal.

Potatoes contain vitamin C — vitamin B-1 (thiamine) — iron — protein—starch. To get the good from potatoes, nutritionists give us these pointers:

Cook them in their jackets in order to get the most food value.

If you must peel, peel them thin.

Peel potatoes just before you cook them—if you let them soak, you lose minerals and vitamins.

Store white potatoes in a cool, dark, airy place where they won't freeze.

Store sweet potatoes in a dry place where they will not chill.

Northern Roads to Tokyo

Courtesy THE STANDARD OIL CO (OHIO)—T

Trucks and tankers, carrying capacity loads of vital petroleum products, are winning the battle of supply for northern bases. Tankers use Pacific waterways to deliver high octane gasoline. Each ship also carries as much as 38,000 barrels of fuel oil, and decks are loaded with ambulances, planes, jeeps and trucks.

Spring's First Flush

There is a fascination to the change of seasons that we cannot get over. Above and beyond the fact that our whole way of life depends upon these changes, and is governed wholly by them and the nature of our inheritance, there is an array of fantastic awakenings and upspringings, fadings, dyings, dormacies, hibernations, growths, developments, reproductions, that by and large, escape the utilitarian eye.

Whether, in our climate, we favor the wildly colorful autumn, the cold and windy violence of winter, or the almost imperceptible awakenings of spring, there is a refreshing grandeur about the latter that is a constant source of wonderment.

When the first orderly lengthening of days become noticable, mayhap even before, if observations are carefully and patiently made, it can be discovered that living things are beginning to grow and move in woods and field and watercourse, in swamp, in garden and in stagnant pools. With these days comes the first flush of spring.

It's a day in mid-February and we're in the Garden at dawn to read the instruments which have recorded nocturnal weather. It's raining—warm, gentle showers, like those of April, and from the top of a walnut sapling a song sparrow sings heartily. We've heard him before on warm winter days, but now he's singing every morning. From down below, a cardinal whistles merrily; and as we approach the station, a dozen robins, newly arrived, fly by. The buds of silver maple have broken, and the buds of elm are swelling. Beneath a clump of evergreens, snowdrops are blooming for the first time.

A week goes by, with alternate hours of rain and snow and high winds and some warm sunshine. Catkins of alder and hazelnut lengthen, mature and shed their pollen; buds of honeysuckle and lilac begin to swell; lightning and accompanying thunder, the first of the season, breaks the motony of rain pattering on the roof. Then rain and snow and high winds and lowering temperatures—and it's mid-winter once more.

The LOOKOUT

by John Wolfe

Guy R. Keller, 22, gunner's mate 3/c, killed in action, Feb. 27, 1943, when his ship was torpedoed in mid-Atlantic.

Such the news release.

But I'll bet Guy went down fighting. It was years ago—it doesn't seem as long—when he was a guard on West High's football team. I saw him just before an important game. As always, I wondered how the squad was feeling.

"Guy," I inquired, "how're the boys today?"

"Don't worry," was Guy's crisp retort, "we're gonna give 'em hell."

They did.

What Weather

Tuesday two inches of precipitation fell in the form of rain (sometimes there is precipitation in the form of snow, hail sleet, dew and frost), and all about the Hilltop, folks came through with the sensational remark: "Sure is a wet day, haint it."

One feller, down the line, (I forgot his name, though it might have been Joe McBride), came through with a variation: "Tis a bit damp out and about," he concluded, as he shuck the rain drops offen his being.

Notes: Ed Planck is getting chunkier, doncha think? . . . Buck has been making hamburgers at the Broad-Eldon corner for 11 years . . . Add people who haven't changed in 11 years: Wyatt Millikan . . . and Kate Enterman Stewart whose profile I mentioned years ago, but which hasn't changed . . . Chan Gibson in the Army now, and he tells me both the Shanly boys are in Texas, Chuck just as windy as ever, Staley just as reticent . . . What ever became of Red Trabue? . . . Lou Saunders looks like a professor.

Round about and here about: Jack Shank is ill this week. Still abed, I hear, so the windy weather is not all his doin's, doncha see . . . Virginia Ann Brake is the new girl at First Federal . . . Don't know why Ed Planck's gun wouldn't go off the other night . . . He had plenty of ammunition . . . Oh, yes . . . Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Hartley will visit their son, publisher of this sheet, in Florida soon . . . Rumor hath it that C. C. will be on the high seas soon, but this is not official . . . Never saw Henry Jones hurry, even when he was late for supper . . . He was in Chicago over the week end, by the way . . . A Hilltop mother's lad was sick . . . His little sister was told that he'd eaten too much candy, and could die . . . "no, no," protested the tiny lass, "he's not old enough to die" . . . Lee Koontz, genial but unintroduced director of this year's Minstrel, will spend the week-end in Morgantown, W. Va., where he'll do some entertainment stuff.

Do your part, help this splendid work! Buy Easter Seals for Crippled Children.

Blitz Hilltop Alleys

Utilizing implements of modern warfare for the first time in the city refuse collections, two Hilltop alleys were cleaned up in jig time this week by a mechanically operated device which does the work of at least eight men.

Inspecting the operation after it had been completed, a Record reporter this week found that the clean-up job is thorough and quickly done, but residents whose ashes, and other debris, are deposited inside the alley fence, are left without the services of the bulldozer monster.

The instrument is a mechanical scoop shovel, mounted on a tractor, and is similar to those used on road construction work.

Six trailer trucks from the city refuse department, are being utilized, but the clean-up is somewhat limited due to the shortage of city funds, as well as manpower. This is expected to be remedied Apr. 1, when the revenue from the $5 charge for garbage and refuse collection goes into effect.

2553 Names on Honor Roll

Arthur J. Bellar, chairman of the Honor Roll Display Committee of Camp Chase Post American Legion, and Chester W. Wagner, sec'y-treasurer, turned in an itemized report this week on the cost of the project at Glenwood Park.

Initial cost of the board was $395, with an additional cost of $175 for lighting affects. Since erection of the display, cost of posting the names has been $638, including corrections and incidental repairs.

Balance on hand was announced as $460.29, now on deposit at the First Federal Savings and Loan. This fund will be used only for addition of names to the display and making necessary repairs.

At present at the Pueblo Grande Museum at Phoenix, Ariz., where he is honorary director and where he is doing research in the archaeology of the arid southwest, he is expected to return about Apr. 15. Soon after his return, he will preside at the 1944 meetings of the Ohio Academy of Science, of which he is president.

OPA Conducting Spot-Check Of Motorists' Coupon Books

Motorists! Be sure all of your gasoline coupons are endorsed IMMEDIATELY.

That is the advice of Theo. F. Webb, chairman of the West Side War Price and Rationing Board, who disclosed that the Office of Price Administration is now conducting a nation-wide spot check of motorist's coupon books. The enforcement campaign will be conducted by OPA investigators at filling stations, and is another move on the part of the OPA to break up the black market in gasoline.

"The gasoline black market has reached alarming proportions in recent weeks," Mr. Webb said. "Diversion of gasoline to the black market means that legitimate civilian drivers are being deprived of essential fuel."

Mileage rationing regulations require all motorists to endorse all coupons with the license number, and state of registration of the car immediately upon receipt of coupons from the rationing board.

Help of filling stations and distributors has also been enlisted by the OPA in the anti-Black Market campaign. Distributors will screen out all unendorsed and otherwise improper coupons when exchanged by filling stations. In turn, the amount o gallonage represented by the unendorsed and improper coupons will be charged back to the filling stations, which will lose that amount from their inventories.

Band Variety Show At West Thurs., Fri., Mar. 16-17

The fourth annual Band Variety Show, sponsored by the West High Band Parents Club, will be held Thursday and Friday, Mar. 16 and 17, in the school auditorium under the direction of Miss Mary Catherine Richter.

Students from the music and dramatics departments of the school, will furnish the entertainment.

High-lighting the evening's program will be the concert and marching band of 70 pieces together with the popular dance arrangement group.

The concert band, consisting of 70 parts, will play many novelties and favorites, and the reserve band of 41 pieces will supplement the music of the concert group.

The program will consist of five parts, with the concert band opening the program. Part two will be composed of short selections by the Reserve Band. "Star Struck," a one-act comedy, is the feature of Part three. Frank Ongaro, accordianist, plays several selections for Part four. Variety acts and music by the West High dance band complete the program.

Spring's First Flush

There is a fascination to the change of seasons that we cannot get over. Above and beyond the fact that our whole way of life depends upon these changes, and is governed wholly by them and the nature of our inheritance, there is an array of fantastic awakenings and upspringings, fadings, dyings, dormacies, hibernations, growths, developments, reproductions, that by and large, escape the utilitarian eye.

Whether, in our climate, we favor the wildly colorful autumn, the cold and windy violence of winter, or the almost imperceptible awakenings of spring, there is a refreshing grandeur about the latter that is a constant source of wonderment.

When the first orderly lengthening of days become noticable, mayhap even before, if observations are carefully and patiently made, it can be discovered that living things are beginning to grow and move in woods and field and watercourse, in swamp, in garden and in stagnant pools. With these days, comes the first flush of spring.

It's a day in mid-February and we're in the Garden at dawn to read the instruments which have recorded noturnal weather. It's raining—warm, gentle showers, like those of April, and from the top of a walnut sapling a song sparrow sings heartily. We've heard him before on warm winter days, but now he's singing every morning. From down below, a cardinal whistles merrily; and as we approach the station, a dozen robins, newly arrived, fly by. The buds of silver maple have broken, and the buds of elm are swelling. Beneath a clump of evergreens, snowdrops are blooming for the first time.

A week goes by, with alternate hours of rain and snow and high winds and some warm sunshine. Catkins of alder and hazelnut lengthen, mature and shed their pollen; buds of honeysuckle and lilac begin to swell; lightning and accompanying thunder, the first of the season, breaks the motony of rain pattering on the roof. Then rain and snow and high winds and lowering temperatures—and it's mid-winter once more.

Former Buck Grid Star Is Killed At Sea

Guy R. Keller, gunner's mate 3/c, lost his life Feb. 27 somewhere in the Atlantic when his ship was torpedoed and the lifeboats ran into a severe storm, it was announced this week by the navy department.

Keller, a former grid-great at West High School, was a member of an armed guard crew on the vessel, and before his enlistment in 1942, was employed at the Columbus Timken plant.

He is survived by his wife and five-year-old daughter, Emily Ann, who lives at 1478 Kohr-pl. His mother, Mrs. Eldora Keller, lives at 39 N. Hague-av. COLS. TOWN MEETING

"Is Compulsory Military Training Necessary for Peace?" is the subject for discussion on Columbus Town Meeting, tomorrow evening, Mar. 11. Don Davis is the representative from West High School. Meeting will be at the Gallery of Fine Arts at 8:15. Broadcast 9 to 10 over WCOL.

The basketball season over, and the spring winds blowing, athletic thoughts at West High School turned to baseball this week as Coach Dale Rose met his battery prospects Monday for the first time.

Already singing the blues as a result of many losses from last year's squad, Rose nevertheless, admits that there is somewhat of a nucleus around which to build a ball club this year. Six hurlers and five catchers turned up at Monday's indoor session.

Infield Prospects Good

Only the inner defense composed of Carl Hosler at third, Don Haynes at second, and Dick Gilmore at first will have experienced candidates available when the entire squad turns out next week. At shortstop, Jim Bell, a sub of last year, and Dick Slager, up from junior high, will probably fight it out.

Hosler, however, is one of the pitching candidates, and should it be necessary to shift him to the mound, the whole left side of the infield will be a problem. Hosler, who saw some mound action last year, and Bob Phelps, pitcher for Starling a year ago, are the inside favorites for firing duty, but a quartet of other candidates showed up Monday, and Coach Rose is hoping to dig a thrower up from this group. Paul Hegenberger, a southpaw, and right handers Norman Clevenger, Bill Hawe and Bob Thumb are the other candidates.

Need a Catcher

Devoid of any experienced receivers, Coach Rose must develop a catcher from one of the following: Renick Parkey, Dick Ison, Lee Dienst, George Parlett and Dick Gubsch, the latter fullback on last fall's football team.

Ira Blackwell is the only experienced outfielder available, but Gene Shade and Dick Layne appear to be a pair of likely prospects.

Schedule Announced

Meanwhile, Coach Rose was completing the spring schedule by attempting to arange games with teams in Springfield and Cincinnati. The league schedule has been completed, he announced, and the Buckaroos will open the season on Thursday afternoon, Apr. 6, with North's Polar Bears providing the opposition on the local diamond. The complete schedule is as follows:

Apr. 12	North
Apr. 11	at Aquinas
Apr. 12	at St. Charles*
Apr. 18	South
Apr. 21	at East
Apr. 25	Linden
Apr. 26	St. Charles*
Apr. 28	at Central
May 2	Aquinas
May 9	at South
May 16	East
May 23	at Linden
May 26	Central
May 29	at North

Don't Risk Roof Leaks

BAD weather quickly locates the weak spots in roofs. New leaks develop, and old ones get worse. Wise property owners refuse to take chances—they have risky roofs put in good condition or replaced before any damage occurs.

Last week end we were in the hills again. The day was warm and spring-like, but by evening a drenching rain set in. From the shelter of the cabin near Jacob's Ladder we listened to the gusty winds roaring over the uplands and whining through the pines. In the relatively quiet between "blows," we thought we heard spring peepers singing in the swamp three-fourth of a mile away. We went to the door and opened it, listening intently, to be certain our ears had heard. Then sure and clear, through the dark and the rain, came the clear, unmistakeable notes of the first peepers of spring. Then from some tall tree on some rainy slope, came the eery whoo-o-o-o of a great horned owl, the first we had heard this spring. He sang for half an hour, then the night was left to the splash of rain on the lingering oak leaves, the trees, the earth, and the increasing sound of the rush of water in the creek in the valley below.

Awake to more rain and the cawing of crows and the scolding of jays. Outside the cabin window, a flock of juncoes were feeding. A dozen bluebirds, perched here and there, gave forth at intervals, their chittering, burbling song; robins were abundant, and on a hickory trunk, not 30 feet away, a gorgeous red-bellied woodpecker, pecked vigorously.

Away then in the rain, to the swamps. Here, marked by a splotch of bright green, was a patch of Golden Saxifrage, last week in bud, but now in full bloom. A peculiar flower, with six bright orange stamens and no petals, it is one of the rare northern plants of the region, blooming this year two weeks earlier than ever we had found it.

Slowly down stream—peepers again . . . elm in flower . . . Shadbush buds swelling . . . onions, which grow in winter, up 18 inches . . . the stream running full, foaming and frothing over the riffles . . . more rain . . . thunder and lightning . . . rising winds . . . lowering temperatures . . . then with night-fall, a blinding blizzard covering the spring-like landscape of morning with a winter blanket of ice and snow. But in between these decreasing numbers of winter days, we have seen the first fair flush of spring.

THE BLACK MARKET

Some ride in their car to Mexico
Without any tickets for gas.
We walk thru snow if twenty below,
Live on spinach and asparagus.
If they do it, why shout about it?
It makes Hitler smile, no doubt,
If there's flaws enforcing our laws,
That isn't a thing to boast about.

Those evil-bent, occasionally circumvent
Any laws that may prevail,
A cunning gent learned and eloquent,
But later he lands in jail.
Laws for a good cause, some won't obey,
Loyal service they never render,
If all in America were like that today,
Our soldiers would have to surrender.

WILL COAL BE RATIONED

THAT'S a $64 question—and your answer is as good as would be ours. Fact is, no definite word has come from fuel administration officials. Our advice is, keep your bin filled so that at this season's end, your next winter's supply will be stored and paid for. Ample stocks of the better grades of Ohio, West Virginia and Kentucky in all sizes — including stoker, are available for immediate delivery from our yard. Later, it may be "take what you can get and get it when you can."

THE SCRATCH PAD

By Eileen Griggs

Ode to March
Sing a song of sixpence,
(And don't think this is funny!)
For that is all that's left of
A pocket full of money.

Pocket full of dollars
Painfully acquired,
Never one was spent for Luxuries desired.

Sing a song of sixpence,
(Now I may relax).
All the rest has gone to Pay my income tax.

What Will He Come Home To?

Will our boys return to a land of freedom and opportunity where a man may be rewarded according to his own initiative, his industry and ability—or will they find themselves hampered by a combination of strange new isms and political ideas?

Will they come back to a land where a man's courage and ambition can transform poverty into comfort and wealth—or will they find that our standards of living are being forced down to a common level? Will they come back to a land where anyone, rich or poor, may climb to great positions of honor and influence? Will they come back to a land where government is the servant of the people and not the master?

Will they come back to a United States of America where freedom of opportunity provides the greatest happiness for the greatest number of the people—where the standard of living is the highest in the world—where anyone can get an education if he wants to—where anyone can own property through thrift and a willingness to work—where a man is free to work for others, or to start his own business—to worship and talk and read and do as his conscience dictates as long as he stays within the laws that he has helped to make—where invention and ingenuity still pay off—and the burning desire to see his children better off than he is, can still be satisfied.

That is the true America—it is up to us to keep it for the day when our boys come home.

Flower of the Week

A Yost Florist corsage to a gold-star mother, Mrs. James Stump, who, although she has given the utmost in the service of her country, with the loss of a son, following his capture and imprisonment in a Japanese prison camp, still finds time to donate her services to the Red Cross and other war efforts. In addition, she has given five pints of her blood into the Red Cross Blood Donor Center — and plans on giving more, much more.

WHO else deserves them more!

Surprise!

Word was received by Mr. and Mrs. T. L. O'Malley of the safe arrival of their son, Pfc. Michael in England simultaneously with cablegrammed flowers from him. They were a Valentine gift for his mother, and although not received until last Saturday, they were still a nice surprise.

Junior Red Cross Xmas Card Campaign

The Junior Red Cross is engaged in collecting used Christmas cards which they make over for distribution to patients in Veterans and Childrens' Hospitals who are unable to buy cards. This a most worthy enterprise and right now, when most people are starting their spring housecleaning, is an appropriate time to give those Christmas cards to a worthy cause.

Cards may be turned into the HBMA president, Jos. M. Briggs, at his office at 2596 Sullivant-av, or the Hilltop Record office.

The Army and Navy "E" Flag will be awarded the Red Cross Blood Donor Center at ceremonies at Memorial Hall, tonight at 8:15. This is in tribute to all who have donated their blood into the Blood Bank.

THOUGHT FOR TODAY

By O. H. Cash

The obituary of many good intentions, arrive at the bureau of vital statistics ahead of the birth certificate.

6-Yr.-Old Killed By Auto

Funeral services for six-year-old Shirley Ann Freeman, who was struck down by an auto last Sunday afternoon, were held Wednesday afternoon from the Spears Funeral Home. She was the daughter of Seaman and Mrs. Denver C. Freeman, 73 N. Eureka-av.

Returning from the Westmont theatre with her nine-year-old sister, Jean, Shirley was struck down when she ran in front of an auto after alighting from a trolley bus. Her older sister remained on the curb and witnessed the fatal injuries of her younger sister. The auto which struck the girl was driven by Mrs. Etta Sibley, 1801 Brown-rd.

The two girls were en route to the home of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Freeman, 37 S. Brinker-av when the accident occurred. The girl's father entered the Navy three weeks ago and now is in training at Great Lakes.

Besides her parents and sister, Shirley is survived by another sister, Joyce, aged two.

Burial was in Sunset cemetery.

Propose New Building For Hoge Church

Possibilities of a new church building for the Hoge Memorial Presbyterian Church were indicated this week following a meeting of the congregation last Sunday morning.

At a business meeting at the close of the morning service, the congregation went on record as approving recommendations of the Session and the Board of Trustees to launch a campaign to raise funds for a new church building.

A church extension committee will be appointed shortly to study locations and plans, officials of the church announced.

The extension fund campaign will become a part of the annual church canvass which will get under way next Sunday, Mar. 19.

Red Cross Campaign Continues

Red Cross stickers appear in more and more windows throughout Columbus each day. Workers and division leaders seeking to obtain the largest Red Cross war fund ever asked or in this country are re-doubling their efforts so that the campaign will go "over the top."

Busy with a thousand and one duties each day, Red Cross directors and recreational workers staitoned with armies both in this country and abroad, are never too busy to give attention to each boy who comes to him with a question.

More than 90 per cent of the war fund will be used for services to the armed forces.

Training Program Planned Here

A Scout Leaders' Training Course in the Southwest District, beginning Tuesday evening, Mar. 21 at 8 p. m. will be held at the John Burroughs School.

It will continue for six consecutive weeks and every effort will be made to make it worth the time of all interested in Scouting, according to officers.

Have Leads In West Variety Show

A capacity house watched the first showing of the fourth annual performance last evening at the West High School auditorium, which was under the direction of Miss Mary Richter, dramatics instructor.

The entire program is produced from talent in the music and dramatic departments of the school. Highlighting the program is 70-piece concert band and a popular dance arrangement group.

The concert band will play many novelties and favorites, and the reserve band of 41 pieces will supplement the music of the concert group.

—Courtesy Columbus Citizen.

The program will consist of five parts, with the concert band opening the program. Part two will be composed of short selections by the Reserve Band. "Star Struck," a one-act comedy, is the feature of Part Three. Frank Ongaro, accordianist, plays several selections for Part Four. Variety acts and music by the West High dance band complete the program which appears on page 3.

Dave Shiflet Writes From Aleutians

Dave Shiflet, former HILLTOP RECORD employee, now in his third year with the United States Army in the Aleutian Islands, send word this week of his activities near the Arctic Circle. Dave tells of his second Christmas there, and though he had a great time, he writes "you just can't beat being home on such holidays." His letter follows:

We had a very nice Christmas here with the Army coming through as usual with its splendid holiday dinner and the Red Cross providing small gifts for each of the men. Incidentally, this was my second Christmas day here in the Aleutians. To round out the day one of the USO troupes gave a performance, several of the major league baseball stars including Frankie Frisch, Dixie Walker, Hank Borowy, Stan Musial and Danny Litwhiler made a personal appearance and the company tossed a special party for the men. All in all the celebration was very well received. However, you just can't beat being home for those kind of holidays.

We all keep pretty busy up here in this part of the world,

"Smokes" Purchased By HBMA Drive Last October, Received

"Some of the cigarettes given us aboard ship were donated by the Hilltop Business Men's Association and it sure made me feel good to see something from home," writes First Lt. Benson Hugh Baker who is now stationed overseas, in England.

"I am going to write them a letter on behalf of the organization, thanking them for the smokes," he continues.

The association conducted a cigarette drive last October and contributions were received in the amount of $800. Although several letters have been received from the tobacco company which made up the cigarettes, this is the first instance of their receipt by a soldier.

Lt. Baker is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Barney Baker, 43 Tulane-rd. He is with the Field Artillery.

Regarding England, he writes, "England is a grand place. However they have their own peculiar customs, such as riding on the left side of the road. There are few automobiles in comparison to the number there are in the States. Bicycles are the main means of transportation, and both young and old, really get around."

Local Soldier Finds Hilltop Record In German Vacated Italian House

The following V-Mail letter was received this week from Pvt. Harold Conrad, son of Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Conrad, 124 S. Warren-av. He is stationed somewhere in Italy and the letter was dated Feb. 20.

"Thought I would drop you a line or two of a little incident that might be of interest to you.

"The other day while clearing out some Italian houses that had been occupied by German troops, I happened to find an old HILLTOP RECORD. I sure was surprised and happy to have found it, as it has been some time since I have seen one. How it got there, I sure would like to know, as none of our boys had ever been in this part of Italy before. But I guess our HILLTOP paper gets around. I am going to save it as it sure did bring back old memories of the Hilltop to me.

"I sure would love to be back there now, but I guess I will have to wait a while for that."

50 Out For Baseball Nine; Season Track Prospects Good

Taking advantage of mid-May weather in mid-March, 40 baseball candidates greeted West High's coach Dale Rose on Tuesday afternoon this week, and with rising temperatures Wednesday, another dozen showed up.

The large squad, full of vim and vinegar, had two good workouts before bad weather set in, but according to Rose, nothing has showed up to alleviate the headaches that come when he thinks of filling the positions of catcher, pitcher and a couple of garden posts.

Nothing, however, is being overlooked, but the squad will be cut to about 30 lads sometime next week, the Buckaroo mentor declared.

Working with a squad of about 50, track coach Rufe Glass was all smiles this week as he took his thin-clads out of doors for the first time this season.

Enthusiastic about the prospects for a good year on the cinder paths, Glass reported that only a single sure-point winner from last year's team would be missing when the first gun cracks this Spring. Captain Orus Steward, miler, will not be back. Weak only in the shot put and discuss, Glass has veterans back in every event, and four of five of the cross country team which won the city title last year. All this not to mention all of the West Junior High squad which took the city honors among the junior high schools last year.

The four lost by graduation are Bill Jones, Ernest Dahlen, Maurice Embleton and Sheward.

Returning lettermen are Don Jenks, Jack Bates, Bob Jones, (captain), Dick Carey and Jim Ailes. Another letterman not yet reported is Harold Buchanan.

Last fall's championship cross-country men returning will be Russell Seely, Byron Baker and Austin Hutt. Junior high champion's coming up include two cross-countrymen, Baker and Hutt, plus Frank Deyo, Bill Smith, Walter Dean and Charles Ewing.

Since Feb. 1, Glass has had the squad working out on an improvised track in the halls of the school. Wednesday, they hit the real cinders on Magly Field.

Anticipating a good compaign, 13 meets have been scheduled including all of the city schools as well as Delaware, Springfield and Newark. Additional competition will be afforded the Hilltoppers in relays at Ohio Wesleyan, Miami University, Newark, and the city and district meets.

The complete schedule follows:

Apr. 5, Arlington, home; Apr. 12, East, home. Apr. 14, Delaware, at Delaware. Apr. 19, Bexley and Linden-McKinley, home. Apr. 21, Springfield, at Springfield. Apr. 26, North and South at North. Apr. 29, Ohio Wesleyan relays at Delaware. May 3, Central at Central. May 6, Newark relays at Newark. May 10, 11, City track at Ohio State. May 13, Miami relays at Oxford. May 17, Newark at Newark. May 20, District meet at Delaware. May 27, State meet at Ohio State.

Nick Barack Speaks At HBMA Meet

The Hilltop Business Men's Association held its regular monthly meeting with a dinner at Schmelzer's Restaurant, 3178 W. Broad-st, Tuesday night. Guest speakers for the evening were A. D. Evans from the American Red Cross and Nick Barack, city recreation director, who reported there were three things essential in the recreation program: physical strength, mental strength and spiritual strength.

A new committee, named the recreation committee, was chosen by the president, Jos. M. Briggs. Those named to serve were Noble L. Allen, chairman; Curtis Wilcox, Gilbert Coffman, Herbert Davis and Paul Leighninger.

Due to the interest of the association in the recent parking ban on the Hilltop, the city will make a further survey of the congested areas before making final the ban on any designated street.

Booster prizes were won by Dr. R. J. Miller, Joe Goodwin, Mrs. B. H. McConnell, Jack Shank, Nick Barack, George Matson, John Kirkpatrick and Dr. C. H. Campbell.

Entertainment was furnished by Joan Lytle and Sandy Mahoney doing several tap-dance numbers; while Joan's brother, Jimmy, played several selections on his accordian.

Amrine, Fagan File For 11th Ward Post

Henry Fagan, Hilltop attorney, of 300 Algonquin-av, and Grover Amrine, 180 Binns-blvd, have filed petitions with the board of elections seeking the post of Eleventh Ward committeeman. Amrine, present committeeman, was appointed to the post after the death of former committeeman, Fred Sulzberger.

Fagan's entry into the race came as a mild surprise, and followed several meetings by local Democrats, who suggested former committeeman Sam Willis and Fagan for the post. Willis declined the nomination, it was reported, in favor of Fagan.

Has Draper's Support

Robert M. Draper, local attorney, and the only Democrat to come out of the recent elections with flying colors, nominated Fagan at the meeting, at which 55 local Democrats were in attendance.

Aside from stating that he was in full favor of Fagan's candidacy, Draper issued no further comment.

Collect Musical Instruments For Armed Forces

Collection of musical instruments for soldiers on the fighting fronts opened this week and will continue to Mar. 27. There are numerous cities joining in this campaign to collect saxophones, banjos, trumpets, and other small instruments that may be used by servicemen and women.

Persons having unused instruments are asked to take them to any grocery store, filling station or drug store selling Coca-Cola and trucks owned by the bottling firm will pick them up and ship them to the Army for distribution to the soldiers.

Any instruments except pianos, bull fiddles and phonographs, may be contributed.

Services Today For J. C. Nairn

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. today in the Spears Funeral Home for John C. Nairn, 54, who succumbed Tuesday in White Cross Hospital following a two weeks illness. He was a foreman for the Capital Die, Tool and Machine Co. and had lived in Columbus most of his life, coming here from New Lexington.

Mr. Nairn resided at 436 S. Wayne-av, and is survived by his wife, Mrs. Martha Nairn, four sons, Robert of Hilliard; John, James and Richard, all of the Army; two sisters, Misses Mary and Alice Nairn; two brothers, William and Frank; and two grandchildren.

Interment will be in Sunset Cemetery.

"Death Takes a Holiday" has been selected as the senior class play at West High School, it was announced this week.

Mother, Daughter, Injured

Mrs. Rose Tonti, 75, and her daughter, Mrs. Mary Frank, 43, both of 1935 Floral-av, each suffered fractures of both legs last night when they were struck by an automobile during the rain at Broad-st and Midland-av, police said.

They were walking across Broad-st on their way to church. The driver was Leslie Charles Graul, 41 N. Harris-av.

The women were taken to Mt. Carmel Hospital, where they were reported in fair condition.

Legion To Announce Memorial Plans

The memorial committee of Camp Chase Post announced today that full details regarding the Hilltop War Memorial will be announced next week.

After consulting with representative business and professional men of the community, the committee has been able to complete definite plans and ideas for the project which will benefit every service man and woman of the west side.

On Saturday evening, Apr. 1, the campaign will open with a parade through the business district, and plans for this include marching units from every organization on the Hilltop. Organizations wishing to cooperate in this community project are asked to contact Edgar G. Planck, chairman.

Activities Planned

Arthur J. Bellar, chairman, and Ray Roese, the "Uncle Ben" of WBNS, co-chairman, have plans in the making for a huge "old time" vaudeville and radio show to be staged in West High School auditorium Friday evening, Apr. 21.

Ten acts of vaudeville including Uncle Ben and his hired hands, magicians, musicians, dancers, jugglers, are scheduled for the show. Bellar states Gene Sheldon, Gracebelle Day and other entertainers originating from this community will be invited to participate in the war memorial activity.

Services are held each Wednesday at various churches through the Lenten season.

Don't Risk Roof Leaks

BAD weather quickly locates the weak spots in roofs. New leaks develop, and old ones get worse. Wise property owners refuse to take chances—they have risky roofs put in good condition or replaced before any damage occurs.

When new roofs are needed, we can supply the right type of Carey Shingles or Roll Roofings at the right price. We'll gladly furnish a free estimate on these time tested roofs.

There's a Shortage of Time

There has been an increase in the demand for medical service in the face of a decrease in the number of physicians and pharmacists. Therefore, there is a shortage of time that is felt by your doctor and by us. Please be patient if your doctor can't rush over the minute you call him—and please bear with us if you must wait a few minutes for his prescribed medicine. We're doing our best—but we cannot sacrifice accuracy to speed.

Care Needed To To Reduce Home Fires

National fire losses are increasing at an alarming rate, according to a report released by the National Board of Fire Underwriters.

Apparently, people are so busy with all their war activities that they have not taken time to consider whether they are keeping their home and property safe. Even in normal times people allowed papers, rags, discarded furniture and rubbish to accumulate in their attics and basements. Now, with everyone busier than ever before, conditions are apt to be even more hazardous.

In addition, the government has been requesting citizens to save waste paper for use in war industries. This too, adds to the fire danger when not stored carefully. Even under the best of conditions the paper should be moved to the central collecting agency as quickly as possible, where it can be baled and shipped promptly to avoid excessive accumulation.

Another fire hazard soon to confront householders is the usual spring painting and the accompaning danger of spontaneous combustion in paint rags. At the end of each days work paint rags should be placed in covered metal cans or burned. Otherwise, paint covered rags, or even clothing, if left in a pile, may heat up during the night and set the house on fire.

It is patriotic and necessary, to make electrical appliances and equipment last as long as possible and to keep them in a safe and efficient condition. Worn lamp and appliance cords should be replaced to avoid the danger of a fire being caused by a short circuit. Make sure too, that only 15 amp fuses are used in the branch lighting circuits.

Columbus has been fairly free of serious fires in recent months. The fires that are occuring are mostly in private homes and these fires can be greatly reduced if everyone takes the precaution of getting rid of conditions that cause home fires.

Goal 1200 Tons For Paper Salvage Mar. 26

Right in Der Feuhrer's face!

That, figuratively speaking, is where residents of this community will toss their waste paper collections on Sunday, Mar. 26, the V-Day in Franklin County's most intensive paper salvage campaign in history.

Goal for the one-day campaign is 1200 tons—an average of about 30 pounds of waste for every family in metropolitan Columbus. Every pound of this 1200 tons will go directly into military or essential civilian activities.

W. H. Walker, chairman of the Franklin County Salvage Committee's paper drive, declared today that paper is now number one on the critical material list in this area, being even scarcer than scrap steel.

About 7000 tons of paper come into the country each month, but only about 2000 tons are turned back as salvage. The remaining 5000 tons is burned or otherwise wasted, in spite of the nation's pressing need. The scrap paper which is being burned in local furnaces or is accumulating in attics might better be used to make bomb bands, wrappings for "k" rations or some of the other 700 uses in the direct war effort.

To aid in the one-day campaign, here's what to do:

1. Start at once to accumulate scrap paper. All kinds are acceptable, including newspapers, magazines, paper cartons and all other kinds of salvageable paper.
2. Dig around in the attic, closets, garage and other storage places and get that scrap paper out of hiding.
3. As the paper accumulates, tie it into bundles which can be easily handled.
4. Draw a circle around Mar. 26. That's V-Day in the paper drive. All paper will be collected on that single day.
5. On the night of Mar. 25 or early Mar. 26, place the paper you've accumulated, at the curb.

Highland Garden Club To Help Organize Gardeners

The Highland Garden Club will aid in the organization of two more similar organizations on the Hilltop, to aid those interested in "flowers, shrubs, trees, vegetable crops, and beautification of the community," it was announced this week.

The Highland Club, already with a full membership which cannot be enlarged because the meetings are held in private homes, has long been one of the outstanding organizations of its kind in the city. An attempt will be made to organize new clubs from residents of the area south of Sullivant-av and from residents of the area north of Sullivant-av.

Mrs. J. Earle Taylor, 171 S. Harris-av, is chairman of the committee and other members include Mrs. Arthur Buchanan and Mrs. W. H. Knight. Residents of the Hilltop interested in joining the new organizations, whether they plan victory gardens or flower gardens, are asked to get in touch with one of these women by telephone, at RA. 4382, RA. 1202 or RA. 4127.

Joanne Lauer Is First In Contest Staged By Legion

Joanne Lauer, 9B, has won first place among all the ninth grade contestants from West Jr. High School, and Holy Family High School, in an essay-writing contest sponsored by Camp Chase Post No. 98. The subject for all essays was "The Necessity for Closer Latin-American Relationship." Essays were limited to 400 to 600 words.

Joanne said, when interviewed, that she had never entered a contest before, and had spent only one evening in preparing for this one. "Just a government bulletin," answered Joanne when asked what reading had given her her ideas.

Joanne's essay was about 500 words in length. A medal, signifying her rank, will be presented her by members of Camp Chase Post No. 98 in the near future.

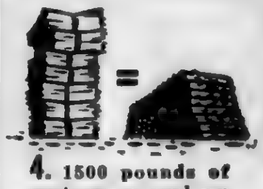
Why WASTE PAPER is No. 1 WAR MATERIAL SHORTAGE..



1. Lumberjacks go to war... cause pulpwood shortage.

2. Meanwhile Army and Navy use vast quantities of waste paper to make or wrap 700,000 war items.

3. We must collect 8,000,000 tons of waste paper a year to help replace pulpwood!

4. 1500 pounds of waste paper equal one cord of wood.

GIVE THEM NO CAUSE TO DOUBT IT

We have a mighty hard task to do
And nobody here will doubt it,
Many of us will never pull through
But there's nothing we can do about it.
Thus spake a young soldier to Ernie Pyle
Surrounded by the wounded and dead
And he went to sleep for a little while
On the ground in a cattle shed.

Raymond Clapper had a hard task to do
And no soldier will ever doubt it
The fates decreed he couldn't pull through
And there's nothing we can do about it.
In America too we've a hard task to do
And this we should do about it
Utilize all resources to help them through
And give them no cause to doubt it.

Combined forces of the RAF and AAF are pounding strategic war centers in Germany without letup in the heaviest air assaults in history. Bombing missions are expected to multiply, both in frequency and intensity, as the land-and-sea invasion nears. To send 1,000 four-engine bombers over Germany requires a minimum of 1,000,000 gallons of high octane gasoline and 60,000 gallons of oil. In England, photo shows long trains of American-made tank cars filled with American-made gasoline.

DAVE SHIFLET—

believe it or not. In addition to my duties as a platoon leader I have numerous other jobs in the company to take up my spare moments. For instance, I look after the company transportation, special services and athletics and also act as a gas officer. Too, I have been doing quite a bit of officiating in the basketball games which are held quite often. One of these days, when and if all of the censorship regulations are lifted, I intend to sit down and try to pound out a worthwhile story. Until that time I'm afraid I'll have to coast along.

You are probably as familiar with the Attu and Kiska campaigns as we are here. Needless to say, the men for the most part were relieved to find no Japs on the latter island. The terrain at this location is very similar to that of Attu and other conditions are very much alike. Our boys were ready to go but others were called and they did a very commendable job under the handicaps. If we had of gone I might not have been sitting here this evening dashing off these few paragraphs to you. However, there's enough time and work to be done to give us all a chance to display our wares. I fear that this war is still a long way from being won, even though we are the offensive team.
